

THE BIG CIRCUS IS IN TORONTO

Four Performances at Dufferin Park For Today and Tomorrow.

MAMMOTH INSTITUTION

Sensational Features Have Been Secured From All Over the World.

THE PARADE ROUTE

Leaving the circus grounds at Dufferin Park at 10 o'clock this morning, the parade of the Barnum and Bailey circus will go down Brock avenue to College street, to Spadina avenue, to Queen street, to Simcoe street, to Wellington street, to Jarvis street, to Bloor street, to Brook avenue and back to Dufferin Park.

While the circus will give two performances tomorrow, Friday, afternoon and evening, there will be no parade in the morning.

Five special trains of circus paraphernalia reached Toronto early this morning. The animals and property were detained and taken to the show grounds at Dufferin Park, where preparations for the performances to be given today and Friday were strenuously carried out. The interest of both old and young grows manifest. The coming of the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth insured a joyous holiday. The "Big Show" is now making a farewell tour before sailing for England, where it will open its European season in London.

This mammoth institution is the recognized leader of all arenic amusements. Starting its season each year in the colossal Madison Square Garden, New York City, it gathers from the farthest corners of the world all the interesting, entertaining, amusing and edifying features which diligent pursuit and unlimited means render possible.

This same performance is taken on tour exact in every particular as given at Madison Square Garden, not the slightest detail being omitted. The program for the present tour surpasses all previous efforts to attain the absolute; the vast crowds which thronged the immense garden were warm in their approval, the newspapers without exception pronouncing the performance by far the most satisfying ever witnessed in New York.

This year's performance commences with a dramatic spectacular pageant entitled "Cleopatra." It tells in pantomimic gorgeousness the story of Egypt's beautiful queen meeting with Marc Antony. This spectacle is given with a cast of 1250 characters, 700 horses, elephants and camels, a grand opera chorus of 300 voices and 350 dancing girls.

The sensational features of this year will be the Mikado troupe of Royal Japanese acrobats and jugglers; Josephine, the Icelandic Glimmer-wonder; Miss May Wirth, the beautiful Australian circuswoman, whose achievements in acrobatic ring stand out in strong contrast with all previous efforts. The oldest experts in matters of equestrianism simply gasp and marvel at the feats accomplished by this young girl. Without also a baseball club, composed of elephants, playing the national game to the delight of old-time fans.

Among the artistic features are Cliffe-Berzac, presenting their pony and donkey circus; the Weiss troupe of acrobatic artists; the Flying Neapolitan, in their sky-high flights; the Dekeos troupe of Hilarity acrobats; Lupeta Perea, queen of high trapeze. The world's most famous equestrians, including Fred Derrick, who has been aptly named the "Apollo Belvidera of the Circus Arena"; John Ducander, in a delightfully entertaining exhibition of equestrianism; Orrin and Victoria Daventport and their beautiful horses in an up-to-date barback and padding exhibition; Charles Siegrist, who turns somersaults from the back of an swiftly moving horse to the back of another moving horse; Ella Bradna, presenting a distinctly unique act of equestrianism; the Georgetty troupe, European equestrians; the Schavoni troupe, a balancing novelty, and the ten Viennese in a most captivating aerial performance; high up in the canvas domes these ten humans (mostly women) fly from perch to perch with the ease and grace of forest birds. The largely augmented menagerie contains many rare specimens of the jungles.

The Barnum and Bailey free street parade, which is said to rival the oriental splendors of the Delhi Durbar, will leave the show grounds at ten o'clock this morning.

MAJ. VANSTRAUBENZIE FOR R. M. C.?

KINGSTON, June 18.—(Special.)—Rumor says that Major C. Vanstraubenzie, son of the late Col. Vanstraubenzie, is likely to succeed Col. Crow, as commander of the Royal Military College.

3600 FEET

An average sad iron with holder weighs five and three-quarter pounds, and the heat will last from three to five minutes, depending on the dampness of the goods to be ironed, save, average four minutes. Take a twenty-foot kitchen with the stove and ironing board on or beside sides of the room. You make thirty trips an hour, carrying five and three-quarter pounds each time. In six hours you have carried ten hundred and thirty-three pounds and walked thirty-six hundred feet. Then you wonder what makes you tired.

A Gas Iron eliminates both the mileage and the tonnage. You simply attach the tube to a fixture, light it up, and you can do the ironing without moving from the board. A large ironing can be done for ONE CENT. You can have one installed for $3.50. Being demonstrated at

BRITISH CABINET MINISTERS MISTAKEN

Cave, Unionist, in behalf of the opposition, who brought about the debate, went no further in his censure than to express the regret of the house at the transactions of the ministers and the lack of frankness displayed by these towards the house.

By expressing their regret, thereby agreeing with the resolution, the two ministers spilled the guns of their bitterest opponents, who regarded the case as an opportunity to make political capital. Quite recently, at the trial of Cecil Chesterton, on a charge of criminal libel in connection with the government's wireless contracts Sir Rufus Isaacs insisted that his conduct had been perfectly correct.

A Party Truce. This coming controversy ending to a fierce controversy was apparently the result of a truce between the party leaders to protect the good name of parliament. The Liberals were threatening if attacked unreasonably, to resurrect all the buried shortcomings of the Conservative ministers—Hicks-Beech's sale of Salisbury Plain to the government for a marketing ground; the Chamberlain family in the Kynoch armament works during the African war, and directorships held by other ministers in firm making contracts with the government—from almost forgotten graves.

Two more different types than the minister's secretary before the bar of the house, could not be imagined, Sir Rufus Isaacs, with clear cut scholarly and ascetic features, and the low-toned voice of a priest; David Lloyd George, whose aristocratic look upon contemptuously as "the Welsh solicitor," and as always theatrical and emotional.

The attorney-general's statement of the case was like that of a judge on the bench. He emphasized his desire to take all responsibility for tempting the chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord Murray of Elbank into the affair. Lloyd George left out the fact that Chancellor Lloyd George could not refrain from denouncing the journalist who had spread rumors of corruption.

"Altho the charge of corruption has been exploded, the deadly afterdamp remains and the noxious fumes are poisoning the blood of the people now engaged in considering the minor charges." "I am conscious of having done nothing to bring any stain on the honor of the ministers of the crown. If you will, I acted thoughtlessly, I acted carelessly, I acted mistakenly, but I acted innocently, openly, honestly. That is why I am content to place myself with confidence in the hands, not myself of my political friends, but all the members of this great assembly."

Lord Cecil's Taunt. The two ministers had collected their papers and retired from the scene of the drama, there came an anti-climax. Lord Robert Cecil, who has led the minority report of the investigating committee censuring the ministers, created a small sensation by replying to Chancellor Lloyd George's statement of the case to make the case against the ministers as bad as possible, saying: "If I wished I could have made a finer, a finer, a finer report. I could have said a great many more things, and I am quite ready to tell any member privately of some things I rejected because I did not consider that the evidence justified me in putting them before the house or the country."

Leo Chlozza, Mincey, Liberal, shouted: "You ought to state them."

Lord Robert's Challenge. "I do not think it fair to state in public things which there is not enough evidence to justify."

Mr. Mincey: "Mr. Speaker, the noble lord has made them a matter of inuendo."

The Speaker: "The honorable member is not entitled to interrupt because he does not agree with the noble lord."

Stanley Owen Buckmaster, Liberal, moved as an amendment that the house should express its reprobation of the false charges of corruption. Sir Frederick Banbury, Unionist, representing the City of London, denied that the minority report was biased.

Tribute to Isaacs. The Rt. Hon. Alfred Lyttelton referred to the early bankruptcy of Sir Rufus Isaacs as a stockbroker, otherwise, he said his career had been of the highest honor.

The Rt. Hon. H. L. Samuel, postmaster-general, whose name was linked with those of the attorney-general and the chancellor of the exchequer in the earlier newspaper stories, repeated his denials of any dealings in Marconi shares.

Interest is focused on the speeches of Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, tomorrow.

INQUEST WAS ADJOURNED.

After the empanelling and swearing in of the jury last night to enquire into the death of W. J. Lester, who was electrocuted while working near some wires on the roof at the rear of the Butcher's Supply Co. on Dundas street Tuesday morning, Coroner Singer adjourned the inquest until June 26.

MEXICAN TREATY SOON TO LAPSE

United States Will Not Renew Arbitration Agreement, Which Would Constitute a Recognition.

Special to The Toronto World. WASHINGTON, D.C., June 18.—On June 28th, the arbitration treaty between the United States and Mexico will expire. Secretary of State Bryan said it would not be renewed at this time, as renewal would constitute a recognition of Mexico as a constitutional government, and that the United States is not yet ready to do so.

Secretary Bryan said that no action would be taken for some time, looking to the renewal of the treaty. He said the renewal of the treaty would some day be taken for some time, looking to the renewal of the treaty. TO PROBE DEEPLY COLLINGWOOD SHOOTING

It and said that he was going to smash it up. He had told him not to do so, and the husband then gave it to him. "Did you see any shells?" he was asked.

"No; but later Constable Johnston picked up a shell from the table," he replied. "What did the Calbacks say with regard to the rifle?"

"That it was on the table, and that the little boy was standing beside the table, and that he had shot the mother." "Did you see the boy?"

"Yes, in bed, crouching at the back." "Where did he get the rifle?"

"It was on the table when I went to bed, and I don't know where he got it." After the shooting he found the rifle in the boy's hand. This was in contradiction to the grandfather's statement, which was that he had found it on the table. The crown attorney at last made the witness admit that he had given the boy the rifle to play with before he went to bed.

The coroner commented on the publication of the post-mortem examination in the newspapers before the calling of the inquest, and stated that the witnesses to this were given an opportunity to adjust their evidence to the facts disclosed.

Tommy Ravas Again. "I've been in the council for a number of years, and I've never had a mayor who conducted business in so irregular, unbusinesslike and unsafe a manner as Mayor Hocken has," stormed Controller Church, taking advantage of a clause in the code of control report to back up the chain of editorials in yesterday's Telegram.

"Mr. McNaught was in conference yesterday with Mayor Hocken on the purchase of the Toronto Electric Light property, and Mr. McNaught does not represent the provincial hydro," Controller Church declared.

"Mr. McNaught is a member of the provincial hydro commission," Mayor Hocken stated. "Yes, but he does not represent the commission," Controller Church retorted.

"Tommy is doing The Telegram's hollering," remarked an alderman, in a stage whisper. "As you see the three representatives of the people who have been conferring with Sir William Mackenzie on the matter of purchasing the street railway electric property, and I have only been doing my duty," said Controller O'Neill. "If Controllers Church and Foster have been excluded from those conferences it is their look-out."

Ald. Hubbard gave a tirade against engaging experts to report upon anything, and he was egged on by Ald. McBrien. "We're asked to go it blind and I won't do it," Ald. Hubbard thundered and he growled storming against the appointment of valuers. "These members talk baddish. The experts recommended have proved themselves fully qualified to value the properties. We are responsible for are a clean up private ownership of public utilities, and if the price proposed by Sir William Mackenzie is proved reasonable, we should not be afraid to purchase."

Controller McCarthy made a forceful appeal for the appointment of the valuers, and notwithstanding that he gave important information the members opposing chatted with each other, refusing to listen.

"There are four members of this council who are simply obstructing," Controller Foster cried, and he growled storming against the motion. He was supported by the half dozen in opposition, and they made a noise like a menagerie at feeding time.

"I don't want the closure applied," Ald. Dunn explained. "If that's the meaning taken from my motion I'll withdraw it."

"I don't want to knock the buying of the Toronto Railway Co. and Toronto Electric Light Co. properties," said Ald. Spence. "But I'm against spending $10,000 on valuers."

THE GODFREY-WEBSTER WEDDING

GALT, June 18.—(Special.)—Mystery surrounding the death of the unfortunate farm laborer, James Bruce, whose body was found floating in the Grand River, on Thursday, June 13, with external marks of violence pointing to foul play, remains a mystery still.

At 6 o'clock last night, the coroner's jury, after hours of deliberation, made finding as follows: "In the opinion of the jury, the deceased came to his death from a severe blow or fall on the head how produced we have no evidence to show. We also strongly condemn the parties who led him to the river bank."

At the resumption of the inquest today, the jury were driven to the river bank and closely examined the spot where Bruce was led by "Coom" Gerrard and A. C. McKeown, the night of the 7th, after his coming in on a car from Preston in an intoxicated condition. It was a bluff ten feet high with rocks at the base. Dr. Yardon one of the post-mortem surgeons, in recollection, stated that after inspection of the places, he had changed his opinion somewhat, and was prepared to accept the accident theory.

To account for his watch being taken, "Coom" Gerrard, the suspect arrested, was amply supported, and averred he had accepted it from Thos. Bullock, who had searched the pockets of the sleeping man for safe keeping for his friend "Jimmy." Other suspicious circumstances were met by pretty clear explanatory evidence.

MUNICIPAL POWER PAYS. GUELPH, June 18.—(Special.)—At the regular monthly meeting of the light and heat commission, the financial report for the first four months of the current year was presented and proved to be the most satisfactory in the history of the commission. It showed a net profit of about $8000 from the commercial light, a net profit of $1500 from the domestic lighting and $2000 profit from the power, a total net profit of $11,000 from the electric end of the business for the first four months of the year.

as experts on valuation of the properties. Ald. West pointed out amid cries of "no no" from the opposition. Controller Church, Foster, McBrien, Nays—McCarthy, Roding, Elak, O'Neill, Robbins, May, Spence, Anderson, Weston, McBride, Dunn, Hocken.

An additional grant of $210,000 was given to the Toronto General Hospital, to be effective when legalized by the legislature, the vote was unanimous.

Controller Church moved for a report on betterment of rapid transit service for ward seven, and that it be referred to the board of control. "I've just found out that Controller Church is a member of the board of control, and that he should have brought this motion to the board first," said Mayor Hocken.

"I move that it be referred to the transportation committee," said Ald. McBrien. "I'm not going to have my motions pigeon-holed," Controller Church declared.

Controller Church is just repeating the insulting editorials in The Telegram," Ald. McBride declared, and the motion was referred to the transportation committee.

Controller Church offered another motion that the board of control apply for a single fare on the car lines between the C.P.R. track and Bedford Park, and it was adopted.

Ald. Hubbard challenged the recommended appropriation of $3,000,000 for high and public school buildings and sites. Because the board of education had no representative present to provide any information asked for, the recommendation was referred back to the board of control.

Controller Foster introduced an amendment to the bylaw respecting the discount on water rates, and it was adopted. The bylaw now is that bills for water rates must be delivered in the months of March and September, and must be paid before April 1 and October 1, to secure the maximum discount.

Superfluous Hairs Vanish Like Magic

(Beauty Culture)

A thick paste made of powdered delatone and water and applied to any hairy surface for two or three minutes, then rubbed off, takes the hairs with it. The skin should then be washed to entirely remove the delatone, and it will be absolutely free from every trace of hair or fuzz. This is an easy, inexpensive method of removing hairs, and is entirely devoid of pain. Using the delatone will in no way mar or injure the skin.

Thick, glossy eyebrows and long, shaggy eyelashes add greatly to personal beauty. Frequent applications of pyroxin to brows or applied at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger will produce the above results, but care should be used to not get pyroxin where no hair is wanted.

DEATH OF BRUCE DUE TO NEGLECT

KELLY EVANS IS AGAIN IN FIGHT

Nominated by South Wellington Conservatives at an Enthusiastic Convention.

GUELPH, June 18.—(Special.)—At a largely attended and enthusiastic convention of the Liberal-Conservative of South Wellington, held in the city hall here this afternoon, A. Kelly Evans of this city was unanimously chosen as the standard-bearer of the party during the next campaign. Mr. Evans's name was the only one placed before the convention, and the rules were suspended in order that the selection be made unanimous. The selection was received with prolonged cheers. He was placed in nomination by T. J. Harnigan, who also made a rousing speech, eulogizing the candidate and predicting his return as the next member for South Wellington. Resolutions of confidence were passed in the Borden and Whitney governments and splendid addresses were made by Kelly Evans, the candidate, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice.

Mr. Evans was received with cheers when he arose to speak. He dealt for the most part with the naval question. He made special reference to the addresses of Hugh Guthrie, both in the house and in other places, and pointed out many inconsistencies in them.

Senate Can't Dictate. The Hon. C. J. Doherty declared that Mr. Borden, having made certain promises to the people of Canada, was endeavoring to keep those promises. The minister, in closing, referred to the action of the senate in turning the naval bill down. He characterized the act as unconstitutional in that it had attempted to tie the purse strings of the country in defiance of the wishes of the direct representatives of the people. He declared most emphatically that the Borden government would not for a minute stand the dictation of the senate as to when a general election should be held in this country.
