

- rie horse-fly; forks of the Platte; want of wood; swiftness of antelopes; climate; thousands of buffalo; Badgers; prairie dog; interesting bluffs; old castle; the chimney or beacon; an alarm; Ogallallah Indians, their lodges; Black Hills. 41

CHAPTER IV.

- Black Hills; day of indulgence; buffalo dance; the desire of Indians for instruction; met the chiefs in council; re-commenced our journey for rendezvous; anthracite coal; species of wormwood; Red Butte; traces of grizzly bears; geology; Rock Independence; Rocky Mountains; perpetual snow; valley through the mountains; "thunder spirits" gone; an alarm; waters of the Colorado. 66

CHAPTER V.

- Arrive at rendezvous; trappers and hunters; four Indian nations; Flatheads and Nez Perces, no reason why so called; surgical operations; an interview with the Flathead and Nez Perce chiefs; their anxiety for religious instruction; return of Doct. Whitman; Shoshones and Utaws; mountain life. 76

CHAPTER VI.

- Part with my associate; arrive at head waters of the Columbia; kindness of the Indians; narrow defile; geology; Jackson's Hole; wild flax; trappers go out on a hunt; mountain prospect; Trois Tetons; danger from affrighted buffalo; Pierre's Hole; volcanic chasm; children on horseback; interesting worship with the Indians; burial of a child; scarcity of food; a timely supply; Salmon river; expected battle; geological observations; scene of mourning. 82

CHAPTER VII.

- Salmon river and mountains; chimneys; forest trees, new species of pine; geology; sulphur lake; a rare animal; new species of squirrels and pheasant; came to the Lewis branch of the Colum-