

Fruit Is Cheap

This year—there's plenty of it and the quality is good. The high price of apples is certainly a hardship, but there's lots of other things.

Currants are good quality and low in price. Raisins are exceptionally good and low in price also. Almost everything that you need to buy, with the one exception of apples is cheap.

NEGLECT

If the tooth aches the owner goes to a dentist; if the stomach, he goes to the doctor; if his corn hurts he goes to a chiropodist, but if his eyes ache he blames it to overwork or perhaps to a cold in the head.

A man in New York who once had good eyesight but turned blind offered $100,000 to have his sight restored. We do not know what the diagnosis of the case is, but as the offer has been pending for a long time, and the man is still sightless, we presume he is permanently blind. Perhaps his eyesight could not have been saved, but it is an undeniable fact that many are blind and many others are practically so whose sight could have been preserved by the early attention of a reliable optician. There are hundreds of other people of the present day who are afflicted with a dull headache, which is blamed to overwork, study, or fatigue to being up late the night before. There are others who complain of objects being dull, and again there are people who see specks floating in the air like dust, which is not dust, but eye trouble. These troubles can be relieved by consulting E. J. MacIntyre, Chatham's reliable optician, who uses all the latest means for treating these troubles.

Mr. Williams, a gentleman from New York, had a spell of feeling bad this morning. Mr. Williams came over to Canada to visit relatives in western Ontario. He had with him a shaggy-haired setter bitch which he had some idea of leaving with his wife's relatives. The only trouble was to locate his family connections. He stopped last night at the Rankin Hotel, and shut his dog up in a room where he thought that the canine would be perfectly safe till morning. Early this morning the dog got away from his room, and then there was some excitement at the Rankin Hotel. Mr. Williams found his dog wandering over the river, and was again happy at having recovered his treasure.

DRIVEN ASHORE.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 31.—Three schooners were driven ashore on the Labrador coast last week during a gale. One was laden with the families of fishermen returning from a summer sojourn on the coast. The women and children were rescued with great difficulty, the schooner being beached at Sandy Point, and the women and children being sent ashore with ropes. In all three cases the crews were saved. The other vessels, one carrying a Catholic priest who had been making a sacerdotal visitation, were driven seaward, and have been missing for 10 days. The steamer Glencoe went in search of them, but without result. Twelve lives are involved, and it is feared that all have perished.

EVENING SONG.

Oh, for the days when I was a kid
With the old jeans pants and the old straw lid!
When the watermelon would seem to be
As good as whiskey straight to me!
Oh, for the days when the wind that blows
Would redder my cheeks and not my nose!
Drink hearty, boys!

Oh, for the days when I was a youth,
Chasing along the path of truth!
Drink to that good old neighborhood,
Where the folks all said we would turn out good!

A toast, old sports, to the long ago,
Then for our seats in the baldhead
Drink hearty, boys!

Hot Water as a Cosmetic.

Far better for the complexion than any cosmetic compounded by a perfumer is the application of very hot water to the face with a woolen washrag. A matron of fifty, whose charms are the envy of those of her acquaintances, said her years, has used this application many years. "Every night and morning," she says, "I give my face a thorough washing with a piece of white flannel in hot water. Once in a great while I use soap, but not often, as I have found the hot water, persistently used, very satisfactory."

"If the skin has not been exposed to a great amount of dust, the water may be merely sopped upon the face at night, as once a day is often enough for the scrub. After the hot bath dash on a liberal quantity of cold water with the hands until the skin fairly glows. This is the cheapest and most wonderful cosmetic known. A month of such treatment will transform any complexion. My skin is much fairer and rosier now than when I was twenty. I had naturally a poor complexion, but they were very unsatisfactory, until one day an old lady whose skin I always had admired for its youthful appearance gave me the recipe. I tried it faithfully and before long saw with delight that my complexion was clearing."

Walking and Self Consciousness.

The peculiarities of gait of women make an interesting study if viewed from a large window overlooking a street on which there is much travel. Every woman has a more or less "I know every one is looking at me" gait in passing a window and consequently does not walk as easily as she would if unconscious that she was being observed. If a woman is self conscious, her peculiarities of gait are accentuated. The pretty girl who is trying to look absolutely natural seems to be walking on peg legs, the long girl strides with longer and quicker steps, and the funny little fat woman puffs fussily along with shorter and quicker steps. If any one could get out a recipe for walking and label it "How to be natural though self conscious," women might profit by it and feel much more comfortable and walk more properly on the street. Women on the stage study a proper walk, and it would be well for women in private life to do the same.

To Bring Baby Luck.

In Ireland a belt of woman's hair is placed about a child to keep harm away. Garlic, salt, bread and steak are put in the cradle of a newborn baby in Holland.

At the birth of a child in lower Brittany the neighboring women take it in charge, wash it, crack its joints and rub its head in oil to solder the cranium. It is then wrapped in a tight bundle, and its lips are touched with brandy to make it a full Briton.

Welsh mothers, to insure the safety of their babies, put a pair of togs or a knife in the cradle.

As soon as a child is born a Turkish mother loads it with amulets, and a small bit of mud, steeped in hot water, prepared by previous charms, is stuck on its forehead.

Speak Evil of No One.

A King's Daughters' circle of ten girls chose for its motto these three words: "Guard the Tongue." Their special promise to each other was to speak no evil and to listen to no evil reports or remarks about any one and to discourage all gossip, scandal and adverse criticism. They were all very nice girls. No one would have suspected them of the vulgar habit of gossiping or of saying unkind things of their companions or neighbors. Yet after one month under the new rule of restraining the tongue these girls, every one of them, confessed that they had been compelled to exercise great self-denial in order to carry out their promises.

Encourages Matrimony.

The English government gives away $50,000 a year to encourage matrimony among the women employees of the telegraph service. Women enter the service at an average age of sixteen. After six years, when the operator has reached the official marriageable age of 22, she is entitled to an allowance from the state. For each year of service she can draw one month's pay. As her salary is $25 a month, she can then claim $150. If she waits until she is twenty-eight, she can draw $400. In practice the average amount paid has been found to be about $200.

A BANK'S SCARE.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The local post authorities and the officials of a Toronto bank are just getting over a lively scare. Clerks of the bank went down to postal station B on Monday evening, shortly after six o'clock, with a registered package of money amounting to about $10,000. The package was consigned to an eastern town near Prescott, and a letter of advice was sent along with it. The letter arrived at its destination all right yesterday, but there was no sign or trace of the bundle of notes. The Toronto office was notified and messages chased each other to and from the bank, the post office and the place to which the money was consigned. It was found that the money had been left at station B in the regular way, and the officials there were sure it had gone east. It was not till last night that the package turned up and its disappearance was explained. The railway clerk had apparently thrown it into the wrong bag and it had been carried past its destination, it was carried back again and duly delivered.

THE ST. LAWRENCE ROUTE.

London, Oct. 31.—Chick Bombay, an official of the Allan steamship line, has been interviewed by the Daily Express in regard to the St. Lawrence route. He states that the Allan Line had to adopt a makeshift compass on entering the St. Lawrence. A man signals the course with a whistle. It was Jas. A. Allan who has insisted on the adoption of the wooden mizzenmast and elevated compass, and since its adoption not a single accident has occurred to any of the Allan boats navigating the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

A TRAIN DITCHED.

Brandon, Man., Oct. 31.—The regular freight coming west on the Canadian Pacific Railway was wrecked three miles east of here at noon to-day, and three men were injured more or less seriously. The injured are James Quinn, Jno. Quinn and Albert Coulter. A wheel on the foremost car broke, and the truck rode on the ties about 150 feet, when it collapsed, throwing the cars into the ditch. The crew in the caboose were riding in the cupola, and how they escaped death is miraculous. The injured men were brought here on the engine and taken to the hospital. Coulter only recently recovered from injuries received in a previous accident.
