Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—The Daily News to-day publishes a report of what took place in the House of Assembly on April 4th. But it reads more like a concoction of the fair-haired cutie who is paid $450 to currycomb the overtures of the Premier and others.

I remember reading in the Evening Telegram of the following day an account of the vicious and insulting attack made by Sir Edward Morris on Mr. Clapp, the member for St. Barbe. Mr. Clapp's plucky fight for justice to his constituents in that isolated part of our Island Home was much appreciated at the time. Wholesome food for the St. Barbe fisherman and his family is infinitely more important to us than the preservation of a few straggling deer which may or may not sometime prove a cock shot for Morris's sports. But while the deer in St. Barbe must be protected for the "sport" that is the cause of the poor man at Port Saunders and his family can sicken and die of scurvy, or go to goal if some numb skull of a J. F. thinks he has broken or forgot the law.

Sir Edward Morris showed neither fair play, common sense nor pity for the poor when that evening under the lash of the party whip, with the aid of his other nineteen pawns, for senseless reasons he killed the proposed amendment to the Deer law. This change in the law was intended solely for the purpose of enabling the poor fisher-folk of St. Barbe District to get a supply of fresh meat for their hungry families during the rigorous winter months. Did anybody ever read a more nonsensical excuse than the Premier sets forth, and aided by the brute majority at his command he says to the River of St. Barbe "Fresh meat" not eat fresh meat, I must preserve it for my tourist sports?

His objection to the proposed change is (sic) that it would enable every sportsman in the country to go down into St. Barbe District after the 31st of January and between that date and the 15th of February exterminate the deer and every kind of game. What rubbish! Are we likely to find any one of the 19 stall-fed People's Party members who on the occasion in question voted to deprive the poor man of St. Barbe District of this only chance to get a supply of fresh meat, going off on a deer stalking expedition in northern Newfoundland between January 31st and Feb. 15th? Morris must be looking ahead some; probably to the year A. D. 2200, when some sportsman in the country would go to St. Barbe via the railway through Labrador for the February shooting.

The storm of indignation that this pitiless act on the part of the Morris Government has aroused has not ceased to blow—the waves roll on and the murmurs will not be hushed.

Read the following extract from an item in this day's Telegram ya 19 Tory placard—this is the way the roll on the country that Morris wants protected in midwinter from the city "sports."

"Mr. John Way and his three sons arrived here from Flower's Cove a couple of days ago to get their schr. which was moored here all the winter. They travelled 60 miles to Port Saunders to connect with the Meigie, and they say before they left snow storms were frequent, that it was very cold, that the harbours and ponds were still frozen over and that people were crossing the lakes with loads of wood."

Read and say upon what ground of principle as so-called representatives of the people can justify your vote against Mr. Clapp's amendment; upon what pretense do these men expect to escape the odium of their conduct in this connection. I know not. It was perhaps the most inhuman act they could do against those fellow creatures who reside on that lonely and desolate coast. Their names are on record. Remember them, boys, when polling days dawn.

Yours truly,
WESTERN SHOREMAN.

Tells How it Cured His Wife's Bad Sore

When Everything Else Had Failed.

Rev. Henry J. Munton, of Black-falls, Alta., writes: "My wife had a very bad sore foot, which it seemed impossible to get anything to heal. The sore would heal to a certain point and then fester again, and so on. I procured a box of Zam-Buk, and after persevering with this herb-balm for some time the sore was completely healed."

"We were so grateful for this cure, and Zam-Buk acted so differently to any other of the numerous remedies we had tried that I thought you ought to know of this case. I have since recommended Zam-Buk to several of my parishioners, and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zam-Buk proved of unexcelled value is told by Mr. N. L. Gerry, of Brandon, Man. He says: "I had my left foot run over by a wagon loaded with wheat. The foot was very badly crushed, and my little toe and the next toe were laid open. I applied Zam-Buk, and only had to miss work for two days. Zam-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to my work. In a very short time my toes were quite healed, and the foot is now as sound as ever, thanks to Zam-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, piles, blood poison, burns, scalds, eruptions, eczema, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld. Try Zam-Buk Soap, too, 30c.

Captain Bartlett Joins Stefansson Expedition as Commander of the Karluk.

New York, May 20.—Mr. Stefansson announces that he has engaged Capt. Robert Bartlett, Peary's captain of the North Pole ship "Roosevelt," to command his ship, "Karluk," with which he is to make the most elaborately equipped Arctic expedition that has yet put forth for scientific research and the quest of a vast possible Arctic continent of 1,000,000 square miles in the existence of which Arctic explorers have time and again declared their belief, and which Admiral Peary thought he had at one time seen.

Captain Bartlett left New York last evening immediately after the announcement of his command was made. He said that he had grown lonesome and homesick for the silence of the frozen north, weary of civilization, and eager to be off again and guiding his ship through the ice of the Arctic seas. So he hurried away to Ottawa, thence to go west to Esquimaut, British Columbia, where the 247 ton barkentine Karluk is now in dry dock, preparatory to the start of the expedition from Esquimaut about June.

With Capt. Bartlett went also two other members of the expedition. Henry Bencht, of Paris, anthropologist, and Fritz Johansen, the Norwegian zoologist of Stefansson's expedition. Two other members of the company are already at Esquimaut. Stefansson himself will remain here for two days more completing his arrangements. So large has his expedition grown, he said, that original arrangements have been quite outgrown, and instead of taking one party on one ship he will have to take two parties and two vessels. The second ship, he said to-day, would be selected from three now in northern waters.

Stefansson explained that while he would make every effort to find the vast hypothetical Arctic continent which he believes to lie north of Western Canada, north of Alaska and northeast of Siberia, his chief object would be to gather comprehensive scientific data about the vast unexplored area thereabout. Whether he finds land or not he expects to be gone until the fall of 1914 at the very least.

Captain Bartlett is a native of Newfoundland. Although he was Peary's second in command, the latter refused to take him to the North Pole.

Causing Annoyance.

Residents of Boncloddy Street ask us to state that nightly they are subject to great annoyance from boys and young men who congregate there. They kick in doors, break in windows, yell and blaspheme on the street which is turned into a bedlam. Sick people, especially, who reside in the neighborhood suffer and something should be done to put a stop to such conduct. The question of the adequate policing of the higher levels must soon be grappled with. Citizens are paying for the protection of Water Street, New Gower Street and one or two other streets but the taxpayers of the higher levels are utterly neglected in this respect. 'Tis time that such neglect were stopped.

We understand that His Excellency Governor Davidson has kindly offered to donate a silver cup each year during his stay in Newfoundland for rifle competition amongst the Brigades. He will also present medals to the members of the winning team each season. The different Brigade teams are now practising for their annual shoot which, so far as is known at present, will come off early in July. No definite date has yet been fixed.
