Ottawa, Jan. 28.—W. S. Staples, MacDonald, in the House, called attention to the Government's action in leasing 10,000 acres of swamp lands in its constituency for a period of twenty-one years for $5 per section or less than a cent per acre per annum, to Senator Kirchhoff, for shooting purposes.

F. L. Schaffner, Souris, said that everybody knew that the land to which the lease applied was the best game shooting centre on the continent of America, but nobody knew this better than Senator Kirchhoff.

The granting of a lease had been condemned by the provincial legislature and by the provincial press, and he desired also to enter his strong protest here.

Hon. Frank Oliver thought that the Opposition would have been doing themselves and the party more justice had they waited until the return which is in course of preparation, and will be before the house in the near future. So far as he and the department of the Interior was concerned, the province had no grievances in respect of swamp lands. As fast as surveys were carried out and the lands reported they were transferred to the provincial authorities, and in the last few days some thousands of acres had been transferred.

As to the province having lost, he contended that Manitoba had gained by the delay, for they were now disposing of the land at a higher price than they could have done. Eith regard to the shooting lease, it was not a very difficult thing for an ordinary country to be passed and the leasing of a lease stopped. There was no desire on the part of the government to abrogate any of the rights of the province, and as a matter of fact, the lease would not be issued, after the protest from the people of Manitoba. If it had been proposed to issue a lease to Senator Kirchhoff, for certain lands, that Senator Kirchhoff had already held from the government of the province of Manitoba, and it was supposed that in giving the lease to the Dominion Government, the province was acting in accordance with the policy and purpose of the province of Manitoba that such leases should be granted to that locality.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Festive Occasion That Marked the Opening of the Second Session of the First Legislature of Alberta—Members Welcomed to Capital

Government House has since the creation of the new province been the scene of several state social functions, but that of last night, marking the Opening of the Legislature, surpassed all these in brilliance and enjoyment.

While the occasion was attended with all the customary pomp and the distinction of a military and official atmosphere there was charmingly blended with this the spirit of true western hospitality and an individual sense of pleasure in it. Through the cheerful homelike reception rooms, in the drawing-room and billiard-room the guests passed in animated groups while from the orchestra stationed in the upper hall strains of music came and made an agreeable accompaniment to the mingled voices.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Bulvey received their guests in the first reception-room, each arrival being presented by the military aides, Captain Waite and Captain Harbottle. Each guest was received with that unaffected cordiality which has won for the Lieutenant-Governor and his consort an enviable reputation as host and hostess and is from month to month endearing them to their people.

All Alberta was represented in the brilliant assemblage, and while it was regretted that several of the members were absent because of the difficulties of the winter season, those who were warmly welcomed back to the capital by scores of friends. The speaker of the house will be shortly welcomed to the Esplanade, capital upon a more interesting mission—to bring to Alberta the new and improved uniform of one of Ontario's oldest families—was present congratulating congratulations from many friends and acquaintances.

The large number of elegantly present and the dash of vivid color lent to the scene by the names of the uniform were striking features of the evening. The dining-room, in which supper was served, was very attractive in its radiance of crimson shades lights and crimson flowers. Throughout the evening the guests assisted ably in providing for the pleasure of the guests.

Many handsome gowns were worn by the ladies present. Mrs. Bulvey was attired in a particularly handsome gown of broad satin in cascade and a rich cream color. A rich cream lace caught here and there with corage sprays of flowers of deep purple and blue, made an effective contrast to a costume of elegant simplicity. With this Mrs. Bulvey wore a white shawl with white and blue stripes and a diamond necklace.

Mrs. Finlay wore a gown of rich black silk with a gold giraffe and diamond necklace. Her dress was trimmed with jet garniture, diamond ornaments, and diamond ornaments in her artistically adorned costume.

Mrs. Rutherford wore a gown of rich cream lace with a rich cream and white garniture. Her dress was trimmed with white and blue stripes and a diamond necklace.

Mrs. Harcourt wore a gown of rich black silk with a gold giraffe and diamond necklace. Her dress was trimmed with jet garniture, diamond ornaments, and diamond ornaments in her artistically adorned costume.

Mrs. Finlay wore a gown of rich black silk with a gold giraffe and diamond necklace. Her dress was trimmed with jet garniture, diamond ornaments, and diamond ornaments in her artistically adorned costume.

While the ceremonies attendant upon the opening of the House were necessarily less formal and briefer than those in older provinces there was more than compensation in the spirit of eager interest that permeated the improvised Legislative Chamber.

In the various hallways below trim ranks of cadets, under the direction of their leader, Mr. H. A. Gray, made a splendid showing, quite in keeping with the buoyant spirit of youth that marks the new province everywhere in its unspoiled freshness.

With rifles in hand standing at salute, these hundreds of soldierly cadets lined up at the Lieutenant Governor's approach, as His Honor, wearing the dignified Windsor uniform and accompanied by his military aide and escort, passed up to the legislative hall to open the second session of Alberta's parliament.

In the hall the scene was a varied and interesting one. Shortly before three Mrs. Bulvey, accompanied by Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Finlay and Capt. Saunders, having arrived by carriage from Government House, was escorted to the hall, where seats for the Government House party had been reserved on the floor of the House. Mrs. Bulvey wore an exquisite gown of white satin, veiled with golden brown chiffon, embroidered with a yoke of soft white lace and with brown chiffon, richly embroidered. In this Mrs. Bulvey wore a white shawl with white and blue stripes and a diamond necklace.

Mrs. Rutherford wore a gown of rich cream lace with a rich cream and white garniture. Her dress was trimmed with white and blue stripes and a diamond necklace.

Mrs. Finlay wore a gown of rich black silk with a gold giraffe and diamond necklace. Her dress was trimmed with jet garniture, diamond ornaments, and diamond ornaments in her artistically adorned costume.

Mrs. Harcourt wore a gown of rich black silk with a gold giraffe and diamond necklace. Her dress was trimmed with jet garniture, diamond ornaments, and diamond ornaments in her artistically adorned costume.

When the Governor and his suite had come and gone, the opening prayer was read by Bishop Pinkham, the usual formalities of declaring the House open were proceeded with and then the Speaker, Hon. C. W. Fisher, in his stately robes of office, took his place in the chair from which he is to preside over the Alberta parliament for some weeks to come.

Directly in front of and below the Speaker's throne sat Mr. Cowell, the first Clerk of the House in the new parliament and formerly the predecessor of His Honor in the Maxx legislature, the oldest legislative assembly in the British Empire. On either side sat the Premier with his colleagues of the cabinet, and the members of the legislature.

In the large concourse of people in the main part of the hall it was difficult to distinguish faces, but some of those present were His Worship the Mayor and several members of the city council, the deputy minister and heads of the various government departments, Rev. Father Lacombe, the pioneer missionary, Rev. Dr. McQueen and Mrs. McQueen, Rev. C. H. Heustis and Mrs. Heustis, Mrs. McKenney, N. D. Beck, K.C., and Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Harcourt, Mrs. Short, Mrs. May, Mrs. Walker (Fort Saskatchewan), Mrs. Miss Woods, Miss McKenney.

The guests invited were as follows: Premier Rutherford and Mrs. Rutherford; Attorney-General Cross and Mrs. Cross; The Minister of Public Works, Hon. W. H. Dunning and Mrs. Dunning; The Minister of Agriculture, Hon. W. T. Finlay and Mrs. Finlay; Hon. C. W.
