

ARMY ARTILLERYMEN AT PRACTICE

Photo by American Press Association. For years the German Kaiser has been getting the German army up to the highest point of efficiency. The troops have been constantly drilling and maneuvering. Here are shown artillerymen at target practice. The man elevated is keeping score.

THE WAR

(Continued from page 1.)

ripped Valenciennes, but the British are reported to have driven back the enemy near Mons.

"There is nothing to indicate that the allies line from Mons to Conde has been seriously turned."

Germany Demanded Money

London, Aug. 28.—Telegraphing from Ostend, the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says:

"The Germans on entering Tournai, Belgium, took the burgomaster and threatened to kill him and the other town officials if $400,000 demanded from the town, was not forthcoming in two hours. The inhabitants were able to save the life of the burgomaster."

"I hear in reliable quarters that several thousand German troops stationed in villages near Courtrai, have been recalled by Charleroi by aeroplane messages. It seems that the Germans are hard pressed there."

"The Ostend newspapers state that in a battle between 25,000 French troops and 10,000 German troops, four miles from Tournai, the Germans lost 800 men."

The Conditions at Lille

London, Aug. 28.—The correspondent of the Daily News telegraphing from Tournai says:

"I visited Lille today, Wednesday. I expected to find it occupied by Germans as it was an open town and abandoned by the mayor and local guards two days ago. Not so, however, I found the mayor and local guards had returned and that the authorities were awaiting the arrival of the allied troops, whom they expected shortly."

What the meaning of this is, is hard to say, for here, unless it indicates that the allied army has again moved forward victoriously. But this belief is difficult in view of the reports of hard fighting at Pont A Marve, Maryheimes and Cysing, which would seem to indicate that the Germans have advanced. The town of Tournai is quiet and peaceful, although Sunday it was very near the centre of a storm."

Losses on Both Sides Heavy

London, Aug. 28.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that the British troops in Wednesday's fighting, were exposed to the attack of five German army corps. The losses on both sides, he said, were great.

"We have heard from Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary force, that in the fighting which took place between his army and the enemy, on Wednesday, August 26, and which appears from the French official reports to have been in the neighborhood of Cambrai and Lectan, our troops were exposed to the attack of five German army corps; two divisions of cavalry and a reserve corps

LOCAL NEWS

PURE GOLD Vanilla improves Ice Cream.

The City Cornet Band will meet at Reed's Point, 6:18 this evening.

No. 1 CO. ARTILLERY. Members of No. 1 Company will turn in their rifles and uniforms and receive drill pay at the Army on Monday evening at 7 p. m.

Two great events in St. John, Monday, schools open, also Duval's school supplies.

FOR FOREIGN SERVICE. Mrs. Warren C. Winslow has received word from her son Frank Winslow, of Vancouver, that he has enlisted with the Irish Fusiliers of Vancouver for foreign service.

"American Lady" corrects, correct the irregularities of the form, supplementing graceful lines and perfect ease. They are modeled in all types of figures, slender, medium and stout. The success of "American Lady" corsets is phenomenal. F. Daniel & Co., agents for St. John, N. B.

TO N. B. FOR HORSES. Dr. G. C. McCoy, the Federal government veterinary agent, has been advised by General Bertram, of the Dominion Mount officer will shortly visit Fredericton to purchase mounts for the British cavalry.

MARINE NOTE. The schooner H. Cousins arrived at New York yesterday from St. John.

VOLUNTEERS FOR DUTY. William W. Carmichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Carmichael, of Clifton, Kings county, has offered his services as a member of the Army Medical Corps.

HORSE FOUND. County Policeman H. Saunders this morning found a bay horse wandering about the Marsh Road. He put the animal under safe-keeping in the stable of Frank Rafferty.

TWO WEDDINGS. Two weddings were solemnized at the Presbyterian Manse, Fredericton, on Wednesday afternoon. The bridegroom, Frederick C. Melton, of Kingsclear, was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Collier, of Fredericton, and Bertram J. McLean to Miss Leah S. Spencer, of Parker's Ridge.

GIVEN WRIST WATCH. A presentation of a wrist watch was made this afternoon to Glen "Bunny" Cobham by his fellow workers in the machine shop of the Maritime Dredging Company, West John, Mr. Cobham will leave this evening with the artillery for Valcartier. The presentation was made by Edward McCarrie.

BIG GAME PLentiful. Reports that big game is going to be plentiful this fall are being received from all parts of the province. A local sportsman who was hunting recently near Plaster Rock, said this morning that while fishing in one of the streams near that town four large moose came to the stream to drink. Although the fishermen were making considerable noise, the big animals did not seem to be alarmed in the least.

TWO SONS AWAY TO WAR. W. T. H. Fenety, of Fredericton, has two sons who are going to the front with the first Canadian contingent. Jack Fenety is at Valcartier with the 71st Regt., and Mr. Fenety has received a letter stating that the other son, an operator in the Canadian Northern Railway's office at Winnipeg, has enlisted for active service with one of the western regiments.

$8,697 FOR CITY LABORERS. Wages for the last fortnight received by the city laborers today were charged to the various departments as follows: Ferry $236.15 Water and maintenance 2,938.23 Police 4,748.41 Harbor 774.95 Total $8,697.04

ST. JOHN MAN HURT. Friends of Percy Collins, formerly of West St. John, will regret to learn that he sustained severe injuries a couple of days ago while working on one of the boats of the Great Lake Dredging Company near Buffalo, N. Y. He had one leg broken and a knee cap also, besides sustaining other injuries which will necessitate an operation. The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collins, of 16 Prince street, West Side, and they received word of the accident yesterday.

MINISTER COMPLIMENTS FREDERICTON WOMAN. (Fredericton Gleaner.)

The military authorities are enforcing to the letter the regulation requiring all married men, whether officers or in the ranks to file written consent of their wives before they are allowed to leave Canada for overseas service.

ENGLISH CHANNEL SAFE. Lines Will Again Use Port of Southampton

New York, Aug. 28.—Southampton instead of Liverpool will again become the home port of the White Star Line Olympic and the American line steamers, beginning with the sailing of the Olympic and the St. Paul from New York on September 2, it is announced today. From this announcement, it is assumed that the English Channel is considered clear of warships hostile to England.

FREDERICTON MEN GOING TO VALCARTIER

Twenty-Five to Leave This Evening—Son of Boer War Victim Among Them

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 28.—A detachment of twenty-five men, enlisted here for foreign service, will leave this evening for Valcartier.

Arrangements are being made to give them a hearty send off. The last man to enlist was Arthur Shaler who arrived last night from Cabano, Que., having made the entire journey by canoe. He was a fortnight making the trip. Shaler's father was killed in the Boer war, and he held the rank of captain. Shaler himself has served two years in the British territorial regiment. He has been appointed acting color sergeant.

Frank Robinson who escaped from the county jail Wednesday night has not yet been recaptured. At an early hour Thursday night, a man answering his description was seen in an unsuccessful attempt to enter the house of Captain Rush at St. Marys.

The 25 men left last evening for Grimby, Ont., to attend the Dominion Fruit Growers' convention. Provincial horticultural lecturer, W. B. Gilman and H. H. Smith will also attend.

Ottie Cruickshank has resigned his position as acting sergeant of the militia and will leave this evening for Valcartier to join the signalling corps.

YOUTHFUL SOLDIER SHOT WHILE ON DUTY. Montreal Lad Met Death in Mysterious Manner—His Mother's Statement

Montreal, Aug. 28.—Gordon Betts, a fifteen-year-old boy, was shot while on duty in the 5th Royal Highlanders Guard at Soulanges Canal, was shot dead last night while on duty at the lock.

It is believed the accidental discharge of the rifle of another sentry at the lock caused young Betts' death. The bullet struck him in the head. He was the first native-born Canadian soldier to fall.

The body was taken to his relief man. The coroner was immediately notified, and a preliminary investigation at the morgue this morning was adjourned until tomorrow. Gordon Betts lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Betts at 861 Colonial Avenue.

The lad's father, Thomas Betts, was for twenty years a member of the 5th Royal Highlanders. The boy's mother said today:

"Gordon was so anxious to join that he was only 15 last April, in December I decided to let him go into his father's regiment."

"He was very fond of the militia and he is all in the thick of it as the exact time or circumstances of the shooting."

THE KING'S PLANS. London, Aug. 28.—The presence of Sir Derek Keppel, the King's equerry at the Aldershot royal pavilion for the last two days, and the extensive preparations with the building itself, herald the advent of the king, who, it is believed, will arrive tomorrow. His Majesty will then be in the centre of the troops of the new regular force, and it is expected that he will remain in residence until the situation on the continent has taken definite aspect.

GIVING IT UP TO NAVY. Halifax, N. S., Aug. 28.—The marine and fisheries department began today to remove their quarters to the building of the Dartmouth side. It is understood that the British navy requires all of the dockyard for their own purposes. It is believed that from now on Halifax will be made the principal naval base of the British Atlantic squadron.

OUTING AT LORNEVILLE. Members of the Lorne Life Insurance Company's staff in the city with their families are enjoying their annual outing at Lorneville. They went there yesterday and, as has been the custom for some time, will remain two or three days as possible in that quiet spot.

A Toledo woman has obtained an injunction restraining a man from making love to her.

FREDERICTON MEN GOING TO VALCARTIER

Twenty-Five to Leave This Evening—Son of Boer War Victim Among Them

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 28.—A detachment of twenty-five men, enlisted here for foreign service, will leave this evening for Valcartier.

Arrangements are being made to give them a hearty send off. The last man to enlist was Arthur Shaler who arrived last night from Cabano, Que., having made the entire journey by canoe. He was a fortnight making the trip. Shaler's father was killed in the Boer war, and he held the rank of captain. Shaler himself has served two years in the British territorial regiment. He has been appointed acting color sergeant.

Frank Robinson who escaped from the county jail Wednesday night has not yet been recaptured. At an early hour Thursday night, a man answering his description was seen in an unsuccessful attempt to enter the house of Captain Rush at St. Marys.

The 25 men left last evening for Grimby, Ont., to attend the Dominion Fruit Growers' convention. Provincial horticultural lecturer, W. B. Gilman and H. H. Smith will also attend.

Ottie Cruickshank has resigned his position as acting sergeant of the militia and will leave this evening for Valcartier to join the signalling corps.

YOUTHFUL SOLDIER SHOT WHILE ON DUTY. Montreal Lad Met Death in Mysterious Manner—His Mother's Statement

Montreal, Aug. 28.—Gordon Betts, a fifteen-year-old boy, was shot while on duty in the 5th Royal Highlanders Guard at Soulanges Canal, was shot dead last night while on duty at the lock.

It is believed the accidental discharge of the rifle of another sentry at the lock caused young Betts' death. The bullet struck him in the head. He was the first native-born Canadian soldier to fall.

The body was taken to his relief man. The coroner was immediately notified, and a preliminary investigation at the morgue this morning was adjourned until tomorrow. Gordon Betts lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Betts at 861 Colonial Avenue.

The lad's father, Thomas Betts, was for twenty years a member of the 5th Royal Highlanders. The boy's mother said today:

"Gordon was so anxious to join that he was only 15 last April, in December I decided to let him go into his father's regiment."

"He was very fond of the militia and he is all in the thick of it as the exact time or circumstances of the shooting."

THE KING'S PLANS. London, Aug. 28.—The presence of Sir Derek Keppel, the King's equerry at the Aldershot royal pavilion for the last two days, and the extensive preparations with the building itself, herald the advent of the king, who, it is believed, will arrive tomorrow. His Majesty will then be in the centre of the troops of the new regular force, and it is expected that he will remain in residence until the situation on the continent has taken definite aspect.

GIVING IT UP TO NAVY. Halifax, N. S., Aug. 28.—The marine and fisheries department began today to remove their quarters to the building of the Dartmouth side. It is understood that the British navy requires all of the dockyard for their own purposes. It is believed that from now on Halifax will be made the principal naval base of the British Atlantic squadron.

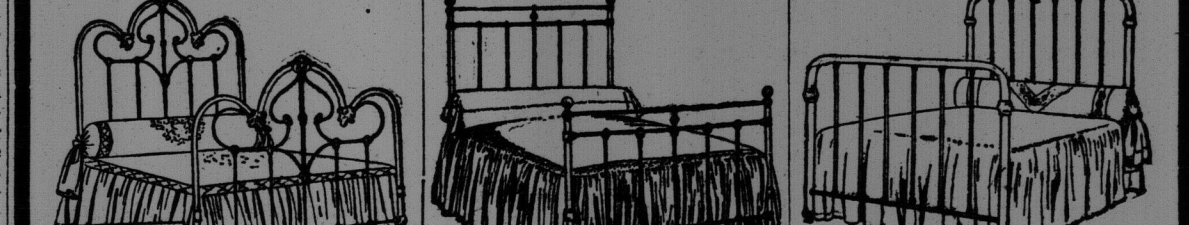

OUTING AT LORNEVILLE. Members of the Lorne Life Insurance Company's staff in the city with their families are enjoying their annual outing at Lorneville. They went there yesterday and, as has been the custom for some time, will remain two or three days as possible in that quiet spot.

A Toledo woman has obtained an injunction restraining a man from making love to her.

BED SALE!

During Exhibition Week you will, no doubt, entertain out-of-town guests, and perhaps you have insufficient sleeping accommodation. At this opportune time we are having a SPECIAL SALE on our entire stock of Beds and Bedding, therefore enabling us to supply your needs at a

SAVING OF 20 PER CENT. These Are Just a Few of Our White Enamel Bed Bargains:

Special, $6.35 Special, $4.25 Special, $13.65

Forty different designs of both White Enamel and Brass Beds to choose from; and don't forget We Store and Insure Free of Charge any purchase you make during this sale.

J. MARCUS, 30 Dock St.

TIMELY SUGGESTION BY LANCASTER MAN

Would Have Arrangements Made at Once For Street Railway Extension Below Fairville

Fairville people naturally regard with satisfaction the work which has been accomplished on the new bridge, in having the western part finished in such short order, for the final completion of that steel roadway means as much to Lancaster as to any section which will be served.

Now with more for Germany's defeat than Professor M. M. Sterne, who came to Amherst from Alsace-Lorraine many years ago, after serving in the Franco-Prussian war, which took him to the assault upon the gates of Paris, where he was wounded by a French bullet.

"I am a German myself," said the professor yesterday, "and yet it is with every feeling for the father-land that I hope the Kaiser's army will stop the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery. I would not stand for conscription, that's why I left Germany. I refused to stay where I would be dragged into the army. I was studying mathematics at that time, and I was against the Kaiser. I hope the Germans will get the stuffing knickered out of them because then they will get a republic and there will be an end to this cursed militarism."

It is not the same Germany I left thirty-nine years ago. They have grown greatly, but the second largest capitalist country in the world. But they still have conscription. And conscription means slavery