Fertilizer

It is hard to make most of the farmers realize that there is a great possibility of them not being able to get what commercial fertilizer they will require this spring. But never the less it is an absolute fact and the wise farmer will take home his fertilizer soon.

Trouble is Brewing in Spain

Washington, March 29—Frequent reports from Spain of widespread unrest because of her attitude toward the war and an almost universal food shortage, made officials at the State Department receive today's announcement of the suspension of constitutional guarantees without surprise.

Officials here, pointing out the similarity to the Russian revolution which also began through political unrest deepened by the food shortage, were unwilling to predict the outcome. Recent reports have shown the food shortage has been felt in cities and in the country as well Germany's submarine warfare has sunk many Spanish vessels, has tied up most of the others, and virtually stopped foreign trade. As a result the country has been threatened with an industrial crisis.

A deeper cause of dissension has been Spain's war policy. The court, the clergy and the army have been reported as decidedly pro-German, so that Spain has not been fully trusted by the Allies. Business interests, as in many other neutral countries, and the people generally, are reported anti-German. Spain has protested sinking of her ships with a varying degree of bitterness, but reports that she had sent an ultimatum to Germany in response to the demands of the business interests of the country have not been corroborated.

Spain refused to endorse President Wilson's peace note last winter on the ground that it was not opportune, and reports have been frequent that King Alfonso hoped to be the mediator at the end of the war. Germany is declared to have conducted a systematic campaign to spread that idea.

Senor Kiano the Spanish Ambassador, was without any official information on the situation in his country.

Why He Closed His Bar

(Christian Science Monitor) Frank Case, proprietor of the Algonquin Hotel, in New York, has closed his bar, which last year paid him a profit of more than $10,000, and says it will remain closed, because he does not wish to pay the cost of his small son's education with money received in that way. Least he be termed a sentimentalist, Mr. Case brings forth other reasons also to prove his assertion that a public bar as an adjunct of a hotel, cheapens the whole place.

The New York Times says that when the Germans seek to give the impression that they are accomplishing a great military feat by their retirement, it is simply forlorn whistling in a graveyard.

German Officer Admits That His Cause is Lost

With the British Armies in France March 28—Monsieur Le Cure Caron, parish priest of reconquered Voyennes said today:

"We knew last autumn of the Battles of the Somme, for we saw wounded Germans coming back until the roads seemed choked with mangled men. We saw other thousands going back after a brief rest, and heard them call out: 'Jesus, have mercy! Jesus, save us!'"

"A German officer a few days ago met me on the street and said, 'Father, we are lost.'"

British Chief of Staff in Italy

London, March 29—The most interesting piece of news from the war theatre today is the announcement of the visit to Robertson and General Wey, the Italian front of Sir William Gansell, representing General Nivelle. It can be assumed that the presence of the British chief of staff and the representative of the French headquarters staff at the post of the Italian supreme command means that heavy fighting is expected in the war zone.

JERUSELEM

Again the Briton nears the ancient gates! The city of the Holy Sepulchre.

Sits in its Eastern calm and dumbly waits The coming of the legions from afar.

They're dust a thousand years, the knightly train That followed Richard's leopard-blazoned shield

Down the long road that valor pointed plain— The path of honor to the stricken field.

Now men as bold as they, their sires' sons, Toil through the sands where centuries ago

Their forebears fought—awake with roaring guns The death who heard crusading trumpets blow.

Perchance the ghost of grim old Saladin, A scimitar across their path may fling,

Yet shall one wave them onward till they win— The wraith of England's Lion hearted King!

What the Huns Think of the Canadians

Sergt. J. D. Logan in the Halifax Chronicle tells us the Germans speak of soldiers, they have met in hot fights, as follows:

"The English fight for their country."

"The French fight for their country."

"But those Canadians, ach, Donner wetter, (oh! by thunder), they fight for the love of it and don't care a pfennig (penny) what happens, Nein. (No)."

The Canada Gazette of a recent date contains the name of Major Lawrence, N. B. Bullock, son of C. B. Bullock of this city as having won the D.S.O. Previous to the outbreak of the war Major Bullock had been engaged in the Yukon district as a mining engineer and was in Mexico when he answered the call. He took a commission as a lieutenant in a Nova Scotia Battalion and went overseas two years ago. In England he was offered a commission in a Middlesex Regiment and another in the Royal Engineers, but declined both offers, preferring to remain with the Canadian forces.

Russian Workmen Do the Right Thing

Petrograd, March 29—The workmen in all the factories engaged in manufacturing for the national defense have decided to renounce for the period of the war one of the fundamental items of the labor program, namely, the eight hour day, it is announced here semi-officially. The decision was taken in view of the necessity of augmenting the output of munition.

BORN

At Aylesford on Tuesday, March 20, 1917, to Mr. and Mrs. Craig Caldwell, a daughter (Elizabeth Craig).

At Kinsman's Corner, Cornwallis, on Thursday March 22nd to Mr. and Mrs. Percival V. Killam, a son.

At Garland, on Friday, March 23rd, to Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly, a son.

Despondent Over Death of Daughter

Despondency because of the death of a daughter in Halifax, last Sunday, following two years after the death of her husband, from which she had never quite recovered, is given as the reason why Mrs. Emily Hutchinson, an active Woman Suffrage worker in the Eighth Assembly District, threw herself to death from the third floor window of her home, at 287 Carroll Street, yesterday.

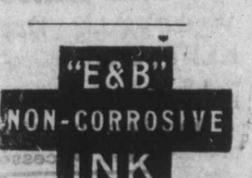

Mrs. Hutchinson was 67 years old, 2 years ago her husband, Capt. Joseph Hutchinson U.S.N., died in the Canal Zone while on duty there, and Mrs. Hutchinson had been despondent, her daughter in law stated yesterday, (March 17), and when Mrs. Hutchinson learned that one of her daughters had died in Halifax last Sunday she became even more downcast.

Mrs. Settag, who lives on a lower floor of the house, was the first to discover Mrs. Hutchinson's act, and shortly after 4 o'clock she awakened the younger Mrs. Hutchinson and told her she believed that her mother in law had jumped out of a bedroom window. The elder Mrs. Hutchinson was found in her night clothes, lying in the rear yard, apparently dead. Dr. G. W. Waugh of 388 Clinton Avenue, the family physician, was summoned, and pronounced the woman dead. She appeared to have fractured her spinal column, and her neck was broken.

Coroner Ernest C. Wagner after an investigation, declared that he believed the woman had committed suicide, as her daughter in law stated that she believed Mrs. Hutchinson had thrown herself from the window.

Mrs. Hutchinson was a native of Waterville, Kings Co., N. S., and was well known in Yarmouth, having taught school in the Yarmouth Seminary for some years.
