A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL.

The Banker.

I'd like to be a banker and be, or seem to be, the bulwark and the anchor of my community. Existence would be sunny if it were income meant from other people's money loaned out at 8 per cent. The banker has no troubles, the banker has a snap, for people bring their rubles and pour them in his lap, and thank him that he takes them to swell his shining store; the banker loans and makes them bring many rubles more. The banker's social standing is always up in G, he's on air commanding, a port of majesty; the banker's smiles are regal, and if he deigns you one, you're feeling like an angel until the set of sun. And should misfortune s i a m you till you are needing gold, the banker's frown will dam you, and knock your credit cold. The banker sits disburstin' the cash he doesn't own, and makes or breaks the person who drops in for a loan; he has more power than princes or tyrants ever shared, and potentes are quinces when they're with him compared. It's ill to win his rancor. It's good to gain his smile; who would not be a banker, behind a golden pile?

Healthy and Unhealthy Lighting

Gas, it may be said, vitiates the atmosphere. True. But it also helps to purify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not vitiate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:—
Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this amongst other reasons, that gas is being frequently substituted for the electric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson B. Hurry.
He would merely add that no member who had experience of their meeting room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been substituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Dudley, before the Society of Medical Officers of Health.
I have in my mind's eye, at the moment, a hall which, in the old days was lighted by gas, and in which a large audience could, with comfort, sit through an hour's lecture, or with pleasure through a three hours' dinner, but which with the march of civilization, had its illumination changed from gas to electricity, the latter being employed with all the latest refinements to effect the lighting under the best conditions, with the result that any large gathering within its walls leads to a state little short of asphyxiation.—Vivian B. Lewes, Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich.—nov8,14

Girl Does Not Know Her Name.

New York, Dec. 12.—Huddled on a bench in Stuyvesant Square last night, her clothing drenched by snow and rain, a girl about 16 years old, was found by Patrolman O'Connor of the East Twenty-second Street station. She was in a profound slumber, for it was fully five minutes before he succeeded in arousing her. And then she increased the puzzle of the situation, for when he asked her why she was stretched on a park bench, exposed to the cold and wet, she shook her head and said she had no idea how she came there.

"What is your name?" he asked. "I don't know," she answered. "Don't you know where you live—where your parents are?" "No," answered the girl. O'Connor took her to the police station. After an hour's questioning had led the police to the conclusion that her mind had become suddenly blank she was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Dr. Rutledge in the psychopathic ward questioned her in vain.

The strange girl is black haired, and has large, black eyes, and fine teeth. She is about five feet four inches tall and well formed. She wore a neat blue serge dress, black velvet hat, black shoes and stockings, a necklace of beads and a plaid winter coat. She had in one pocket a tooth brush and box of powder, bought in a Seventh avenue drug store, but the druggist there could give no information tending to lead to her identification.

A Photograph

Is always a pleasing and acceptable Xmas Gift, particularly so when it comes from the Studios of S. H. Parsons & Sons, corner of Water and Prescott Streets, whose work bears the Hall-Mark of excellence. You can have your photograph taken day or night, with up-to-date appliances we are independent of weather conditions. Sittings made up to and including Thursday, the 18th, will be finished by Xmas Eve.—dec13,14

MINARD'S LINTMENT CURES PILES DRUFF.

Schmidt Weeps Before Father.

Refused at First to Recognize His Parent.

New York, Dec. 12.—Hans Schmidt, on trial here for the murder of Anna Ammuller, fell on his knees yesterday afternoon in the District Attorney's office, kissed the hand of his aged father who has come all the way from Germany to try to save him from the electric chair, and in a flood of tears begged his forgiveness. Wednesday Schmidt refused to recognize his father.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schadler, Schmidt's sister, who made the trip from Germany with her father, was present at the meeting. Schmidt embraced her affectionately. For half an hour she and her father tried to soothe the prisoner, but he refused to be comforted and was still weeping when led back to his cell.

All the state's witnesses, except alienists, have testified and Schmidt's trial was adjourned until to-day to permit the District Attorney to confer with the alienists before putting him on the stand.

Schmidt dropped his mask of indifference yesterday afternoon long enough to laugh heartily when a witness testified that the Ammuller girl said she was going to marry a millionaire.

Joseph Eigler, an acquaintance of Schmidt, testified that he endeavored to prevent Schmidt from sending money to the girl to return to America from Germany a year ago.

"I told him," Eigler said, "if you send her money to come back you will end on the gallows." Schmidt said it was too late, that he had already sent the money.

"Did Anna ever tell you," asked Schmidt's lawyer suddenly, "that Schmidt's had told her he had been commanded by God to make a blood sacrifice of her, as Abraham intended to sacrifice Isaac?" Eigler replied in the affirmative.

ZYLE ,

A MARVELLOUS OINTMENT.

Wherever Zylex has been used it has quickly made its own reputation as a certain remedy for Eczema, Pimples, Rash, and other annoying skin diseases; while for Piles it has been equally successful, giving relief from the start, and curing some very severe cases. If you are troubled with any of the above, go to your druggist, get a box of Zylex, and use it faithfully. It does not matter how bad it is, or how long standing; it does not matter that you have used a dozen other things without getting sensible relief—Zylex delights to show its power where other remedies have failed. Begin using Zylex today—the sooner you start, the sooner you get relief. Price 50 cents a box at all druggists.—Zylex, London.

Western Banking Fleet.

The coming fishery season will usher several new vessels into the western banking fleet. Besides the new one to be commanded by Captain L. Inkpen of Burin, there are five other vessels under option and will likely be purchased for the south-west coast.

Many of the skippers are now engaging crews for 1914, and in view of the fact that men were scarce last year, big wages will now be offered to secure men for the additional fleet.

Obituary.

Mr. W. R. Stirling received a message yesterday from Toronto, announcing the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. George W. Gaden, which sad event took place on Tuesday, 10th inst., at the family residence, Toronto. Mrs. Gaden leaves one sister (Mrs. Hamner) and several relatives in this city to whom the Telegram extends sympathy.

WATER STREET.

On The Bottle.

Two doctors were having a holiday, and were amusing themselves by fishing for whiting off the coast of Deal.

They had fished for some time, when one of the doctors lost the sinker off his line. Being a man of some resource, and an old fisherman, he quickly filled a bottle with water, and tied it to the end of his line in place of the lost lead.

After a few seconds he felt a hard bite, and on pulling up his line, found a fat whiting on each of the two hooks.

"Hallo!" said his friend. "Twins this time, old man."

"Yes," rejoined the other; "and brought up on the bottle, too!"

INDISPOSED.—Mr. J. L. Slattery, Secretary-Treasurer of the Municipal Council, has been laid off from work the past few days, suffering from a heavy cold. His many friends will regret to hear of his indisposition.

Criminals

Hire Substitutes to Serve out Terms.

New York, Dec. 13.—The police today discovered a system whereby, they believe, minor criminals sentenced to short terms have been able to hire others to take their places in prison. An investigation was started when a pickpocket who had been started on his way to Blackwell's Island, December 1, was found walking about the city. It is said that many young men out of work during the winter are willing to sell their time as prison substitutes. So far police have not found where the substitutions are made.

Before The Falls.

He, his wife, and his wife's sister had started to see something of the world, and had got as far as Niagara. Directly they had engaged rooms at the hotel they set out to see the wondrous falls. As they walked along the two ladies became engrossed in an excited talk on the question of walking skirts, paying no heed whatever to the scenery.

"Aren't we getting somewhere near the falls, George?" said his wife at last, taking a look round.

"We are," said George. "In fact, they are only a few yards off, and I think if you would stop talking for a moment or two you would hear the thunder of the waters quite distinctly."
