

Aggies Beat Varsity Thirds

(Guelph, Oct. 19.—(Special).—That the A. O. College this year has the first team for the past fifteen years was proved this afternoon when the A. O. firsts defeated the University of Toronto thirds by 21 to 11. The heavy wind throughout the game was taken advantage of by the Aggies in their quarters. On the defensive they were like a stone wall, holding Varsity at one time when the latter was only one foot off the line. Herder, Madden and Webber starred for the Aggies. Herder's end runs for heavy gains being the spectacular feature, while his punting was the best seen here for years. The teams:—

O. A. (21) — Backs: Madden, Herder, Simpson and Henry. Quarter: McKelroy. Outsidess: Webber and Wilson. Middle: Brachwaite and Brown. Insides: Hare and Jackson. Scrimmage: Neelands, Davison and Dudgeon.

Varsity: (11) — Backs: Milne, Bryan and Smithson. Quarter: Dugan. Outsidess: Adland and Rankins. Middle: Jeffs and Wigle. Insides: Robinson and Miller. Scrimmage: Cockburn, Levy and McTavish. Referee: Squirrel. — Toronto Globe.

Mr. R. G. McDonald will Lecture in St. Mary's Hall, South Side, Wednesday, Oct. 30th, at 9.15. Doors open at 8.30. Admission 10c. Everybody welcome. Subject: "Temperance." Oct 26, 21

Struck in Head With Stone.

The habit of stone-throwing is becoming altogether too prevalent in the city and should be stopped, at least, on Sundays. Yesterday afternoon Albert Hollett, threw a stone at a companion named Wesley Watts, striking him in the head. A deep wound was inflicted and the boy lost a considerable amount of blood. The victim was brought to Dr. Anderson's Surgery where his injuries were attended to. The wonder is that Watts was not seriously wounded as he missed thrown was a large one.

Arrested Under Warrant.

Wednesday last the police were advised of the theft of a lot of piping, lead, etc., owned by Moore & Co., who were doing plumbing work at the General Hospital. The matter was reported to the police. Sergt. Mackay took up the case and charged a man with stealing the material. The party charged is said to have admitted the charge and we learn was prompted by the other to leave the city, but he would not. A summons was executed for the latter Wednesday but he quit the city Thursday. A warrant was then issued for him and was executed by Sergt. Mackay early yesterday morning and the man who had been up at Witless Bay was placed in the cells to await his trial to-day.

The New Coiffure for the Coming Season

There is a very decided change in the style of hair-dressing for the coming season, according to the leading coiffures. The hair must be dressed neither wide nor high, but in the simplest manner possible, showing the true shape of the head. It must not be assumed that the new "Le Casque" dressing will make the hairdresser's part any easier. On the contrary, this is the simplicity that conceals the greatest art. The shape of the face must be carefully studied, and the hair arranged to suit its outline. Scarcely any two women can adopt the same style of hair dressing, but with the necessary modifications, the new mode will be found becoming to the majority of types. The new style requires a quantity of hair in order to be effective, but natural deficiencies in this matter are easily remedied, and in arranging the new coiffure "extra" hair is almost necessary for the desired effect and contour. Not in many seasons has there been a prettier style than this "new" coiffure, which is already popular in France and London. One great advantage it has in that it is extremely youthful-looking.

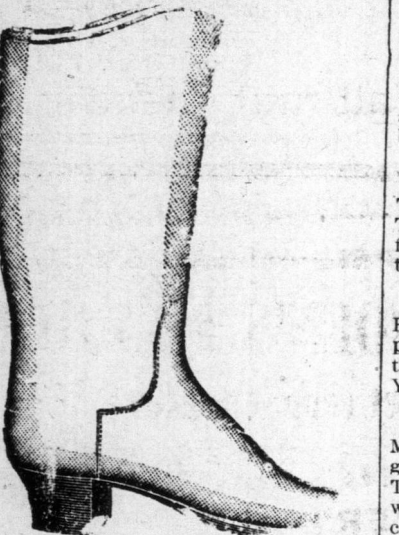

Again we prove it. We are proving every day that the best values are to be had at the NATIONAL STORES.—Oct 23, 11

Why Who's Who.

BY H. L. RANN.

Undoubtedly the most successful song bird which Italy ever sent to our shores, at $5 per seat, is Enrico Caruso, otherwise known as the Italian nightingale. Enrico is a trifle chunky for a nightingale, being built quite close to the ground and having a surplus of girth, but as a songster he is as lissom as a lean man in a bathing suit. He can throw his voice a long way without letting go of it, and then can pull it back in and use it all over again. This has enabled him to last longer than most singers, who usually give out at the beginning of the fourth act and have to resort to the sign language.

Caruso has a rich, high-spirited tenor voice, which nets him $2,500 whenever he lets it start. This voice is full of top notes, which he discharges at the tiaras and low necked gowns with great enthusiasm. There is also a loud, three-cushion-carom high C concealed in one end of it, and whenever Caruso takes this out and aims it at the second balcony, they have to reshingle the roof of the opera house.

As a breadwinner, Caruso makes the remainder of the foreign element look like the slide trombone in a barnstorming stock company. Whenever he needs a little ready money he sings something into the ear of a defenceless graphophone, which distributes his B-flat and tearful sob about the humble hearths of people who complain that they can't understand the words. Caruso has recently begun to operate in the English language, and succeeds in making it highly pathetic.

As an actor, Caruso does not cause anybody's hair to rise up and crinkle in unison. He is improving rapidly, however, and will finally get so that he can point his voice somewhere except in the direction of the family circle, when he is about to open a deep crevice in the bartone with a short sword.

Caruso does not associate with any of the Wagner music dramas, which he says are most effective when sung through a megaphone or interpreted to the accompaniment of a sneeze. Nevertheless he is the greatest tenor in captivity, and the critics have to give it to him.

Chimney Fires.

A slight fire occurred last evening at the residence of Mr. M. Hynes, at the corner of King's Road and Gower Street, caused by an accumulation of soot in the chimney. An alarm was sent in from box 24, but some other number registered, and as a result the Central, East End and Western Fire Companies turned out, the former went to George's Street. The mistake was quickly discovered and Central and East End fireman reached King's Road inside of five minutes. Their service were not needed, however, as the fire was out and no damage was done.

This morning the Central and East End Companies were called out in response to an alarm from box 227. This was another chimney fire in a house on Queen's Road. Their services were again unnecessary. No damage was done, and the alarm sounded four minutes after it was sent in.
