

- stand operating costs, including janitorial and guard service and all utilities except telephones for individual participants;
- a co-ordinated publicity program, that may include press releases, brochures, video presentations, promotional items, advertising and media interviews;
- return economy airfare for not more than two company representatives.

The participant is responsible for all other costs including the hook-up of demonstration equipment and the employment of individual interpreters and staff.