

WILLIAMS' PIANOS
Are patronized by quality and are in the homes of Merchants, Mechanics Professionals and all classes of people.
WILLIAMS, 143 Yonge.

The Toronto World.

BOYS DON'T DROWN!!!
Come and see our Bathing Suits.
You can't swim when wearing one of them.
THE TORONTO RUBBER CO., LIMITED
28 King-street West, Manning Arcade.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR

TEN PAGES—MONDAY MORNING JUNE 21 1897—TEN PAGES

L ONE CENT

ALL TORONTO WAS OUT The Military Forces and National Societies on Parade

IN HONOR OF HER MAJESTY'S JUBILEE.

"God Save the Queen" Was Sung in All the Churches of the City.

Singing of the National Anthem by the Sons of England, Accompanied by the Band of the 48th Highlanders, in the Street in Front of St. James' Cathedral Was a Novel Feature—Queen's Own Rifles and ex-Members of the Crack Corps Make a Grand Turnout—Orangemen Also Celebrate the Day—Masons Attend Divine Service—The Largest Masonic Procession in Canada—Thousands of Sightseers on the Streets.

"God Save the Queen" was the watchword yesterday. The National Anthem was sung or played in all churches and schools and in thousands of homes. Processions were the order of the day. It was really on a small scale—a rehearsal for the big Jubilee parade of to-morrow.

The military forces were well represented by the Governor-General's Body Guard, whose helmets gleamed in the sun as they rode on their chargers from Wells' Hill camp to All Saints' Church; the Queen's Own Rifles and as many more ex-members, who had a local service to themselves in the morning at the Pavilion; and by the Army and Navy Veterans, who joined in the Englishmen's parade to St. James' Cathedral.

National societies stood well in the devoted patriotism. St. George's Society was better represented than on the patron saint's special; the Sons of England Benevolent Society never had a finer muster, and Irish Protestants and Scotch representatives gladly joined with the Englishmen.

The Eastern District Orangemen had a special celebration at Trinity Church, King-street.

The Freemasons had the largest procession ever known of the craft in Canada.

Never was such a day known for nationalistic patriotic addresses. In the churches since Toronto was a city. It was the anniversary day of Her Majesty's accession to the throne, and advantage was taken of this fact to hold commemorative services.

THE PROCESSIONS.

Never in Toronto's History Was There Such Enthusiastic Marching.

The jubilee celebration in Toronto commenced at the Queen's Own Rifles and the ex-members of the crack corps in a public church parade at 10 o'clock for a Jubilee church parade to the Horticultural Pavilion.

The parade was the first of its kind here, notwithstanding the threatening weather, over 500 citizens who had gathered in days gone by with the gallant Queen's Own Rifles and the crack corps.

The interval in the parade for the most part, of course, was a long one. It was a long time ago when the Queen's Own Rifles were first formed. They were of all sizes, all ages and all ranks. They were of all sizes, all ages and all ranks.

There was a good turnout in the Armoiries. The Queen's Own Rifles fell in at the south side of the shed and the ex-members of the crack corps were kept with the latter and watched their movements closely. The command of the various officers who had been for some time out of the city was given by the volunteer officers present and the manner in which the orders were executed showed very plainly that it was a long time ago when the Queen's Own Rifles were first formed.

Major Dixon soon got his battalion into shape and reported to Major Delamere that he was ready to move on. The Queen's Own Rifles were detailed for duty in advance of the ex-members' corps and with the band was John Davis, who was drum-major of the regiment in 1862, when a splendid silver-mounted drum was presented to the corps.

Major Dixon led the way to the Horticultural Pavilion, the route being along College and Carlton-streets to the gardens a multitude of people had assembled, and between 50 and 100 veterans who had not in the procession joined them for the service. The brass band was at the head and played a stirring patriotic march, which was a combination of "God Save the Queen" and "The Maple Leaf Forever."

The regiment led the way to the Horticultural Pavilion, the route being along College and Carlton-streets to the gardens a multitude of people had assembled, and between 50 and 100 veterans who had not in the procession joined them for the service. The brass band was at the head and played a stirring patriotic march, which was a combination of "God Save the Queen" and "The Maple Leaf Forever."

The service in the Pavilion was conducted by Rev. Canon A. C. Hill, M.A., of St. Thomas, who is an ex-member of K. Co. The band of the regiment was on the stage, which was dressed with blue and white. At the back there were four huge Canadian flags, covering the entire width of the stage at the right side were two beautiful altars.

RUNNING THE RAPIDS.

IT'S A PRETTY CUTE SCHEME

Government Seems to be Getting into a Tangle

IN THE RAILWAY PROPOSALS

Going to Tie Them Together and All Will Have to Sink or Swim.

The Member for Lambton Falls Up to Date on More Than One Stage a Day, and Propagation is Likely to Be Stayed Off. The C.P.R. Will Be Lobby for the Grand Trunk or Both the Crown's Nest and Drummond Streets Will Go to the Wall.

Ottawa, June 20.—(Special).—The political situation just now is decidedly interesting. There is something in the air, and there may be startling developments in the course of a day or two.

ONLY THE MAIL STEAMER LEFT.

Montreal, One, June 19.—The pilots strike in real earnest; not a vessel, save the Parisian, left port to-day. The Parisian, left in charge of an old employee of the company, is the only vessel that has left.

A Lady Missing.

Open all night. Bath and bed $1.

When you ask for Adams' Tuffi Fruit, see that you get it. Money dealers in Ottawa are a big profit, try to palm off fakes.

See our designs and prices before purchasing elsewhere. We are manufacturers. D. McIntosh & Sons, office and showroom, 224 York-st., opposite Hotel-Street. Work, Yonge-street, Dear Jark.

Open all night. Bath and bed $1.

See our designs and prices before purchasing elsewhere. We are manufacturers. D. McIntosh & Sons, office and showroom, 224 York-st., opposite Hotel-Street. Work, Yonge-street, Dear Jark.

EVE OF THE JUBILEE.

London Shows Itself to Be the Heart of the World

MORE STRIKINGLY THAN EVER BEFORE.

The City Was Crowded to the Uttermost by Strangers of All Nationalities.

Two Notes Are Dominant, One is the Desire of the World to Honor Queen Victoria, the Other the Proud Wish of Her Subjects to Demonstrate the Strength and Vastness of Her Empire—Notabilities Are Present from All the Nations Under Heaven—Military Representatives of All Shades of Color and With All Manner of Costumes—Touching Scenes at Windsor.

London, June 19.—Never in the history of England has London so strikingly shown itself the heart of the world as it does to-night—the eve of the Jubilee. At all times the busiest hire of the human race, to-night London is crowded to its uttermost by a stupendous gathering of strangers, representing nearly every race under the sun and nearly every country found upon the map. The common object of the crowd—participation in the greatest pageant yet witnessed in the history of the British Empire—gives tone and complexion to every minute of time, to every thought and action. There is nothing in men's minds at this hour, from the highest prince in the palace to the lowest sneak thief in the streets, but the Jubilee.

The Orient contributes beautifully. The Orient, loving a pageant as Oriental do, contributes beautifully to the brilliancy of the occasion in envoys whose every appearance is a delight to the thronging crowds. Turkey, flushed with the glory of Greek defeat, has entrusted Ottoman honors to the hands of Munir Pasha, Grand Master of Ceremonies. The Khedive's brother, Prince Mohammed Ali Khan, who is accompanied by Tigrane Pasha, Prince of the Nile, and the Crown Prince, Prince Arslanaga and large suite, the most conspicuous member of the Grand Duchy of Baden, are also in London as representatives.

The Two Predominant Notes.

It is impossible to pass any of the crowded thoroughfares without everywhere remarking the two predominant notes of the occasion, the world's desire to honor Queen Victoria and the proud wish of her subjects in doing so to impressively demonstrate the strength and vastness of her Empire. The streets, hotels and specially mansions of the West End are crowded with the great who have already come to honor the Queen, while barracks and bivouacs in and around the metropolis are thronged with soldiers in every uniform known to British arms, and the number of head-bounding Dyaks of the Borneo police, the mounted men of Australia, India and Africa, for soldiers from the West Indies to the remotest to the sturdiest representatives of military government under "Our Lady of the Garter" is so great that the streets are crowded with a vivid panorama of the march of the world's armies.

THE JUBILEE STAMPS.

There was a Great Rush at the Postoffice to Purchase Them Saturday.

THE UNCROWNED KINGS.

THE FOREIGN ENVOYS.

THE EMPEROR'S ENVOYS.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

THE KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.