H. M. S. Hermes, 6 guns, Com. Gordon, entered here on Tuesday last, from Campbello.

This.—The Saw Mill in Upper Nelson, Northumberland, owned by Howard Crocker, Esq., was burned to the ground early on the morning of Wednesday last.

New Vessels.—A very fine new ship, called the "William Wirt," was launched from the building yard of Messrs. Simonson & Co., at Greenpoint, Long Island, on Saturday last. Another fine ship called the "Grand," was launched from the building yard of Messrs. Smith & Dimon, at their ship yard, foot of Clinton-street, Brooklyn, on Saturday last. Both vessels are of the first class, and are intended for the Liverpool trade.

Disastrous Fire.—Destruction of Property.—Loss of Life.—Mr. Thomas Addison, of the Central Police, and Mr. Thomas Hall, Fireman, Killed.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock, A. M., on Wednesday last, a fire was discovered in the extensive Soap and Candle Factory of Messrs. Thomas Addison & Co., in Mercer-street, between Prince and Houston-streets, which, in the short space of two hours, entirely consumed the building, and all the valuable machinery, stock in trade, &c., contained therein. The fire originated in the boiler room, and is supposed to have been caused by the bursting of a steam pipe. The building was owned by Mr. Thomas Addison, and was insured for $5,000 in the Mechanics' Fire Insurance Company. The loss of Mr. Addison, on the building, machinery, stock in trade, &c., will amount to $20,000, on which there is an insurance of $12,000, as above stated. Mr. Addison was formerly a member of the Common Council, and is a gentleman highly esteemed by all who know him. The fire was discovered by Mr. Thomas Hall, Fireman of Engine Company No. 34, who was unfortunately killed by the falling of the walls. Mr. Hall was a native of Ireland, but had resided in this city for many years. He was a member of the Fire Department, and was highly esteemed by his brother firemen. He was married, and has left a wife and family to mourn his untimely fate. Mr. Addison, the proprietor of the building, was also severely injured by the falling of the walls, and was carried home in a carriage. He is now lying in a very precarious condition, and his recovery is considered doubtful. Mr. Addison's loss will fall very heavily upon him, as he has no insurance on his stock in trade, &c., and the insurance on the building will not cover the loss sustained by the destruction of the property. Mr. Addison has been a resident of this city for many years, and has always borne the character of a worthy citizen and a good neighbor. He has a large family of children, who have the sympathy of the community in the severe affliction which has befallen them. The fire was the largest that has occurred in this city for many years, and the destruction of property would have been much greater but for the exertions of the firemen, who were on the ground in a very short time after the alarm was given. The fire was under the control of the firemen in about two hours after it was discovered.—Evening Post.

Mysterious Affair.—Yesterday morning, about 8 o'clock, a man named Thomas Hall, residing in Mercer-street, between Prince and Houston-streets, was found lying in the street, in front of the premises occupied by Messrs. Addison & Co., as a candle and soap factory, in a dying condition, and was conveyed to the New York Hospital, where he died in a few hours afterwards. It appears that Hall was employed as a fireman in the factory, and that he was engaged in assisting to extinguish the fire which broke out in the building on Wednesday morning, when he received the injuries which caused his death. It is said that Hall was in the habit of drinking to excess, and that he had been drinking on the night previous to the fire breaking out, and that he was in a state of intoxication when he was found in the street. Whether he received his injuries from the falling of the walls, or from violence, is a mystery which will be cleared up by the Coroner's inquest, which will be held this day.—Courier and Enquirer.
