

Heavy Decrease In Value of Fish Caught in Month of June

Total Value for the Month Was $3,018,748 Against $3,764,427 for Same Month Last Year.

Ottawa, July 28.—A heavy decrease in the value of fish caught in the month of June, is indicated in a report issued today by the department of marine fisheries. The total value of fish caught in the month of June, against $3,764,427 for the same month last year, a decrease of $745,679. The decrease was due to a decrease in the value of cod, haddock, and salmon. The price paid for some of the kinds of fish were rather lower this year. Salmon realized $11.26 against $11.89, cod $2.81 against $2.92, haddock $1.78 against $1.72 per hundred weight and sardines $2.90 against $3.00 per barrel.

On the Pacific coast, where stormy weather adversely affected salmon fishing, the quantity of fish landed amounted to 11,707 hundred weight, against 26,239 hundred weight last year. The smaller quantity landed was due to strikes, and the lack of transportation, which caused a large number of fish to rot and their catches at Kotikhan, Alaska.

On the Atlantic coast the catches of cod, haddock, and pollock in the aggregate fell short by over 60,000 cwt. The decrease was mainly due to decreased landings by the Lunenburg fleet. The herring catch fell short by over 60,000 cwt. The catch of sardines amounted to 16,170 barrels against 21,525 barrels last year. The decrease, says the report, is doubt attributable to much lower prices. The catch of mackerel was 2,000 cwt. against 23,000 cwt. in Eastern Canada. Salmon fishing was poor, the amount taken being less than fifty per cent. of the catch in June, 1918.

On the other hand the lobster catch amounted to 90,000 cwt. against 86,000 cwt. From March 1st to June 30, 111,942 cases were packed. Notwithstanding that catching commenced two and one half months earlier last year, the pack up to the end of June, did not exceed 91,958 cases.

INFLAMED GUMS—THE CAUSE OF TOOTH-BASE DECAY

Just as the strength of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so are healthy teeth dependent upon healthy gums. Permit the gums to become inflamed or tender and you weaken the foundation of the teeth. This condition is called Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Loosening of teeth is a direct result. And, spreading, pyorrhea infects the joints or tonsils or causes other ailments. Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) attacks four out of five people who are over forty. And many under that age, also. Its first symptoms are tender gums. So you should look to your gums. Use Forhan's, which positively prevents pyorrhea if used in time and used consistently. It also scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean. Brush your teeth with it. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Norma Talmadge "In Probation Wife"

Delightful Summer Entertainment Provided at Imperial Theatre Yesterday—Immense Crowds.

The Imperial Theatre held large crowds of pleased people yesterday afternoon and evening when the fourth of its special mid-summer features was presented, namely, The Probation Wife, a picture novel, Norma Talmadge, reigning favorite in filmland, played a leading role and headed by handsome Tom Meighan. The Imperial programme was especially attractive having such extra features as the News Topics of the Day, skits, excerpts from the leading newspapers of United States and Canada on humorous subjects, also the British and Canadian news weekly and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon.

"The Probation Wife" is the story of an inmate of a notorious cell, who later returns through the love and trust of a good man. Josephine, or Jo as she was called, was one of the most important attractions of the Dominion City. Harrison Wade, a wealthy New Yorker, sees her here and gives her money to escape. She is discovered, and before she gets another chance to escape the police find her. After two years of imprisonment, Jo manages to escape. She purchases a fashionable outfit with the money she has concealed.

After having made her escape, Jo decides that the only way to advance and get the things in life that are worth while is through some man—the only way she has ever been taught. So she boards a train for New York, ever on the alert for the helpful man. She discovers him in the next compartment. He proves to be no other than Harrison Wade, the man who had tried to help her to escape. She cruelly and blantly makes a proposition to him. He trade her for clothes and whatever else he may be willing to give.

Wade believes there is some good in the girl and he ever been taught. He is surprised. He lives very happily until Jo meets Huntley McMerion, a prominent and wealthy New Yorker. They become very friendly. Wade thinks they are in love with each other, and prepares to bring divorce proceedings when he finds his wife in the arms of McMerion. Explanations follow and happiness is in store for all.

St. John Man Spent His Money In Vain

C. A. Gurney Got No Relief from Rheumatism Until He Took Tanlac—Had Suffered Ten Years.

"I have spent many a hard-earned dollar trying to get relief from my trouble, but nothing ever helped me like Tanlac," said C. A. Gurney, of 38 Charlotte Street, St. John, N. B., Canada, a Tanlac representative, recently. Mr. Gurney came to St. John in 1880 and is well known in the city, having been in business for himself for the past forty-eight years.

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for about ten years," continued Mr. Gurney, "and I had it in every part of my body, too. Sometimes my hands would swell and puff up so I couldn't work and at times I would be in such misery I would just drag myself down to my place of business, actually dreading the day's work. My joints ached so bad that some nights I just couldn't sleep, and even if I did happen to drop off to sleep, the pain sometimes woke me up with a start and my legs would ache and twitch so I couldn't get any rest. There were many times when I actually didn't know what a good night's sleep was and when I got up in the morning I felt tired and fagged out from a restless, sleepless night of pain and misery, with my joints all swollen and aching, and if my muscles had been tied in knots they could not have felt any worse. I guess I must have used all of a barrel of medicines and treatments of different kinds trying to find some relief, but nothing I used seemed to help me a bit.

"I got to taking Tanlac because I heard so many of my customers talking about it and telling what it had done for them, but after I had taken a bottle of it I didn't seem to feel like it had benefited me any, but my wife persuaded me to try another, and I certainly was glad she did, because Tanlac proved to be just the thing I needed, and I kept on taking it till now I can go to bed and sleep just as soundly as any child and get up in the morning feeling rested and ready for my day's work, and I can do as much work as the next man, too. I don't have to get up in the night to rub my aches and arms with liniment any more. I feel so much better in every way that I can take an interest in life again and laugh at a good joke that one of my customers tells without having a sharp pain catch me in some part of my body and spoil my fun. I have spent lots of money on treatments and medicine, but nothing I ever took gave me the relief that Tanlac has, and I praise it to everyone I see for that very reason."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co. and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.
