Effort To Have Prohibition Bill in U. S. Amended So That Possession of Liquor in O ne's Home Would Be Regarded As an Offence.

Washington, July 21 .-- An effort to have a provision in the bill makng it unlawful for a person to possess liquors in his own dwelling, was expected to be the storm centre of debate today in the House when consideration of prohibition enforcement legislation was resumed. Members, who announced they would attempt to have the bill amended with this point in view, declared the measure, as framed, permitted nearding by wealthy persons, thousands of whom are said to have stored in their homes enough wines and whiskey to last them a lifetime. Other members were said to feel that the "drys" had gone about as far as it was wise to make the legislation too drastic, would only bring it into contempt, and thereby defeat the ends to which the prohibitionists were

Provincial Government Minister, Interviewed Today Concerning the Rumor, Declares It Is, Like the Famous Report of Mark Twain's Death, "Greatly Exaggerated."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Teronto, July 21 .- Rumors that the Provincial Government intends to precipitate a general election in the fall, at the same time that the prohibition referendum is taken, finds no confirmation at the Parliament Buildings. Premier Hearst is out of the city today. Hon. I. B. Lucas, when interviewed, denied all knowledge of any such intention on the part of the Government. An announcement of that nature, he said, "is like the famous report of Mark Twain's death, grossly exaggerated.'

The following is part of a dispatch that appears today in a local Conservative newspaper:

Toronto, July 19—The Government has decided to take the prohibition plebiscite and to hold the general election on one and the same day. The reason advanced for this is that it will save the people of the province a good deal of time and labor if they can dispose of the plebiscite and elect a Government with one visit to the polling booth.

There are other reasons said to have moved the Government to take this step. The effect will be to turn the attention of the electors almost wholly to the temperance issue. Opposition efforts to drag in federal quarrels will thereby be defeated. Attempts to make party capital from the inevitable difficulties attendant upon the prosecution-of the war and its aftermath will be rendered futile.

Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Points Out Shortage. With Prospects of Advanced Prices-Government Fuel Control in Canada and United States Has Ceased.

March 31 last. The coal supply of the nation, therefore, now depends on the individual efforts of the coal trade, and the co-operation it receives from the consumers in placing their orders for coal at once.

especially true in the maritime provinces. 10,000,000-Ton Shortage.

Ottawa, July 21.—Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, has issued the following on the coal situation:

With the signing of the peace treaty, the United States fuel administration has automatically ceased to exist, and the production and distribution of coal in that country is now governed solely by the law of supply and demand. All wartime regulations, restrictions and embargoes have been cancelled.

As has been previously intimated the Canadian fuel control was disbanded on March 31 last. Price To Advance.
With the strong demand for coal, and the lessened production there is little room to hope that the price of anthracite at the mines will fall for many months. In face, indications are that the price will continue to advance as the fall and winter approach. It is not safe to assume that next winter will be a mild one, nor is it possible to forecast what the labor situation at the mines will be; or what success the railroads will have contending against possible adverse climatic conditions this coming winter.
