AYLMER GIRL SCORES WITH NEW PLAY

"Wilful Dorothy," Written and Staged by Miss Hilda Brown, Splendid Success at Trinity S. S. Entertainment.

Those who attended the Christmas entertainment given by the Sunday School of Trinity Anglican church last Friday evening, enjoyed a rare treat. Rev. Charles Miles, the rector, was chairman, and presided over one of the very best programs heard in Aylmer in a long time, consisting of drills, recitations, songs, etc., and an amateur play, entitled "Wilful Dorothy." A very pretty camp fire scene was staged during the evening, in which Miss Hilda Brown, appeared as a Red Cross nurse, and sang a cute little Irish song, "Mickie" and Master Jack Watts, also gave a well-rendered little song. The scene pictured a camp fire "Somewhere in France," and was most realistic. Recitations and readings were given by Masters Fred Love, George Lemon, and Miss Irene Reid. Master Price Watts, sang a very pretty solo, dressed as a French Chef, while six little girls executed what was termed "The Peppermint Drill." A very pretty number was a lullaby song by four little girls with their dolls. Accompanists for the evening were Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Brown.

The feature of the evening, however, was "Wilful Dorothy," which was written and staged by Miss Hilda

Brown, an active worker in the Sunday School. Every character was well sustained, and showed exceptional ability on the part of the amateur artists, who with Miss Brown must have worked hard to accomplish such results. The skit was very humorous throughout and kept the interested audience in an almost constant state of laughter. In the composition of the play as well as in staging it, Miss Brown shows exceptional ability and we have no doubt if she continues in this work, she is certain to make a name for herself. She also appears to be right at home on the stage, possesses a splendid voice and takes her part well.

We wish her success.

The following are the characters: Aunt Emeline, an old maiden aunt,

Constance Readman.

Dorothy, the pretty niece, Peggy Thayer.

Perkins (James.) The Butler, Leo Jones.

Oswald Ostermoore, a Social Service Worker, Morton Young.

Norman Wrong.

Percival Parkington, A City Boy, Harry Norton, Leo Jones.

Josiah Simpkins, an old man, Harry Gunstone.

Sarah, The Maid, Hilda Brown.

Each of these characters deserves special attention, and we are sure that if ever the play is repeated in Aylmer, there will be a full house.

Between the acts Messrs. Morton Young and Leo Jones entertained the audience with monologue skits.
