

HERE IS A DRINK WORTH TALKING ABOUT

LIME FREEZE

A drink that is absolutely pure. Made with fresh limes, fresh mint and other pure fruit juices, blended with the right proportion of properly carbonated water, it makes a combination that is just right.

As healthful as it is refreshing. The juice of the lime is now recognized as being an important factor in warding off many ills of the summer season.

POISONING PETS?

A complaint was made to The Times today to the effect that some persons were spreading both dog and cat poison about Paddock street and the near vicinity. A valuable dog was lost last evening and it is supposed from a reliable source that the dog was deliberately poisoned. Reports of cats being poisoned in this neighborhood have also reached the Times. It is said that legal proceedings are under way.

THE RETURNED SOLDIERS.

Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers Association, has been invited by the returned soldiers of Moncton, Chatham and Campbellton, to attend meetings they are holding at those places with a view to the formation of a local branch of the association. Mr. Robinson has accepted the invitation, and will visit the towns named the first of the week, proceeding then to Ottawa with Hon. J. F. Tweeddale to interview the Military Hospital Commission regarding the settlement of soldiers on the land in New Brunswick.

SUNSHINE CIRCLE LIGHTENS LOT OF OUR WOUNDED

Mrs. Price, of West St. John, convener of the "Sunshine Circle" of Ludlow street Baptist church, received the following acknowledgment for a donation of money which the circle sent to Nursing Sister Margaret P. Dunham of the C.A.M.C. No. 2. Miss Dunham writes: "I was indeed pleased to get your letter written on behalf of the Sunshine Circle of Ludlow street Baptist church containing your cheer's gift of $4.00, $5.00, which comes to 110 frs. here in France, and will give lots of little extras to our boys, who are giving up so much for the great cause of right vs. might."

"If you could look in sometimes at the boys in the hospital during a few days of extra bought with your home money, such as ham and eggs, fish and potatoes, strawberries and cream, cold ham and pickles, extra smokes, fruit—enjoying the popular airs on a new Columbia gramophone I bought while on leave last month and brought back at hand luggage, so it wouldn't get broken—you would indeed feel your money is not wasted when it makes the boys so happy."

"You may all rest assured I shall spend your 110 francs to the best of my ability for our men and for them I thank you. I cannot tell you very much about our work here, as the censorship is strict. We are very large in number with three big general hospitals, three British, one Canadian and one American. It seems so old and yet so good to see at last the Stars and Stripes floating beside us in the war."

Our casualties are not very heavy just at present so we are not as busy as just now. The winter and spring were busy and hard, but now we are getting a bit of rest, but we never know when a rush will be upon us, so always ready. We have wonderfully clear, healthy air here on the high cliffs of Normandy overlooking the sea, which often makes me home sick for the dear old Bay of Fundy, but this is an ideal spot for a hospital. We have had a few St. John and New Brunswick boys here in the hospital and it is so good to do for our own, but sometimes we miss a few for the camp is so large. I always try and hunt out any boys from home.

"Will you please accept my thanks on behalf of the boys and convey the same to the members of the Sunshine Circle." It was so good of you to remember me and my patients here in the disposal of your Sunshine money, and I will do my part to spread your Sunshine here among the boys."

STOLE MILK, IS THE CHARGE

Pte. Fred Fitzpatrick was before the court this morning charged with thefts of cans of milk from the doorway of John P. Barrett, grocery dealer, at the corner of Duke and Carmarthen streets. Policeman Henrickson said that he was sent to watch the store following complaints. Yesterday morning he was there and saw the defendant take a can of milk from the doorway. He immediately gave chase. In the excitement the soldier dropped the can spilling all the milk. The accused, he said, ran down an alley and got away. He was arrested later by Policeman Hopkins. The cans of milk belong to the Maple Leaf Dairy.

The case at this stage was postponed until Monday. E. J. Henneberry and W. F. McMonagle appeared on behalf of the defendant.

Further hearing involving a man and a married woman charged with a serious offence was postponed until Monday.

IN TROUBLE OVER A CASE OF GIN

Found in Home of Robert Anderson, Acadia Street—Police Say They Saw Intoxicated Men in Vicinity

As a result of a raid on the premises at 42 Acadia street last Tuesday afternoon by Inspector Crawford and the city detectives, Robert Anderson was before Magistrate Ritchie this morning charged, under the liquor license act, with having liquor in his house unlawfully.

The case of John deKuper gin, which was confiscated by the police when they went to the house with a search warrant, was produced in court. It was shipped to Robert Anderson, 42 Acadia street, from Lawrence A. Wilson Co., Ltd., Montreal, and was marked for "persons and the liquor license act," was taken today and the case was postponed until Monday.

The Evidence

Detective George Briggs said that, because of information the department received, the premises of the defendant at the corner of Acadia and Chapel streets, were watched. Intoxicated men had been seen coming from the house. On Tuesday Detectives Duncan, Biddiscombe and himself, with Inspector Crawford, visited the house. The place being reached, the police made known that they had a search warrant for liquor. While the warrant was being read, Mrs. Anderson and a Mrs. Elliott left the room where the police were and closed the door leading from this room into the kitchen. She held the door fast and the witness and Detective Duncan had to force his way from the dining-room into the kitchen. The woman was warned to leave the door open. A case of gin, with eleven full bottles and one empty, was found, partly projecting from a couch in the dining-room. In a bedroom, four pint flasks were found in a corner. Behind the sideboard in the dining-room there were four empty square faces. Briggs said that he heard the defendant remark, while the police were searching, "this is the work of some of my good friends, but I never sold any liquor."

The search warrant used in the case was produced and identified by witness. To E. S. Ritchie, who appeared for the accused, the witness said that as far as he knew, the premises of the defendant constitute a private dwelling house. Other families lived in other parts of the house. It was no boarding or lodging house. He said the defendant was a Swede and he had known him for eight years. He was a painter by trade.

Detective Biddiscombe gave corroborative evidence, and added that there were three tenants in the house, and the defendant was one of them.

Detective Duncan told practically the same story. He said he read the warrant to the defendant in the house. He told of the defendant's wife leaving the room and closing the door leading to the kitchen.

The court asked the witness if he could open one of the bottles. Witness replied, "I used to, be able to, Your Honor."

The detective said there were no glasses in sight. He also stated that men were seen around the corner, near the house, acting as if under the influence of liquor. The locality has been under surveillance for a week or more, he said.

To Mr. Ritchie the detective said Inspector Crawford was not prosecuting.

Sergt. Sullivan said he reported the matter to the detective department. This was objected to and disallowed. Mr. Ritchie said his client was ready to swear that he never sold liquor there.

Detective Briggs called Policeman Tower, who said that he arrested a man for drunkenness in Acadia street this morning near the defendant's house. The man then arrested was still in jail.

The case was here postponed until twelve o'clock on Monday.

"LADIES" USED SOME PECULIAR LANGUAGE

Expressions Profane and Obscene Were Alleged—Matter Settled Out of Court

A very few minutes of the police court this morning was devoted to a settlement of a case which involved several members of the female sex. Within these few minutes the magistrate paid his respects to a certain class of women who were out "in the street scandalizing the city" and who "were parading from the head of King street along Waterloo."

"If women can go out in the public street and use both profane and obscene language it is coming to a pretty pass in St. John," was one of the remarks of the police magistrate.

The case seems to have arisen out of an entanglement between a number of young ladies in the vicinity of Brim street. During the course of a severe controversy, it is said, there were some choice expressions exchanged and, judging from the description given by a policeman who was an eye witness of the scene, it was a merry time while it lasted.

Two of the young ladies, it is understood, laid an information and the result was several of the offenders were summoned to court. The charge of using obscene and profane language in the public street was to have been read against the women, but, through the intercession and good counsels of friends, the affair was amicably settled in an ante-chamber of the court rooms. As the lawyers, who fought about the settlement, made this known to the court, the magistrate referring to a certain class of women said that "this is not a case of men but it is a case of women in the streets of St. John scandalizing them."

The magistrate, however, agreed to the settlement and that the case need not be aired in court. As the ladies involved were leaving one of them was heard to remark "some court."

Dear Mary:—

Do you know some people don't like company? I do. The real reason they don't is they are not fixed for it—I think it is a shame that women who enjoy having their friends come to see them can't ask them just because their houses are not properly furnished.

They ought to just go to their husbands and tell them plainly how they suffer because they haven't got the furniture and rugs they need. That's what I'd do if Frank were not so good to me always.
