

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER VII.

The Symbol in the Sub-Apostolic Age.

- |                           |                                 |
|---------------------------|---------------------------------|
| I. A Passage in Pliny.    | IV. The Oath of the Catechumen. |
| II. Guarding the Deposit. | V. The Old Roman Creed.         |
| III. "Abnegare."          |                                 |

CHAPTER VIII.

The Symbol in the New Testament.

- |                                    |                                  |
|------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| I. State of the Question.          | VI. Scriptural Allusions.        |
| II. An Objection Met.              | VII. The Pattern of Sound Words. |
| III. The Stream of Tradition.      | VIII. Summing up the Case.       |
| IV. The Broad Fact of Catholicism. | IX. A Simple Parable.            |
| V. The Symbol and the Scripture.   | X. Harnack's Guesswork.          |

CHAPTER IX.

Drawn Up by the Twelve.

- |                              |                                    |
|------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| I. The Abbé Fouard's Theory. | IV. Rufinus Speaks for Himself.    |
| II. The Unaltered Symbol.    | V. An Additional Proof.            |
| III. A Two-edged Objection.  | VI. Primary Purpose of the Symbol. |

CHAPTER X.

The Kerygma and the Symbol.

- |                                     |                                   |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| I. The Rule of Faith.               | VI. A Case of Felo de Se . |
| II. Not a Definite Formulary.       | VII. The Rule and Symbol One.     |
| III. A Plentiful Lack of Clearness. | VIII. Corroborative Proof.        |
| IV. St. Cyprian's Rule.             | IX. A Spurious Criticism.         |
| V. Light and Darkness.              |                                   |

CHAPTER XI.

Meeting Objections.

- |                                   |                                |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| I. Dr. Schaff Holds a Brief.      | III. Two More Worthless Pleas. |
| II. The Fallacy of Silence Again. |                                |

CHAPTER XII.

The Articles of the Creed.

- |                             |                               |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| I. The Object of Our Faith. | VII. The Drama of Redemption. |
| II. An "Article" of Faith.  | VIII. The Fourth Article.     |