act, making provision for the union label, which would place it on the same footing as other registered trade-marks. At its last three sessions the Commons unanimously passed the bill, but in each instance the Senate threw it out.

A meeting of the General Managers association was held in Chicago last week at the instance of the Pennsylvania company. The shortage of cars and the congested condition of traffic in general was discussed and laid to the inefficiency of the service rendered by employees. It was generally agreed that a raise in wages of employees—now poorly paid—would do much toward stimulating to better work, which in turn would help to relieve the congested state of traffic.

The Chronicle of Kobe, Japan, of December 11 contains a criticism of a letter written by David Falconer of this city to the London Times.

"The evidence that Asiatic labor competes unfairly with white labor is very inconclusive," says the Chronicle. "It certainly competes with the inefficient inconclusive," says the Chronicle. "It certainly competes with the inefficient white labor—the "deadheads" which are always in evidence in the colonies, but with efficient, trained white labor it—at present; at any rate—has no chance."

The writer confines himself entirely to the effect Asiatic labor has upon the class it comes directly into competition with, and claims that the agitation against Asiatic immigration owes its origin to a desire on the part of workingmen to keep the rate of wages high. Objections to Asiatics on other grounds is ludicrous and worth discussing.

All meeting of the boss barbers of Montreal was held last week and protests entered against measures which have raised the wages of journeymen barbers of Montreal. An act of the legislature compels the employment of qualified barbers, and requires barber shops to be kept in a sanitary condition. Journeymen barbers are taxed $2 a year, but this they do not object to pay for the reason that their wages are from $1.50 to $2 a week higher than they were before the passage of the act. efore the passage of the act.

Two men broke into the rooms of the Plasterers' union, Atlantic Gity, tore the 'American flag from the wall, saturated it with oil, and set it on fire. The charter of the union was stolen and the frame thrown from the window.

The rearrangement of the working agreement in the engineering trade which was made at a conference of the Federation of Employers and the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, recently held in London, England, is now being submitted to the men for approval. The agreement is that which was drawn up at the close of the great strike a few submitted to the men for approval. The agreement is that which was drawn up at the close of the great strike a few years ago. It has been found to work very well, especially the provisions for avoiding and settling disputes, and since it came into operation there have been scarcely any stoppages of work in the trade. The alterations made at the recent conference were in matters of detail only and the agreement is still practically what it has always been. The conference was amicable in every way and the revised agreement is almost certain to be accepted by the men. It has already been accepted on behalf of the employers. The fact that it has been so thoroughly successful is regarded by those interested as a very striking example of the value of conciliatory methods in industrial disputes.

The delegates to the Federated Trades council of Montreal from the new Independent Lasters' union objected to the admission of delegates from the International book fashing their seats and the Independents leaving the council. It is said that the Judgenedian their matter was settled by the delegates of the Archbishop of Quebec and the Montreal Manufacturers' association.

Officers of the International association of Machinists report their strike has very largely succeeded in establishing the nine-hour rule in the trade. They claim the settlements reached have given 60,000 machinists a shorter work day; 11,000 others are affected by compromises reached, and 75,000 machinists will receive an average of 25 cents a day increase in wages.

It would appear from returns turnished by the customs department that the increase of the head tax on Chinese from $50 to $100 is checking the influx of this class of immigration. In 1900 there was paid in head tax about $148,000, while this year the amount collected from this source net less than $76,000, despite the fact that the price per head is double. The number of Chinese arriving at this port in 1901 was 761, of which 728 paid the head tax. During the same period 1,127 Chinese departed.

At a strike in one of the large cities the men hired a man with a hand organ to play in front of the factory in order to attract attention of the public to the non-union concern. The man with the organ played just one tune: "You!" Get All That Is Coming to You." then he was arrested. At the trial, the judge who was once a workman himself, asked the musician to play a tune in order to judge of his ability. The man with the organ complied, playing. "I'd Leare My Happy Home for You." He was discharged and rendered his thanks by reeling off "You're the Nicest Man I Ever Knew."—Ex.

An agitation has been started to induce the 19 cigarmakers' unions of Candala, with an aggregate membership of 1,500, to co-operate in a "Union Label League," with the purpose of driving non-union cigars from the market. It is proposed to raise funds by a special assessment of 15 cents per capita per month. This would give $2,340 annually, which, with $1 per capita tax from the International would total $3,640 annually. It is proposed to emplay an agent to travel all over Canada to distribute advertising matter and address meetings with a view of booming union label cigars.

The committee of the Toronto Trades and Labor council which made a vigorous fight to have the Senate of Canada allow the bill from the Commons legalizing the union label to become law, is preparing for another attempt and appealing for financial aid from the trade
