Feathers, flowers, novel ornaments, and ribbons are used in many original ways to trim these first arrivals. Shapes show a preference for the turban in many variations many times fashioned of cellophane in combination with braid or straw; or of some smart silk fabric softly draped.

CHLOROFORM STORY OF GIRL WAS A FAKE

Montreal, March 1.—The reported chloroforming and attempted abduction of Miss Diana Lefebvre by white slavers in the streets here on Sunday night now turns out to have been a hoax on the young woman's part to make her lover jealous. EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Brush Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound through your hair, taking one strand at a time. When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's one so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation.

By the addition of other ingredients called "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Use three in the evening or brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray has disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a change in public opinion, we should get busy at once with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

On the Wrong Side. (New York Times). Field Marshal von Hindenburg has filed the large number of his countrymen who believe what they wish to believe—and, in point of fact, "know" it. "To my own knowledge," he says, "there has been a change in public opinion in America. I have seen letters by American soldiers who wrote their folks at home that they were glad to see that there are Americans who have seen such letters; but they differ from the Masarinist in having seen them with the twinkling eyes of the men who write them.

The once famous jest comes, in fact, like a breath from a happier world. Our men had been thrown into a desperate conflict, waged on the desolate fields of France. They had died in twos and threes the numbers of the hostile dead, and those who survived had lived on scant rations or none, had slept beneath the stars. When victory came and they marched into the enemy's land they found order and quiet and plenty—roofs intact, shops in which luxuries were sold and German maidens who, at the bidding of state policy, fed them with chicken and fried potatoes.

Of the same racial stock was the levity of the "Contemptibles" in 1914. When the hordes of the Hun marched through Belgium, singing hymns as they violated its art treasures and its population, the little British army hurled itself against the irresistible tide singing a music hall song. The Germans were morally shocked—in all probability have not yet recovered a sober respect for that enemy. Such conduct could only result from frivolity, decadence.

That may be so, or it may not. The point is that to the true German mind a certain order of things is forever unchangeable. And a difference in the sense of humor is as great a strain upon international understanding as George Eliot found it in domestic relations. With von Hindenburg, evidently, we must put that astounding German ambassador to Italy who has created a sensation in Rome by saying that he hopes soon to be in a position to announce officially the conclusion of a treaty of alliance between Germany and the United States.

War and Weather. (Woodstock Sentinel-Review). Whether or not the war had anything to do with it has not been established; but people all over the world seem to be talking about the curious weather conditions this winter. A despatch from Geneva says that not in eighty-seven years has there been such a warm winter in the Alps. The mountain-tops are bare and the winter sports are a failure.

How the plainest woman can be pretty

A winning personality and a perfect complexion constitute a combination of charm which more prettiness of features cannot rival. The girl with the radiant, clear complexion is sure of admiration no matter what her type. The woman with a smooth, flawless skin is always considered young.

Such a complexion isn't a gift of Nature, but an attraction every woman can achieve. The secret was discovered in the days of ancient Egypt, was practiced by Cleopatra.

Begin this treatment today. Wash your face gently with the mild, creamy lather of Palmolive, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly and will carry away all the dangerous accumulations which so often cause skin infection.

Then apply a touch of cold cream, smoothing it into the skin. You will be delighted at the way your complexion looks and feels, at its smoothness, fine texture and fresh color. This special face washing regime is thorough without irritation.

Remember blackheads come from pores filling up with dirt—that pimples follow when this dirt carries infection. Daily cleansing is your protection against skin troubles. Clean and rouge are harmless when applied to a clear skin.

Palmolive for 10c. Volume and efficiency permit us to sell Palmolive for 10c. Try Cleopatra's way to complexion beauty. She used cosmetics of every kind to enhance her charm, but cleansing with Palm and Olive oils came first. The same rule applied today, will keep your complexion fresh, youthful and free from blemishes. Use the same Palm and Olive oils, mild and soothing. They are scientifically combined for the use of modern women in Palmolive—the beautifying cleanser.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, March 1.—(10:30)—The one conspicuous feature at the heavy opening of today's stock exchange was Consolidated Gas, which rose 2 3/8 points as a result of a court decision allowing the company a higher rate. Atlantic Gulf and Mexico Petroleum also rose moderately, but the general list was distinctly reactionary, foreign advances giving momentum to the decline.

Steel, equipments, motors, oils, chemicals and coppers also eased. Foreign exchange was dull but London rates were slightly over yesterday's final quotations. Noon Report. Shorts sold freely during the morning when cable indicated that Germany's proposals were disappointing. Oils, shipplings, steels and the food and chemical stocks were weakest. General Asphalt fell 1/2, and other oils 1 to 1 1/2. Atlantic Gulf reached 21 1/4 to a new low, and Mercantile Marine preferred and United Fruit lost 1 1/4. Vanadium Steel fell 2 1/2 and Crucible 1. Fairly heavy selling of rails forced Northern Pacific and Norfolk and Western down two points, St. Paul losing 1 1/2 and Lehigh Valley 1. Other reactionary issues included General Electric, Loose Wiles, May Department Stores and International Paper. American Woolens strengthened on declarations of the regular dividend. Call money opened at the usual rate of seven per cent.

GERMANY OFFERS SEVEN BILLIONS; PROMPT REJECTION

(Continued From Page 1) In foreign markets... prices that could be maintained by home industries. The Morning Post declared today: "We ought to sit on Germany's head until France is again a first class European power." The newspaper foreshadowed the plan for a joint invasion of Germany which Marshal Foch and Lloyd George are supposed to have discussed over the week-end at Chequers Court. It was declared the plan is to be followed, should the seizure of the Ruhr mining district in western Germany.

Marshal Foch presided at a meeting of military experts at French headquarters yesterday, at which there was a discussion of plans to be followed, should the Germans be recalcitrant. War Minister Barthou and Finance Minister Doumer, of the French cabinet, have arrived here for the conference. The people of London displayed great curiosity in the German delegation, many spectators gathering early this morning in the neighborhood of Lancaster House, where a special force of police was on duty. In order that they might avoid passing through the crowded Strand, the Germans left their hotel by a rear exit, and hurried off in motors. London, March 1.—The German financial proposals, it was learned, were made subject of two conditions: 1.—That the plebiscite in Upper Silesia should result in favor of Germany. 2.—That Germany should have restored to her free commercial privileges throughout the world.

REV. J. F. MCKAY CHOSEN MODERATOR

(Continued From Page 1) He was supported by A. F. Bentley of St. Martins, who said that the people in the country districts looked forward eagerly to the coming of the big men of the church to the villages.
