ACCIDENT NEAR L'ORIGNAL.-Intelligence reached this city, on Saturday morning, of a most melancholy occurrence near L'Orignal, on the Ottawa, on the night of Thursday, the 24th inst. The Mail Stage, from Montreal to Bytown, when crossing the ice near L'Orignal, was driven into a deep hole in the river, owing to the driver having mistaken the track, and the passengers, two in number, were drowned, being unable to extricate themselves from the stage, and carried under the ice. The following extract from a letter, dated L'Orignal, for which we are indebted to the Register of the Exchange News Room, furnishes the details of this melancholy catastrophe:-L'Orignal, 25th Nov.

"Last evening, about twelve o'clock, as the Mail Stage was been sing from Grenville to Bytown, and in attempting to cross the Ortawa, nearly opposite Mr. Hartwick's wharf, in Longueuil, the accept missed his way, and drove into a hole, and, shocking to relate, the passengers, two in number, were drowned. The driver managed to keep himself above the water until some persons came from L'Orignal, a distance of about a mile and a half, who reached the spot in time to save him. The Stage, together with the Mail and one trunk and several parand a half, who reached the spot in time to save him. The Stage, together with the Mail and one trunk and several parcels, were this morning taken out of the nattr. The bodies of the two passengers were sought for in vain, having floated off with the current, the water being about sixty feet deep. The way-bill was discovered under the ice; the names of the two passengers were Mr. Cowan and Mr. R. Cumming, both from Montreal to Butcom." Montreal to Bytown."

Mr. Cumming, we believe, was a near relative of Mr. Aumond, of Bytown. The other sufferer, Mr. James Cowan, was a young man, from Carlisle in England, by trade a Compositor. He left his home this autumn, arriving in Canada by way of New York, and had just obtained an engagement in the Office of the Gazette, in Bytown, which he was on his way to fulfil School Meetings are to be held in each School Section, on Escond Tuesday in January, at 12 o'clock noon.

Three Trustees are to be then chosen, by the majority then and there.

ACCIDENT .- We have to add another to the long list of melancholy incidents by which this season seems to be distin-guished, in both sections of the Province, beyond any other of cent date. On Christmas day last, the wife of a respectable habitant of St. Michel, named Roy, came to visit the Parish Church, and with her son of about ten years of age. By some isfortune, he strayed from his mother's side, and was missed by her between five and six o'clock in the evening. Instant search was made, which continued over Saturday and Sunday without intermission—the police of the city rendering all the aid in their power. On Monday evening, the dead body was found in the bush near St. Leonard's. There was no living testimony of the precise nature of his fate, but from the appear ance and position of the corpse, it was pretty evident that he had laid down overwhelmed with cold and fatigue, had taken off his coat to cover his head and form a pillow, and had died in the act of rubbing his fingers with snow, probably to preven frost-bites. It is presumed that the poor little fellow on mis-sing his parent, had directed his steps to the Quebec Suburbs, and not taking the turn to the left at the proper place, had wandered along the Long Point road until exhausted. It is only wonderful that along a district so thickly peopled with amilies of his own origin, he did not seek shelter in a house .-But we can speak from our own experience, and that of others, that if past the usual hour of retiring to rest, which is early, it requires much more courage and physical strength than a child of that age could be expected to possess, to call at a Canadian house, for the inhabitants, one and all, have an abominable cus tom of turning out their curs to range at night, and they fly at every one who presents himself. It is strange that a race so remarkable for hospitality and good feeling, should continue a custom very necessary to their ancestors when they were nightly liable to be scalped by the Iroquois, but quite unnecessary now,

The Preshyterian Church is also a neat building of frame-work. The minister and congregation have adhered to the Free Church party. There is also a small Methodist meeting house, belonging, we believe, to the Primitive body.

Within the town are two Common Schools, both of which are respectably conducted. It is much to be desired that these could be united, so as to form one respectable academy. THE RECOGNITION, OR THE REGENADE LIEUTENANT. A TALE OF MONTEREY .- A few years ago, when there was a considerable military force stationed at Fort Leavenworth, a young officer, whose talents and integrity had secured the unbounded confidence of the Government and his superior officers, so as to obtain for him the office of commissary and paymaster at that station, appeared before the commander of the garrison with the complaint that he had been robbed. He declared that his pocket book had been taken and chest had been broken open, and a large amount of his own and of the Government funds taken therefrom. When asked whom he suspected, he said that his 1st sergeant had disappeared, and as he had placed great confidence in him, and allowed him free access to his om, he strongly suspected that he was the thief.

The colonel immediately ordered that several officers and men to take different routes and pursue and arrest the fugitive sergeant. As he felt greatly relieved by the information communicated, he remarked to the private that he would take a bye-path and ride over to a grocery in the neighbourhood to buy some presents for the men. In the meantime he ordered the soldier to return immediately to the fort. Accordingly they parted, taking opposite courses. Lieut. But lieutenant T. could not you shall see which is the confessed that he had been bribed be found. The sergeant then confessed that he had been bribed lieutenant T. to desert and take upon himself the infamy which justly belonged to the lieutenant himself, who was a defaulter to the Government, and wished to cover his crime by the alleged robbery of the sergeant. That he had given him two hundred dollars and a horse to fly from the fort, which, after a severe conflict with conscience, he at last consented to do, but that before he had gone many miles his horse broke down and he was thus overtaken and arrested. There were few persons who would believe this ingenious story of the sergeant, and the fact that he had committed a serious crime, though perhaps not the one he was charged with, prevented the few who believed his story from interfering in his behalf. He was accordingly delivered over to the officers of institute and officers of institute a penitentiary for seven years, where he now is.
