FORTY-EIGHTTH SESSION OF ANGLICAN SYNOD OPENED IN THIS CITY YESTERDAY

Bishop Courtney Charms Audience by Message on Growth of Church in the United States—First Service of Day Holy Communion at 10.30 A. M.

In the presence of clerical and lay representatives from various parts of New Brunswick, His Lordship Bishop Richardson opened the forty-eighth session of the Diocesan Synod of Fredericton, in Trinity Church, this city, yesterday.

Following a celebration of holy communion in the church at 10.30 o'clock the delegates repaired to the school-room. Bishop Richardson officiated, assisted by Ven. Dr. Courtney, of New York, Dean Neales, of Fredericton, Archdeacon O. S. Newnam, of St. Stephen, secretary of the Synod, Archdeacon Forsyth of Chatham, Archdeacon Crowfoot of Hampton, Canon Smithers of Fredericton, and Canon Sism of Moncton.

After the Rev. M. LeT. Thompson had been appointed assistant secretary of the Synod meetings, and the roll called by Archdeacon Newnam, Bishop Richardson introduced Rev. Dr. Courtney who gave a most interesting address on Church and Social Work, in the course of which he said that the church in the United States was getting stronger, especially in two distinct directions: first in the fact that there was a decided increase in attendance on the part of the city folk in the east, and secondly in the development of what in olden days was called the high church in the west.

The church in the United States was alive to the questions of the day. Social service of all kinds was receiving attention and there was a presence of real religion on the part of the people. The outside public was greatly interested through the press, which gave liberal accounts of the church work in conventions held from time to time.

When the Rev. Dr. Courtney came forward, all present arose and welcomed him. He humorously said, as Bishop Richardson was to make his charge to the Synod soon, he would not like to say anything that might trench on that interesting paper. There was the danger, too, that his views might not coincide with those of the bishop.

At 2.30 o'clock the delegates again met, and following the opening prayer, Bishop Richardson delivered his charge to the Synod as given in another part of this issue, at the conclusion of which various routine business, including the receiving of reports from the different clergy, etc., was carried out.

As the time drew near for the evening service it was soon evident that the capacity of the church would be taxed, as crowds passed through the doors, including as it did members of the clergy from all parts of the Maritime Provinces, as well as a most representative number of citizens.

A most impressive section of the service was the procession of the clergy of the diocese and choir boys as they passed down the aisle, as also was the beautifully rendered anthem sung by the choir.

After the service had been opened by prayer, the first lesson was read by Archdeacon Forsyth, and the second lesson by Dean Neales, followed by the Rev. Dr. Courtney in a most powerful and impressive sermon.

216th Bantam Battalion

The voluntary system is gaining impetus daily in St. John. Yesterday sixteen more offered for service and were accepted. The 216th Battalion secured its first recruits in St. John yesterday. Two men signed on for this unit.

Active recruiting for the 216th Battalion is being carried on in the city last night to look for the short men to go overseas. Recruits joining in this district will draw full subsistence until placed in barracks (which will be centrally and conveniently located between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick) and will be trained here until embarking for overseas.

This is the first and only opportunity for the short men to go overseas. Recruits joining in this district will draw full subsistence until placed in barracks (which will be centrally and conveniently located between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick) and will be trained here until embarking for overseas.

Off for Grand Manan. Sergeant-Major Beattie and acting Sergeant Enos, of the Canadian Engineers are leaving this morning for Grand Manan where they will hold a week-end meeting in the interest of the Canadian Engineers. They will be away until the first of next week.

Campaign for Kitties. Preparations have been completed for an elaborate recruiting campaign for the 236th Kitties Battalion. The officers of the unit in company with the 115th Battalion Band which is attached to the battalion, and several artists from the 236th will visit the different cities in the province and give a band concert and vaudeville entertainment. The opening performance will be given about the 16th inst. at Fredericton.

Soon to Leave. It is reported in military circles that the company of the 25th Battalion, which has been practically secured in the city, will be leaving about the 14th of the month for new training quarters. This unit has met with signal success in the province, and it is doubtful if any other unit has been recruited in Eastern Canada within the last year as fast as the Railway Battalion.

Sergeant Colpitt, of Moncton, arrived in the city last night to look

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late District Fire Chief John P. McAndrews, took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 702 Gullford street, and was largely attended. Preceding the hearse was a squad of police, who were followed by members of the Orange Order, then came the 16th band, and members of the fire department. Firemen of the West Side department acted as pallbearers. Mayor Hayes, the city commissioners, and members of the Longshoremen's Association also attended. A large number of beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem in which the late chief was held. The services were conducted in St. George's church by Rev. W. H. Sampson, and the church was filled with sorrowing friends of the deceased. Interment was in Cedar Hill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah Coleman, Metcalf street, took place yesterday morning to St. Peter's church, where requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. P. Costello, C. S. R.; Rev. D. McDougall, C. S. R., deacon, and Rev. F. Coughlan, C. S. R., sub-deacon. Interment in old Catholic cemetery.
