Mirage in Clouds Seen by Aviator

Flight Officer Tried to Avoid Collision With His Own Machine
(Associated Press)
London, April, 5.—An account of a mirage in the clouds is given in a letter from a British Flying Corps officer on the Western Front. He says:

"I have often wondered what it would be like to see a machine coming at you and to know that the collision was inevitable. I had the experience this afternoon, only the collision did not take place.

"I was on patrol with five other machines over the lines, and had just gone into a cloud bank. Just before going in I saw the 'plane on my right turning to cross in front of me. Suddenly I saw a machine of the same type as mine appear out of the cloud at fifty feet away, making straight for me.

"Instinctively I jammed my nose hard down and went as near a nose dive as possible. The other aeroplane did the same. I turned. The other turned into me.

"I was in a cold perspiration all over by this time, so I thought 'He goes; if I am going to crash, it might as well be complete.' So straight for it I went. We got closer and closer, and hit! My machine and—mirage in the clouds met.

"It seemed like a hideous nightmare, and I can still see that machine doing its utmost to crash into me. I think I can say I have had the full horrors of a collision in the air without its actually taking place.

"A bomb thrower invented by Mr. Joseph Reichenbach, of New Westminster, B. C., a mechanic with an inventive turn of mind, has been accepted by the British War Office.

MEMORIAL TO MRS. M. B. EDDY

Monument Erected to Founder of Christian Science Religion

GRANITE COLONNADE

To be Filled With Beautiful Growing Flowers

The memorial to Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, erected in Mt. Auburn Cemetery at Cambridge, Mass., has been turned over to the Christian Science Board of Directors by Edward St. Barlow of New York, who had charge of its construction. Over a year and a half has been required to complete the world has contributed, as expressions of sympathy, the entire cost of over $150,000.

The material is of Bethel white granite and consists of an open circular colonnade of eight columns fifteen feet in height surmounted by a cornice and cresting. The space inside the colonnade is to be filled with growing flowers. The columns rest on a stylobate of three steps, which also rest, at one side, on a broad platform of Pompeian pink granite and, at the other, which is about five feet lower, on a double flight of circular steps. These are flanked on each side by a large, ornate, and were pronounced by several experts to be the finest pieces of carved granite ever executed. The detail is elaborated to an extent never before attempted in granite; some of the stems and leaf-work are practically free-standing, so great is the relief. Interviewed regarding the memorial, the architect, Mr. Egerton Swartwout of New York said: 'The site is singularly pleasing; in fact, I question whether a finer site can anywhere be found. It can be seen from all sides equally well, close at hand from the cemetery, or from a quarter of a mile away across the lake. Indeed, it is this body of water which forms the chief beauty of the lake. There is a drop of approximately 10 feet from the level of the road to the level of the lake, there being a natural terrace on the axis of the plot which lends itself admirably to the architectural development of the memorial. The lake is unusually still, and has a mirror-like quality which reflects admirably the white granite of which this memorial is composed. As to the memorial I think it can be said without contradiction that, leaving aside entirely any artistic excellence, such perfection and grandeur as this monument has attained before in this yielding and enduring material. There is certainly nothing in modern times that can approach it in grandeur, or in any of the monuments of antiquity.'

DEVELOPMENT OF NEWRAY

The driving of the crosscut on the 400-foot level of the Newray Porcupine is the first underground work which has been done by the present Company. Under the former management, however, considerable ore was recovered on the old No. 1 vein and a production of $212,000 in gold was made in the stamp mill. The property was at that time operated by a leasing company, and the earnings were sufficient to pay a dividend.

The present Company, Newray Mines Limited, took over the property last year, and since then have carried out a very aggressive development campaign, which is now yielding in the amount of at least five veins which were picked up by the diamond drills, and which should be encountered in the crosscut on the 400-foot level between now and mid-summer, and as these carried high values and were demonstrated for a considerable width, it is expected that the Company will be able to maintain a substantial production.

The Newray property is one of the most extensive in the Porcupine camp, comprising 321 acres in the well-known Hollinger-McIntyre Newray zone, which contains five out of the present seven producing mines of the camp.

The installation of the Millardville waterworks will likely be completed by the end of this month.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade was held in the Board of Trade rooms last week.

Can we afford to advise you Poorly?

The best asset of a brokerage house is the confidence of its clientele. This can only be retained by the exercise of the most careful discrimination in the investments which it recommends.

We advise the purchase of Newray—NOW!
In Newray you have the opportunity to buy into the most attractive of the Porcupine mining securities.

Expert opinion is that Newray is on the threshold of becoming one of the big gold mines of the continent. The property is now being developed at depth, and has already definitely passed from the "prospect" into the "mine" stage.

Newray will start up the stamp mill in May. With the attainment of the production basis, much higher prices are warranted for the stock.

Newray deserves your confidence. Write us for full particulars.
