Marriage in Lent.
Regarding the marriage of Ethel Barrymore in Boston the other day, Bishop Foley, of Detroit, was asked if it were not strictly against the rules of the Catholic Church for members of that faith to be married in Lent. "The performing of a marriage is not, but the solemnization is," he explained. "A ceremony may be performed in a Catholic church, but no nuptial mass may be celebrated. It is probable that in this case the wedding was of a private nature and that the mass will be celebrated after Easter."

COUNCIL SPRINGS

A BIG COUP
And Force Pavements on People of Many Streets.

PECULIAR MOVE AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

Ald. Cooper Spoke Against the Proposal and Then Voted For It.

There will be no end of paved streets in the city if the council continues to keep up the pace they set at last evening's meeting, for at one fell swoop they decided on six blocks of permanent pavement, without the ratepayers having an opportunity to say, "By your leave."

When the report of No. 2 committee was considered, the council decided that an asphalt block pavement be initiated on Carling street between Talbot and Ridout streets, and an asphalt block pavement on Wellington street, between Queen's avenue and Dundas street, and sheet asphalt on Waterloo, Colborne, Maitland and Wellington streets, between Dundas and Queen's avenue.

Spoke Against, Voted For It.
Ald. Cooper objected to the initiation in his speech, but he voted for every clause in the report recommending the initiation.

Several attempts have been made to put down pavements on these streets, but the residents have always objected to it. There was one petition in against the initiation of the pavement on Waterloo street.

De W. J. Stevenson and several others were on this petition. No attention was paid to it whatever.

Ald. Garratt Hot For It.
Ald. Cooper moved that the recommendation of the committee be referred back to the council, with a view of hurrying the matter through.

"What is the use of sending it back?" said Ald. Garratt. "These streets are the property of the city. The council has recommended the only thing possible under the circumstances. They will petition against them all the time and no good will result. Put down the pavements."

"If the matter is sent back, there will be a horde of paving agents in the city, and the whole business will be held up," said Ald. Rose. "Something should be done to protect the pavements on Queen's avenue and Dundas street."

Believes in Initiation.
"I think the principle of initiation is right," said Ald. Saunders. "These pavements should be initiated, and the council should not be afraid of the property-owners along these streets."

Ald. Ferguson asked that the streets be voted on separately, as there were certain streets some of the residents were not convinced needed pavements. This was agreed to.

The Carling street pavement went through without an objection. The Wellington and Waterloo streets also passed unanimously.

There was one nay vote registered against street Colborne street. Ald. Ferguson voting against it.

Ald. Ferguson and Ald. Beattie voted against the Maitland street pavement. Ald. Beattie and Ald. Beattie voted against the Waterloo street pavement, but as the two-thirds vote was recorded the pavements will have to be laid.

Hospital Expenditures.
The sum of $5,000 will still have to be spent on the Victoria Hospital laundry and on improvements on the present institution.

On the motion of Ald. Ferguson, the legislature will be petitioned to grant the council permission to issue the sum of $5,000 debentures to complete this work.

Ald. Stewart said in this regard that the account for the building of the hospital was not overdrawn, but there was still standing to their credit the sum of $2,618.

The motion of Ald. Ferguson passed. A resolution of sympathy.

A resolution of condolence on the death of Mr. Nicholas Wilson was passed by the council by a standing vote.

It was also decided that the council attend the funeral of Mr. Wilson in a body.

The tenders for supplies for No. 2 committee will be held this evening at which there was some difference among the contractors as to the meaning of the tenders.

The Thames Boat Club applied for a lease of the river front, No. 1. The Thames Boat Club wrote regarding the dumping of sewage into the river, No. 2.

The residents of Waterloo street between Dundas street and Queen's avenue petitioned against a permanent pavement on that street. Filed.

EXHIBITORS MUST OWN ALL EXHIBITS

Shown By Them Says the Agricultural Committee of Western Fair.

At a meeting of the agricultural committee of the Western Fair Board held yesterday afternoon it was unanimously decided that all future exhibitions all exhibits in the agricultural classes must be the property of the exhibitor, and must be grown by him.

The time of placing exhibits was extended to Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, although all exhibits must be delivered in the building by Friday evening, Sept. 10.

The Grain Exhibit.
It is probable that the grain exhibits will be made in boxes this year instead of sacks as formerly. This plan will be carried out if satisfactory arrangements can be made. It was decided to add four sections in potatoes, two in field roots, and five in garden vegetables. Some changes were made in the rules governing the display of collections.

Vegetable Growers' Offer.
An offer of the Vegetable Growers' Association to show a fine display of roots was accepted.

Those present at the meeting were William McNeil (chairman), W. J. Reid, George McCormick, W. Talbot, London Asylum, J. W. Hunter, Col. McEwen, J. Murray, Wilton Grove; W. Trott, J. Crockett, Dorchester; G. Poole, and Secretary Hunt.

Manufacturers' Committee.
A meeting of the manufacturers' committee was also held, and the prize list revised carefully. Efforts will be made to secure many additional exhibits in the machinery hall this year.

Those present were R. A. Carrothers (chairman), George McCormick, W. McNeil, A. W. White, G. P. Avey, W. Hayman and Secretary Hunt.

Printing Committee.
A meeting of the printing committee will be held this afternoon and arrangements will be made for advertising the fair extensively.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held this evening at which all the recommendations will be considered and adjusted, so as to have them in shape for the board meeting on Thursday.

CITY MIGHT WELL SPEND $100,000

On the Parks of London, and to Beautify the City Says Howard E. Weed.

Howard Evans Weed, of Chicago, an authority on landscape gardening, who is giving a series of lectures in Canadian cities at the request of the Canadian Government, lectured to an interested audience last night at the Collegiate Institute, on "A City More Beautiful."

"I understand," said Mr. Weed, "that you intend to spend $100,000 this year in beautifying your city parks. If they were to spend $100,000, it would be money well spent. Generally a visitor's first impression of a place is the one he judges it by. Very frequently this is obtained from the railway stations. Few places offer more chances for improvement by a little care and money than the average railway station. A very small amount of money, a little taste and some taste will transform an unsightly station into a beauty spot."

Mr. Weed produced a number of pictures to illustrate what has been done in many places, and then continued:

Cemeteries as Parks.
"Our cemeteries should be the most beautiful parks we have. Generally, especially in larger places, they are chosen because of some natural beauty they possess. Very often this natural beauty is left to preserve itself and does so while the rest of the cemetery remains uncared for. A little attention given to the laying out of driveways, flower beds and to planting trees and shrubs, repays in a thousand ways."

Views of cemeteries were shown, and Mr. Weed pointed out the advantages of having curved driveways instead of straight ones. He strongly urged, wherever it was possible, to have waterfall effects, as nothing was more beautiful.

American Parks.
Mr. Weed spoke of some of the more widely-known American parks, and showed pictures of scenes in them to illustrate the best manner of laying out the shrubs and flowers. Tree pruning, he thought, was an art that few gardeners understood. The limits should always be cut back even with the tree trunk.

What Has Been Done.
In concluding, the speaker spoke of what had been done in many cities by societies who had undertaken to make their home cities more beautiful. Back yards had been cleaned out, unsightly billboards removed, old dilapidated places torn down, and often where it was impossible to remove the unsightly place altogether, it had been completely transformed by planting flowers, trees or climbing vines. This was done at a very small expense, comparatively, and the results had in every instance been most beautiful.

Mr. Weed made a strong plea for children's playgrounds, where they could see beautiful flowers and plants, and urged all parents to let their children do as much gardening as they possibly could, and to encourage this taste in them.

Teas grown at high altitudes on the mountain slopes of Ceylon, where the growth is slower and cultivation more careful than in the warm, humid climate of the valleys, are used in "Salada" Tea. High-grown tea like "Salada" is not only of a finer quality, but contains more of the essential oil in the leaf than valley-grown tea. This is easily proved by comparing a drawing of "Salada" Tea with any other.
