

CANADA'S NATIONAL PLAYGROUND

Canadians are fortunate in their National Parks, in that they have within their borders Alpine scenery which is not equaled anywhere on the continent, and more and more they are realizing that holidays in Canada hold for the lover of outdoors all the thrills that could be found anywhere in the world. Jasper National Park contains many high peaks, eternally snow-capped, and on the sides of the mountains are glaciers which have stood the test of ages. Millions of tons of ice, stretching, in some instances, almost as far as the eye can see, lure the adventurous climber to new attempts, while in the calm, peaceful valleys, wild game of all kinds live at peace with mankind and the world. Additional bungalows for the accommodation of guests are to be erected at Jasper Park Lodge, the log-cabin hotel of the Canadian National Railways at Jasper National Park, in time for the opening of the 1924 season. It is announced by officials of the Hotel Department, Canadian National Railways. During last season the popularity of Jasper National Park was so great that the capacity of Jasper Park Lodge was taxed, and the additional bungalows being provided this year will take care of many more guests. Four 4-room bungalows, each room with bath, and two 12-room bungalows, each room also having private bath, are being erected. In addition, a double-deck bathhouse, with the upper floor for conventions, etc., is being constructed, and an octagonal curio building, it being built near the main Lodge. Four new buildings are being erected to serve as employees' quarters, the kitchens are being extended, and the main lounge is being enlarged to provide for a ladies' reception room and for a men's billiard and card room. The lodge is one of the finest summer resorts on the Continent.

100-YEAR-OLD DEED IS GIVEN MUSEUM

Wood Print Block Gift of Only Man in N. B. Able to do Work

The original deed granting a lot of land, No. 18, in the parish of St. Martin to Thomas Donahoe has just been presented to the Natural History Society by Hon. R. J. Ritchie, and another gift, a wood print block, drawn and engraved by C. H. Flewelling, has been presented to its maker. These are welcome additions to the museum collections.

The deed is on heavy parchment, yellowed with age, and has the massive leather seal of the province of New Brunswick with the royal arms on one side and on the other side the prehistoric seal of a wood print block in a stream with densely wooded shores. The seal measures four inches in diameter, and is attached by a leather string. The date on the deed is Aug. 19, 1823, and the signatures include those of Ward Chipman, present in council; George Shore, auditor, and William F. Odell, secretary.

The wood print block has fine engraving and shows a pretty scene set in a floral design border. The plate was made by Mr. Flewelling for the title page of a book recently published by Miss Margaret P. Anderson, of St. John. Accompanying the block are two prints showing two stages of the process of wood block color printing. The prints have been placed back to back and are framed. As far as is known there is no one in the province today besides Mr. Flewelling who is able to do this wood print work and the samples which he has presented are very fine pieces of art work. The number of impressions which can be made from one wood print block is from 3,000 to 4,000. This particular block has been used to strike off 3,000 impressions.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely free of alkali. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulford's will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulford's coconut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you the genuine. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

SALVAGE CORPS ENTERTAINS.
A pleasant evening was enjoyed at the rooms of No. 2 salvage corps and the brigade last evening as the closing of the corps' card tournament. After the brief opening address of W. L. Brown, captain, the following programme was given: Solo, Mr. McLean; selections by the minstrels, Messrs. Bawn, Blandin, Oliver, O'Hara, Carr and Bevin; solo, D. Oliver; selections by the minstrels; solo, W. Kirk; quartet, Messrs. Blandin, Bawn, Bevin and Oliver; instrumental selections, Messrs. O'Hara and Carr. The prizes were presented to the winners in the card tournament. There was a large gathering of the members and their friends.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.
A verdict for the plaintiff for some $665 was brought in by the jury in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon in the case of Nova Sales, Ltd., vs. H. H. McLellan. The action was tried before Mr. Justice LeBlond, and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K.C., and K. J. MacLennan, the defendant. The case for the defence was closed before the noon recess, counsel and judge addressing the jury at 4.40, and their verdict was brought in after an hour and a half of deliberation.

The 1923 pineapple pack of the Hawaiian Islands is estimated at 5,800,000 cases.

TELL OF GROWTH OF BAPTIST MISSIONS

Several Speakers Deliver Addresses at Jubilee Observance

Three addresses telling of the growth of Baptist missions in India and of Baptist women's missionary activities in the Maritime Provinces were given at the meeting in Germain street Baptist church last night at the opening of the golden jubilee celebration of Canadian Baptist missions in India. A large gathering was present.

Rev. Dr. H. Y. Corey, of Wolfville, returned missionary on furlough, was chairman and the speakers were Dr. D. L. Joshee, Rev. W. S. Tedford and Mrs. J. D. Wilson. Others assisting in the service were Rev. Dr. S. S. Poole and Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, spoke of the

Dr. Joshee, a Christian convert who had become a skilled physician, spoke of the extent and variety of his native land, the benefits British Government conferred and the Gospel had brought. In referring to the Ghandi movement he described Ghandi as a godly, unselfish, pious man, whose followers had misunderstood his message. On behalf of the people of India he expressed heartfelt gratitude for the Baptist missionaries.

Mrs. J. D. Wilson spoke of women's cause for gratitude to Christ as their emancipator and told of the growth of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union in the Maritime Provinces. There were now almost 400 women's missionary societies, with 9,000 members; 230 mission bands and 54 World Wide Guilds, had contributed $14,600 for missions in Western Canada, besides carrying on work in India, Bolivia, Burma and Grand Ligne missions. Last year $45,000 had been raised and this year there would be $80,000. She appealed for a growth in spiritual life of the women and the stressing of missionary study for the young as well as enthusiasm for the missionary cause on the part of the men.

Rev. W. S. Tedford, missionary, described the arrival in India on March 15, 1874, of Mr. and Mrs. John McLaurin, pioneer Baptist missionaries. As the outcome of their labors, he said, there were today in Telaga 100 missionaries, 1,000 native workers, 1,100 schools with 30,000 boys and girls enrolled, two high schools with 1,200 students, an industrial school, a missionary weekly paper, three training schools, a theological seminary, two super hospitals with 200 inmates, eight hospitals, 11 dispensaries, eight doctors, seven assistant doctors and a staff of nurses.

Mr. Tedford said that while the British rule had brought great advancement to the people of India, it was during the last year in a pleasant and successful manner. Twenty-eight students were registered, two of whom were graduates. Four students completed their course this year, to whom certificates were presented by Dr. Trueman, who briefly addressed the convocation. They are as follows: William Ray Ashford, B. A., Newcastle, N. B.; Robert Henry Baxter, B. A., Westfield, N. B.; Mason Sheffield Linton, B. A., St. John; Jesse Lacey Reynolds, B. A., Lower Small Point, N.B.

The pastor list was read by Professor Desbarres.

TO SEND CIGARETTES TO MEN IN HOSPITAL.
To make Easter time more joyful for the sick in hospital both the senior Red Cross of New Brunswick and the Junior Red Cross are sending special gifts. The senior branches in the province were asked to have their members each select from a smoking man of their acquaintance one package of cigarettes to be the gifts of the well men of the province to the soldiers in hospital. One hundred and fifty packages of cigarettes had arrived at the depot yesterday from Woodstock and Chatham branches, enough to give a package to every soldier patient in the three hospitals, River Glade, Lancaster and East St. John. Accompanying the Chatham gift of cigarettes were 27 pairs of writers for the use of tubercular soldier patients. While the seniors are caring for the soldiers the juniors are providing toys for the children in hospital. Yesterday a goodly supply of toys, the work of the children, was sent off from the depot to each hospital in the province.

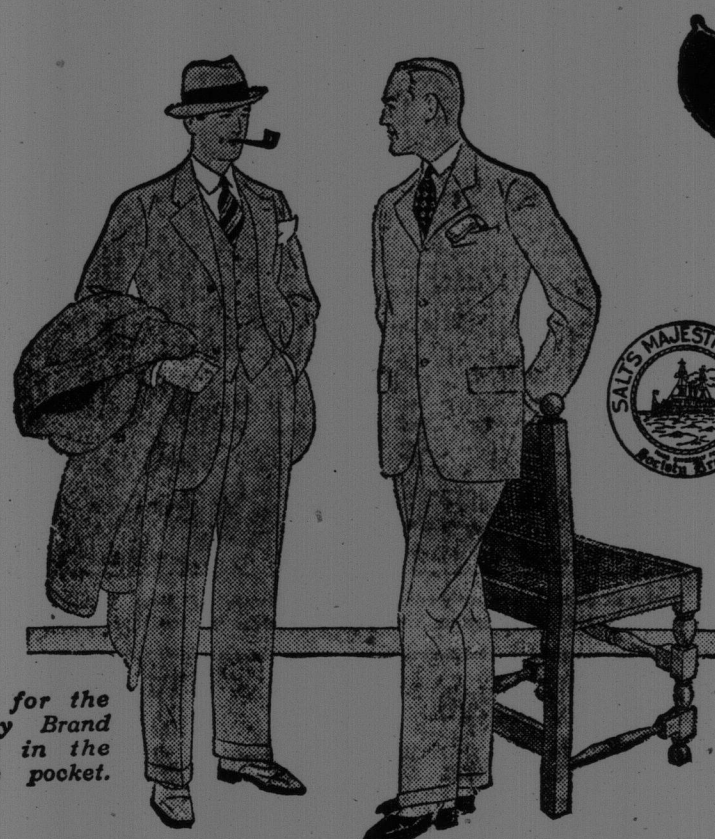

JUDGE DECLARES BENCH INSULTED.
Montreal, April 16.—"An insult to the judge who pronounced the sentence and to the entire bench, and a serious blow to the good administration of justice," was the opinion given here tonight by Judge Amedee Monet, when informed that, according to a despatch from Ottawa, Hon. E. J. Murray, Solicitor-General, amended the sentence of 25 years and 20 lashes by excluding the lashes, which the judge imposed Tuesday on Raoul Beauchamp, convicted of holding up and robbing the Cote Des Neiges branch of the Molsons Bank.

GIVEN NOVELTY SHOWER.
About 50 friends of Miss Vera Gardiner gathered last night at the home of Mrs. R. A. Brown, 229 City road, and tendered Miss Gardiner a novelty shower in anticipation of a coming happy event. She received numerous handsome gifts and many expressions of good wishes.

WAS SPECTATOR OF CANNIBAL FEAST

Englishman Murmurs Tale of Rescuer as Death Feast Claims Him.

London, April 16.—A horde of naked New Guinea savages, their glistening bodies swaying in the rhythmic convulsions of the cannibal dance, and a subsequent feast on the flesh of three natives roasted over a roaring bonfire, provided nightmare scenes of the last hours of George Stevens Penrose, a Cornish prospector, a scout who led the Colonial troops into German New Guinea. Penrose lay dying from wounds received at the hands of his servants' murderers.

The story of his terrible experiences, just received by his father, J. H. Penrose of Liskard, reads like a chapter of the vivid realism of Louis Beach, chronicler of the early days of the South Seas.

George Penrose, adventurer, prospector, explorer, since the age of 16 when he left the Plymouth High Grade School to go to sea, made his last journey into Upper Digloo River country, 400 miles inland. There white men had never trodden before. He was accompanied by native servants and a white partner, Thomas Jackson. The attack was launched while Jackson was away on an individual expedition.

Guttural shouts and a rain of spears were the only warning of the attack—so stealthy was the descent of the savages from out of the darkness of a cloudy night. There was no chance of defence. Three native boys were killed outright; eight others were badly wounded.

The cannibal feast was prepared at once. The living were left, helpless spectators of the orgy, knowing that a similar fate would be theirs in due course.

Twelve hours later Jackson, heading a rescue party, drove the savages back to the bush. He was too late to save the life of his partner, who, in his last few moments, murmured the brief story of the terrible events of the previous day.

Penrose, after his seafaring life, lived in Queensland for a time, and in 1910 went to New Guinea, first to the British and afterwards to the Dutch portion of the island, where his life was one long record of exciting and romantic incidents. He penetrated many unexplored regions, prospecting for gold, accompanied only by a native boy.

It was on one of these lonely journeys in 1914 that he discovered a race of pigmy folk, only three feet in height, who saw for the first time the face of a white man.

N. B. LAD DETAINED IN JUVENILE COURT

Asserts He Fled From Restigouche Town to Quebec and Montreal

Montreal, April 16.—"Such is life!" said a 14 year old Campbellton, N. B., wanderer detained at juvenile court headquarters and whose name is not made public, when he was told he might be made heir to an estate of $25,000. "I've had my ups and downs."

Last week he arrived in Montreal without a cent in his pockets, having run away from the people with whom he lived in Campbellton, and not knowing the whereabouts of his father, said to be an invalid, for whom he had searched without success in Quebec. He had nothing to eat and no place to sleep. He wandered about the city, chilled by the damp winds of spring and soaked by April showers.

This week he is the prospective heir to an estate worth about $25,000. An elderly widow who loves children, though she has none of her own, wishes to adopt the youth. In making her application to juvenile court authorities the woman stated she had no one to leave her property to. If she took the boy, she said, and he behaved himself, she would make him her heir.

This application to the juvenile court for permission to adopt the boy is only one of many that have been made on his behalf.

No decision has yet been made. Police are attempting to locate the boy's missing relatives.
