Nearly all Teas "Look" alike to the consumer but there is a vast difference in looks, and tastes, and this is fully understood and recognized by Tea Experts, who base their market values alone upon the drawing qualities.

Teas are full of rich drawing deliciousness being therefore very economical in use, as while not only pleasing to the tastes of all, they go farther in infusion.

This is being demonstrated in millions of Tea-Pots daily.

TALKING IT OVER

With Lorna Moon

IS IT WORTH IT?

My friends the Serious Thinkers maintain that as a nation we take life too strenuously. He says that we have forgotten how to really play, and that we have lost utterly the art of leisure. We have undermined our national health with our high speed way of living—he points to the hundreds of advertisements proposing to cure indigestion and frayed nerves—"those," he says, "are the straws which point the current is going. We work from the time we can walk, until we die, our whole thought is accomplishment—accomplishment! At school we work to get the monthly medal, even our childish sport is a grim business in which the object is to win a prize. We rush into business at an early age, and fight madly to be in an executive position before we are twenty-five. We eat our breakfast standing up, and watch our lunches at lunch counters and eat our dinners in feverish haste to be in time for the theater—rush, rush, rush, and in its wake indigestion remedies nostrums for shattered nerves!

"I am only forty," he continued, "yet I'm in worse shape than my father was at sixty. And look at our son! Only ten years old, and do not realize it! I tell you it is possible to hurry too fast!—There's our daughter as nervous as a cat. What kind of a mother is she going to make? It's all very well talking of our rapid advancement, and perhaps we are the world's greatest speed artists, but we'd better look out that we are not also known as the world's greatest neuroasthenics!"

There's a world of truth in the Serious Thinker's remarks. We do rush feverishly through life. We do not realize it until we think of the pre-war mode of living in other countries. The French business man would take two hours in the middle of the day to lunch and "visit," and the busiest English

You couldn't get all you wanted during the war but now your grocer can supply the normal demand. It is the same Shredded Wheat you have always eaten—clean, pure, wholesome, nutritious. There is no "substitute" for it. Eat it with milk or cream. Salt or sweeten to suit the taste.

One Employment Agency for All Canada

THE Dominion and Provincial Governments are co-operating to distribute employment quickly and fairly. Employment Offices are being set up throughout Canada—a single, complete chain from East to West.

In all, some 60 Employment Offices are being established. They will be located in all centres of 10,000 people and over—and wherever the need for them exists. One-third are already in operation.

Through these Government Employment Offices, all persons in need of employment, both male and female, will secure such positions as are available.

Through this same source an employer's particular needs will be promptly filled.

Indeed, the service rendered by these Government Employment Offices will be such as to warrant the heartiest co-operation and support on the part of employers of labor.

They will endeavor to supply only such help as an employer can confidently take on—the right man for the right position.

Thus, to the small employer of labor, they will take the place of the Employment manager. To the large employer of labor they will be of appreciable assistance.

The service of the Employment Offices will be given both to employers and to those who seek employment entirely without charge.

How They Work.

A superintendent is in charge of each local Employment Office.

Inside the office he has interviewers, to confer with those seeking employment and to direct them to positions. In the larger cities he also has canvassers or salesmen to call on the employers and show them the value of the services rendered by the Employment Office.

In this way the work-seeker and the work-giver are quickly brought together.

Every effort is made to secure up-to-date, business-like offices, conveniently located.

For the Soldier.

The same Employment Offices are used to provide positions for returned soldiers as well as for every other person in need of employment.

In each employment office there is a representative of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment—a man who has served overseas. He introduces the returned soldier to the regular officials and gives him every assistance, both as to employment and other matters.

The Organization.

The local offices in each province are linked together by a provincial clearing house in the capital city.

They are directly supervised by a general superintendent who receives daily wired reports from each office. These reports state how many have sought work, how many have been placed in positions, how many and what classes need work, how many positions vacant. The general superintendent has each day a complete picture of the employment situation in the province under his care.

With the same idea in view, the Dominion Government has three national clearing-houses—established at Halifax, Ottawa, and Winnipeg. Those who plan to move from one locality to another can thus go "with their eyes open," because these clearing-houses show from their daily reports just what the employment prospects are—everywhere.

National Advantages.

With the completion of this single chain of Employment Offices the Government will be exactly informed on employment conditions.

Expert field agents will call on the lumbering, mining, shipbuilding and other industries to secure information as to anticipated requirements for labor.

Weekly reports sent in by trade unions provide additional information.

Finally, every concern with 25 or more employees will mail each week a post-card showing (a) the pay-roll of the previous week; (b) changes in staff and the nature of the occupations.

Advisory Councils.

Each local superintendent in the larger cities will be assisted by an advisory body composed of employers and employees.

Each province will have a similar advisory body.

There will also be a Dominion body—the Employment Service Council of Canada—to co-operate with the Department of Labor. This council will be composed of representatives from all these classes interested.

In addition to the above, the Government is co-operating with those who provide employment—so that as far as possible every willing worker will have work to do.

man had time for his afternoon tea, and the English miss was never too rushed to take long country walks. These things may explain why Frenchmen don't get bald and oldish at forty, and why the English girl retains her complexion. It may also explain why an English business man of sixty still likes to caper over the country on a spirited horse in the early morning hours.

"We can show the world, when it comes to speed—but is it worth it, I wonder."

VICTIM OF EPILEPSY SINCE HIS INFANCY.

London, Jan. 19.—Prince John, the youngest son of King George, died at Sandringham last night. He had been ill for some time. The prince was possessed of exuberant spirits. He was the prime favorite of all classes and the idol of the servants and tenants at Windsor. It is said that he was the favorite brother of Prince Mary, who loved to romp with him. The prince was born at Sandringham on July 12, 1905.

An official bulletin issued this evening says: "Prince John, who since infancy had suffered epileptic fits, which lately had become more frequent and severe, passed away in his sleep, following an attack at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday."

Prince John Charles Francis leaves beside his parents four brothers and one sister, as follows: The Prince of Wales, Edward, born 1894; Prince Albert, born 1895; Prince Henry, born 1900; Prince George, born 1902, and Princess Mary, born 1897.

KILLING OF DR. LIEBKNECHT AND ROSA LUXEMBURG AROUSES PEOPLE IN MANY TOWNS.

London, Jan. 19.—Grave election riots are taking place to-day in Germany, where the people are voting to choose members of the National Assembly. A general strike has been declared at Leipzig, which is without gas and water; according to Copenhagen advices to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The deaths of Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg appear to have made a deep impression in provincial towns and to have led to demonstrations and street fighting it is reported.

Destroy Election Bureau.

At Leipzig a mob is said to have destroyed the election bureau of the Democratic party and to have confiscated the evening edition of the Leipzig Tagblatt, Zeitung, and General Gazette, compelling those papers to publish an edition "depicting the murders in Berlin," and blaming the Government for them.

Strikes and demonstrations are reported in Düsseldorf and other towns.

Airmen flew over Berlin to-day and bombarded the city with pamphlets issued by all the political parties it is reported.

May Cancel Assembly.

Amsterdam, Jan. 19.—The Lokale Anzeiger, of Berlin, says it learns the Ebert-Scheidemann Government has finally decided not to hold the National Assembly for which elections are going on to-day.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Chapel when Harold May son of Marcius May was married to Elizabeth Hauss daughter of Jacob Hauss.

The young couple is going to reside at Guelph.

Some more wedding bells are ringing. The "Flu" epidemic is on the wane. Still some of the people are not quite over their attack and it will be laid up for some time to come.

Mrs. Albert Frank of Guelph is visiting with her father.
