We have received a letter from Bedford signed "An Admirer of Genius." The latest news afrom the overflowed country along the Mississippi River is that our subject treated of may be of local interest, but not generally so to our readers. Perhaps the best way for the poet's "admirers" to act would be to let him severely alone. Tell many then be relieved of his lucubrations, at least for the winter.

The School Trustees of Portland, N. B. have ordered the introduction of the First Drill into the public schools of that town. It would be well if our City Board would follow their example. The consequences of a fire panic occurring in such lofty buildings as the Prince Strate or West Kent Street Schools, are terrible to contemplate.
