the King should have been rowned a great and distinguished gathering, almost identical with Save the King."

From India, Australia and Africa, that which would have sat in Westminster Abbey, gathered in St. Paul's Cathedral. The approached to the cathedral were lined by silent throngs, through which drove peers and peeresses, colonial Premiers, foreign envoys, ambassadors and members of the House of Commons, all in sombre clothes. In the chancel were Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador; Whitelaw Reid, the special ambassador of the United States to the coronation; J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., and the leading members of the nobility. In the nave about a thousand of the Westminster Abbey Cambridge, ieaning heavily on the arm of an equerry, walked to the chancel. As twelve o'clock struck there arose from the far end of the nave the clear notes of the opening sentences of the Litany, chanted by four of the cathedral clergy. Their tones were in such unison that they seemed to emanate from one powerful voice. The choir took up the responses. At each supplication the procession, headed by the cross advanced a few steps, and then cross, advanced a few steps, and then stood still until the response was completed. Through the kneeling congregation the choir advanced to the chancel steps. A score of the clergy followed, and behind them were ten followed, and behind them were ten bishops in gorgeous robes. Then came the Archbishop of York, the Most Rev. William Dalrymple MacLagan; the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Frederick Temple, and the Lord Mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, the corporation in full state bringing up the rear. With evident feeling the choir sang the three psalms of interthe rear. With evident feeling the choir sang the three psalms of intercession, after which the Bishop of Stepney, the Right Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, read the lesson:—Isaiah, chapter 38, verse 10:—"I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the grave; I am denrived the gates of the grave; I am deprived of the residue of my years." The Bishop of London, the Right Rev. Arthur F. W. Ingram, from the altar steps, read the prayers. "O Lord, save the King," rang out to the furthest recess of the dome, and brought a whole-sounded response from the choir and the congregation. The ana whole-sounded response from the choir and the congregation. The anthem and the singing of the hymn:

"Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old was strong to heal and save," and psalm 51 concluded the short service, wherever the Bisher of Lords and whereupon the Bishop of London, sur-rounded by the archbishops and bishops, from the altar steps impres-sively pronounced the benediction. For a few moments complete silence reigned, and all heads were bowed in reigned, and all heads were bowed in prayer, after which the almost blind Archbishop of Canterbury was care-fully led down the steps, the proces-sion reformed and the congregation went out into the sunlight, gledly discussing the wording of the latest bulletin from Buckingbam Palace.

SERVICES ELSEWHERE. ·Simultaneously a similar service was conducted at St. Margaret's Church, dition.

Westminster. It was largely attended by Cabinet Ministers, peers and members of the House of Commens, and was concluded with singing "God
