A New Era for Ireland.

The trend of events in Ireland recently indicates that she is within reach of a period of comparative peace, the first essential to prosperity. The result of the elections so far received show plainly that by far the greater number of the voters were in favour of the Treaty and are determined to support the policy of President Cosgrave. More significant perhaps than anything else was the absence of excitement that prevailed throughout the election, in striking contrast to the wild scenes which were generally in evidence on such occasions in the past. It can be taken as an index of the respect for the authority of the Free State, and of the intention of the people to restore law and order.

It is possible that a few agitators may attempt to renew the disturbances that have set faction against faction and father against son for so long, and that have protracted the constitutional development that Michael Collins and others fought and died for, but the people have shown clearly that they are determined to have done with anarchy. In every part of the Empire and in America, Irishmen have voiced their approval of the new Constitution, and their lack of sympathy with those who would ruin Ireland's chances of proving to the world that she can and will govern herself. The Government too is prepared to deal summarily with reactionaries. In view of the measures that President Cosgrave is determined to enforce, and the apathy of Irishmen abroad towards his opponents, it is improbable that any revolutionary movement will be more than half-hearted or likely to meet with any measure of success.

No better expression could have been given of the world wide approval of the course of affairs in Ireland than the warmth of the reception extended to her representatives at the meeting of the League of Nations yesterday.

In this country Ireland and Irish affairs never fail to arouse interest. Many of our population trace their descent from an Irish ancestry—men who left the Emerald Isle in the dark days when famine, oppression and discontent threatened, and drove them from their shores to seek in the New World that freedom and liberty denied them at home. Newfoundland to-day shows many a landmark established by those hardy pioneers, who, once removed from the immediate surroundings of their former grievances, and brought into close touch with other settlers from England and Scotland, soon learnt, in common with the others, to realize their respective worth, and the necessity for harmony and co-operation.

We trust that a new era has dawned for Ireland, and that when once the South has beaten its swords into plowshares, and prosperity and content have been established, another accomplishment will be effected in the union of the North and South.

Fire Prevention Week.

COMMITTEE ARRANGING PROGRAMME FOR SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN.

A meeting was held in I. G. Hutchins' office yesterday afternoon at 3.30 for the purpose of making arrangements for the holding of Fire Prevention Week. This year a committee comprising members of the N.S. Constabulary Department, N.S. Board of Fire Underwriters and St. John's Municipal Council who were present, decided to hold the campaign this year between October 7th and 13th. In accordance with the programme, the following committees were appointed, chairman of the committee, and Councilor Outbridge, School Address; preliminary programme was outlined as follows:—Sunday, October 7th, Addresses by clergy in city churches; Tuesday, October 8th, Address to the Rotary Club; Wednesday, October 9th, Address will be delivered by citizens in the various city schools; Thursday, October 10th, Public demonstration by city Fire Department. The committee will meet again in due course to complete arrangements for the full programme. The following committees were appointed: Inspector General Hutchings, to arrange for Church Addresses; Councilor Outbridge, School Address; R. G. Ash, Advertising and Posters; Councilor Dowden, Newspaper Publicity. A full and definite programme will be advertised in due course. Fire Prevention Week, inaugurated by Inspector General Hutchings last year, did a great deal of good, and it is hoped that it will be even more successful this year.

Given a Six Months Sentence.

An elderly man, A. Davenport, who stated that he is a railroad man and came here from Philadelphia last May was given a sentence of six months with hard labor in the penitentiary by Judge Morris yesterday afternoon, for an act of gross indecency, committed Sunday week near the White Hills. He was arrested on complaint of Mr. George Ross who had been watching his actions with one of four boys with whom he was in company. Davenport offered no excuse for his misconduct. The boys who were called as witnesses stated that they had all been made drunk with a bottle of liquor owned by Davenport.

A Dog Causes Serious Injury to a Resident of Topsail.

A curious but painful accident occurred in Topsail on Saturday which will probably necessitate the removal of the patient to hospital. A motor car ran over a collie on Topsail Hill, and a woman who saw the dog's predicament ran to its aid and caught the animal in her arms. Immediately it seized her face in its jaws and sank its teeth in each of her cheeks. No effort of her could make the dog relax its grip and it was only with the greatest difficulty that those who ran to her help were able to succeed in separating the unfortunate woman. A little more consideration on the part of the driver, who did not even stop, a little more feeling for the suffering animal, and the injury to the woman would not have happened.

An Appeal.

The employees in the Railway, Steamship Dock and Express Service of the N.S. Government Railway have been characterized by General Manager H. J. Russell as follows:—

Now that the above services are being operated under Government control and local management, it would like to ask each individual employee to take a share in assisting me to carry on this work. The success or otherwise of this undertaking will largely depend upon the personal effort each employee is prepared to put forward in his work.

We must strive to give loyal and efficient service to our country. To encourage helpful co-operation in every department, as well as a strict determination to do the right thing at all times.

Let our motto be "SERVICE."

YOUR co-worker.

H. J. RUSSELL.

General Manager.

From the general approval expressed by the railway employees of Manager Russell in connection with his former services, we feel certain that his request for co-operation will meet with a ready response.

Good Judgment.

It is good judgment to select the correct face powder. No item of the toilet list should be more carefully chosen than the face powder. Unless it is just right its effectiveness is lost, and the purpose spoiled. The correct shades and the delicate tone of Three Flowers make this fragrant toilet requisite the choice of distinctive and particular ladies. You are judged by the toilet preparations you associate yourself with, and stylish and refined women know that there is no more distinctive face powder than Three Flowers.—sept11.11

I.O.O.F.

OFFICIAL VISIT OF GRAND MASTER.

Mr. W. A. MacKay, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the Maritime Provinces, I.O.O.F., who is visiting the lodges in this city, last night was officially received by Atlantic Lodge No. 1 and accorded a right royal welcome. On entering the Lodge he was greeted with the Canadian and Newfoundland Anthems, and later the first degree was exemplified in a pleasing manner.

Grand Master MacKay in his address, reported the Grand Lodge moving steadily and substantially, and that there being twenty-four thousand members now in this jurisdiction. All branches have increased in numbers, gained in material assets and advanced in the conception of duty. Reports from all sections are inspiring; there being no section within the whole domain in which serious apprehension for the future of Oddfellowship is not being clearly manifested.

The Oddfellows of the North American continent now maintain sixty homes for orphans, aged members and wives of deceased Oddfellows. Last year's report showed the value of the property to be $3,772,899.88; the cost of maintenance to be $1,283,559.53; and the number of residents 1,940. The latest institution is that opened at Picton, N.S., in July of last year. This project was pushed forward particularly by East Grand Master Craig, who is well known to Oddfellows in Newfoundland, through whose energies $150,000.00 was raised. The property of the late Lord Strathcona was purchased and renovated and is now in first class condition. What, perhaps, makes this institution particularly important to Newfoundland Oddfellows, is the fact that the first to enter it were five children from Exploits Lodge, Grand Falls. The mother and father passed away under peculiar and circumstances, and the family, which ordinarily would have been scattered to different homes, by the means of Oddfellowship, have been kept together, and will receive the benefit of a good education.

Mr. Mackay's address was followed with the closest attention, and in his closing words he urged greater effort, greater enthusiasm, and greater co-operation, so that success might crown the Order's efforts.

Mr. Mackay will visit Wabana Lodge I.O.O.F. to-day and special arrangements are being made for the brethren who will accompany him. A banquet will be given in the Grand Master's honor on Wednesday evening by the city brethren.—Com.

Magistrate's Court.

A 25-year-old domestic, belonging to Torbay, was arrested by the police at an early hour this morning on a charge of being a loose and disorderly person. She was allowed to go on the promise that she would forsake the city and return to her home.

A West End shopkeeper was up too being drunk, and breaking into his own store. An unusual occurrence. He was liberated.

The postponed hearing of the charge laid against the former letter carrier of the General Post Office, came before the magistrate this morning. Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., acting on behalf of the accused, intimated to the court that he was not yet ready to plead to the charges made against his client. Inspector General Hutchings, for the Prosecution, moved that the evidence of Detective Lee, one of the Crown witnesses, be heard, as he has to proceed to the West Coast on important business. Mr. Higgins consented accordingly, and entered a plea of "Not Guilty" in behalf of the accused. Detective Lee, in his evidence, stated that he had been instructed by the Department of Justice to search the home of the accused. The officer met the accused on August 31st, going his daily rounds, and told him he had a search warrant. The latter carrier directed Lee to his home and upon searching the accused's bedroom, a foreign letter was found crumpled up between two mattresses. Upon opening it the officer found that a piece of an envelope with the Post Office mark stamped thereon was enclosed. The letter was dated August 24th, from New York City, and was signed with love from The letter referred to was produced in Court and identified by the witness. The accused upon being questioned as to how the letter got there, made no reply. The further hearing of the case was adjourned until Monday next at 11 a.m.

Nfld. Poultry Association.

Last night's meeting was held in the Board of Trade Building. The guest of the evening was Mr. W. A. Mackay, St. John's, of the Dairy Branch of the Canadian Agricultural College of Truro, N.S., and an associate of Judge J. P. Landry, the Poultry expert of the College. President Williams, on behalf of the Association, gave him a hearty welcome and expressed the high esteem that Professor Cummings, Judge Landry and Mr. Mackay were held by those in this country who know of their great worth. The Association acknowledged the great help received from the institution represented by Mr. W. A. Mackay who was making his first visit to Newfoundland, and the Association asked him to convey their greetings to their old friends in Truro, and their thanks for generous assistance given freely by the Principal and staff of the College at all times. Mr. Mackay, who is visiting the island in his official capacity of Grand Master of the Oddfellows' Association, replied to the words of welcome from the club in a gracious speech and assured those present on behalf of the Principal and College staff that they were only too pleased to continue their assistance at all times. After cheers for Mr. Mackay, Judge Landry and Principal Cummings, the distinguished guest retired and the Association is looking forward to meeting him again.
