INGLISVILLE,

NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTY.

She is expected to be ready for sea Thursday or Friday.

The frost on the 9th inst. was of a very severe nature in this neighborhood and by it a lot of damage was done to potatoes and beans. Other young plants suffered.

Mr. Budd Hicks has in his possession an exceedingly fine colt, and we are informed that he has returned to good offers for its purchase.

Dr. Stella Messenger, after her arduous labors in Haiffax, has returned home for a well-earned rest. Although Dr. Messenger, toward the completion of her numerous examinations felt somewhat indisposed, she is now, we are glad to say, fully recovered and intends soon to leave for the Northwest in which part of the Dominion.

The CLEMENTSVALE.

CLEMENTSVALE.

Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Balcom drove to Digby on Thursday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Little.

Miss Margaret Pyne went to Bridgetown on Saturday and returned Monday. Miss Mand Millett is also spending a short time among her friends there.

The community was shocked and saddened on Sunday morning to hear of intends soon to leave for the Northwest in which part of the Domimon she has decided to cast her lot. Her many friends wish her all possible good fortune in her venture, and with her many sterling qualities, combining a disposition naturally cheerful, they feel confident of her winning new laurels.

Mrs. Eliza A. Hicks, who has just passed a birthday making her 88 years of age, is indeed a wonderful old lady. Not only is she in full possession of her faculties, but she is exceedingly smart and active for one at her advanced age. For her own and for her family's sake we hope that she will continue in good health and te spared for many seasons to come.

In this part of the community there appears to be little diminution in the planting out of orchards. Although the farmers have their land well covered with trees, it is good to note the breaking up of new land for the planting the farmers have their land well covered with trees, it is good to note the breaking up of new land for the planting out of orchards. Although the farmers have their land well covered with trees, it is good to note the breaking up of new land for the planting out of orchards that one will be greatly missed. The heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended to her family.
