POINCAIRE TO CONFER WITH LORD CURZON

French Premier Agrees To Meet British Minister Saturday.

PREPARE FOR LAUSANNE

Paris, Nov. 13.—Premier Poincare, in a final effort to satisfy Lord Curzon's insistent demands for a conference preliminary to the Lausanne meeting, has offered to meet the British foreign secretary, either in Paris or Lausanne on Saturday.

The premier declares that such an interview could be arranged despite the appointment which he already has made for Foreign Minister Jaspard and Premier Theunis to Belgium here on the same date. Premier Mussolini, of Italy, it is said, would probably be present.

The British reply is expected tomorrow. The impression among those well informed is that the meeting, if held, will be in Paris.

The allied high commissioners in Constantinople have addressed a note to their respective governments urging the opening of the Lausanne conference as soon as possible in the interest of peace. At the French foreign office the situation in Constantinople is considered easier. It is understood the Turkish representatives there have adopted a more accommodating attitude.

British Await Answers.
At the present moment the British government is awaiting answers to its second and more insistent invitation to a preliminary meeting and the foreign secretary is understood to have been instructed to press the matter.

British officials emphasize the desire of the government, for a preliminary consultation does not mean that any difficulties have developed between the allies, especially between Great Britain and France. In fact, it is declared that everything points to complete accord on all the important considerations. The British point to recent occurrences in the Near East as disillusioning to the French concerning the attitude of the Turkish Nationalists. Incidents are cited of the recent desecration of the French cemetery at Smyrna, destruction of a French silk factory in Syria and the Turkish insistence upon limitation of the French sphere of influence in Syria and other parts of the Near East.

In insisting upon a preliminary conference, however, the British desire to reassure themselves on certain points and to draw up a program, thus being prepared for any eventuality at Lausanne.

REPORT SHAW LEAVES PROGRESSIVE RANKS

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—Rumors are current in political circles that Captain Joseph T. Shaw, M.P., for Calgary West, has withdrawn from the Progressive party as a result of the decision reached Saturday afternoon, according to the Free Press bulletin this afternoon. It is stated that Captain Shaw was one of the ardent opponents of national organization through action of the federal members, and also objected strongly to the "broadening-out" policy. Captain Shaw, during the election, ran as an independent, and did not attend previous conference of the Alberta Progressive members.

WOMEN CONDEMN THEIR OWN SEX

Detroit Pastor Bases Sermon On Replies He Received To Question.

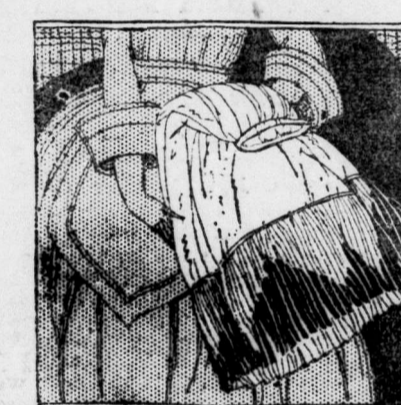

Detroit, Nov. 13.—A sermon quoting women who condemned their own sex was preached Sunday night by the Rev. George Edgar Gullen, pastor of West Grand Boulevard M. E. Church. He quoted Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, suffrage leader, as writing recently that "University and college-trained women disregard their marriage vows more than any other class of women, and their immorality is increasing all the time."
The sermon was the outcome of a conversation between the pastor and the grandmother of ten men and women. The grandmother, active, terribly in earnest, aroused by what had come to her attention concerning the conduct of women, particularly since they won the vote, read the pastor a lecture.
"We are looking to you to be talked to plain, for our own soul's good," she said. "We are looking to you to do this. Specifically, we are looking to you to do it, and if you don't do it, we'll find a woman preacher who will. A woman will speak frankly and fearlessly to us of our own sex."
From Their Own Sex.
Then Mr. Gullen asked his congregation, men and women, to send him letters, telling what is the matter with women today. He received many replies from men, he said, but they were gallant souls. They said that nothing was the matter with women, as far as they could observe.
"Too damnably intelligent," was the phrase one college-trained woman applied to women "who have the beautitudes as their model in the home, but leave piety behind in politics."
"The modern woman wants too much," another wrote. "Not that she should not have the vote, or a chance to earn her living, but these things do not satisfy her. She demands individual freedom, too many rights."
"There is too much restlessness in the home," said another. "Women today, not only those who are out in the business world, but those who are in the home, are dissatisfied with things as they are. They are peevish out in thought if not in words or deed, for things beyond the home."
"We home women feel the unfair advantage that the business woman has over us," wrote another. "That is due to the attitude of certain husbands who do not appreciate the economic value of a wife who rears children and keeps the home as compared to the earning power of the woman in business or professional life."
Another wrote, "The surest way to throw your husband down is to carry some meddling woman."
"Every preacher knows that women regret giving up their maiden names when they get married," Mr. Gullen said. "I have never experi-
