OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

WEATHER PROBS: Cool, comparatively.

It's a marvel to many why we do it. Goods like ours should bring more money, they say. They wonder how we can sell at such prices and yet make a profit. At this season profit is ignored on summer goods-here at any rate. It pays better to sell at cost or less than to shelve goods till next summer. We'd have to make room for them where we want the space for something else, and they'd likely be out of style a year from now. That's why we do it. It's a big slice to take off Shirt Waists like ours-but big slices have been removed from the cost of other articles as well. We have divided the balance of our stylish Waists into two lots-
