

The balance sheet

In 1988, Canada recorded a trade surplus in an increasingly competitive trading environment. The value of its merchandise exports reached $138.1 billion and its imports, $131.7 billion for a surplus of $6.4 billion, compared with $8.9 billion in 1987.

Canadian Merchandise Trade — 1987 and 1988 (C$ billions)

