GOOD ROADS MEN INTERVIEW PREMIER

Sir Robert Held Out Hope of Passage of Highways Bill This Session.

Ottawa, June 24.—Sir Robert Borden was waited upon today by a deputation representing the Canadian Good Roads Association, the Ontario Good Roads Association, the Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association, automobile associations, county wardens and other bodies. They desired to enlist the support of the prime minister in securing the passage by parliament of the highways bill this session. The speakers included S. L. Squire, president of the Canadian Good Roads Association; Capt. J. Duchastel, representing the province of Quebec; K. W. Mackay of the Ontario Good Roads Association; J. G. Gibbons, representing the motorists of Canada; W. M. McQuillan, representing the county wardens; and Nelson D. Porter, president of the Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association.

Admits Necessity.
Sir Robert Borden, replying to the request of the deputation, said there was no doubt as to the economic value of good roads. The principle received the support of the house when a resolution preceding the highway bill was passed last night. He said that no money could be properly spent on roads unless provision is made for their proper maintenance. Good roads, he said, are now a question of cents and cents. After pointing out to the delegation the heavy financial obligations of the government, Sir Robert held out the hope, while not making a definite promise, that the bill would become law this session.

WAITED FOR THIS FORTY-NINE YEARS

How Clemenceau Received Despatch Announcing That Germany Would Sign.

PARIS WENT WILD

Students Dragged German Trophy Cannon Thru Streets, and Streets Were Decorated.

Paris, June 24.—"We have waited 49 years for this moment," exclaimed Premier Clemenceau as he opened the fateful despatch announcing that Germany would sign the treaty at the meeting of the council of three yesterday afternoon.

"For 49 years," he continued, "the mailed fist of the reiter (German troops), who has governed Germany, has menaced the world. Whether the man's name was Bismarck or Wilhelm II, it was still the same reiter of the mailed fist surrounded by soldiery and drunk with pride."

"Be careful! Keep your powder dry. Be careful. Remind the world that it is living on a barrel of powder."

"This reiter's dogma was that might is right, that a state's only obligation is its own interest, that treaties do not exist when they clash with the interest of a state and get rich by any means. We know from witnesses who were at the side of Wilhelm II. that when he learned of the Sarajevo tragedy, he who posed as the peace craver, who cried, 'The hour has struck. Now we shall see what an army is.'"

"This story of how the Premier received the news was told at dinner given by the economic commission of the conference in honor of the French delegation by Etienne Clemenceau, former minister of commerce and agriculture, tonight. The minister concluded his speech with a eulogy of the league of nations, which he said was 'at present the world's hope.'"

"Towards this magnificent and impressive innovation," he said, "I ask you to direct all your thoughts and to uplift your hearts in this great act of faith, hope and love."

After expressing pleasure over the approaching signing of the peace treaty for the sake of humanity, Clemenceau, in French, Humaité, the official organ of the socialist party, denounces the conditions of the treaty. It is cynical and dangerous mockery," he says. "It is a mockery called a war for right a conclusion of violence and iniquity. The nations, France above all, had believed in the support of the prime minister, the courage of the combatants was sustained for nearly five years. They believed specially in the words of President Wilson, who, much more than Prussian imperialism, is the conqueror of today."

"The paper concludes by declaring that the socialists as Borden and Knecht did in Germany in 1871, accept no responsibility for a peace 'odious and clumsy' and dangerous for France."

It was not long after the reply had been received and opened before the supreme gun of the day began to boom from the forts around Paris and the cheering crowds began to stream thru the streets, having been apprised by the sound of cannon that the Germans have accepted the allied terms. Allied flags were hung out as if by magic from windows. Automobiles loaded with cheering youths dashed thru the thoroughfares. Church bells throut the city were pealing everywhere and cheering, animated throngs of the British Columbia Daymen's Association; C. E. Whitney Griffiths, honorary secretary of the Farmers' Institute, advisory board; James Bailey, of Chateaufort; William Harrison of Kamloops and C. B. ### CZECHS IN SIBERIA GRIMING RESTLESS

Eager to Be Repatriated to Aid Home Country, But Problem is Difficult One.

Associated Press Cable.

Paris, June 24.—The transfer of 60,000 to 70,000 Czech-Slovak troops to their homes from Siberia is now becoming a pressing problem for the entente. These soldiers, exhausted by years of fighting, are eager to return to their newly formed republic, which needs their help against the Hungarians and Bolsheviks, who have become so disaffected and restless that their usefulness in Siberia is believed to be at an end. Some of their regiments have been infected with Bolshevism, and a general spread of "red" ideas is feared if the men are kept from their homes another winter.

An equal number of other foreign troops would be required to police the trans-Siberian route from Omsk eastward if the Czechs are withdrawn. The problem of transporting the Czechs via Vladivostok, and thence by sea to the Mediterranean, is a difficult one. It has been suggested that they might be sent westward over the trans-Siberian and given an opportunity to fight their way thru the Bolsheviks in Russia, either by the Skatyrburg-Petrograd route or by the way of Samara thru Ukraine. Military experts on allied staffs are apparently confident the Czechs could be given permission to make their way westward to their homeland.

Prof. Mulveney Answers 'Phone

Parkdale 4820.
"Hello, is Prof. Mulveney there?"
"Yes, speaking."
"I just wanted to know if your remedy called B'Well is good for a bad cold?"
"Yes, it is excellent, also a splendid preventive. B'Well has restored people to health that were being treated for consumption—people who were coughing their lives away. It has cured coughs who spent hundreds of dollars doctoring for bad coughs. I do not do not advertise it as a consumption cure, but it's worth trying. It has done wonders, and one can only expect it to do good for others."

B'Well is excellent for Rheumatism. B'Well is a wonderful Blood Purifier, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Medicine, a wonderful Nerve Tonic, a great rejuvenator. It relieves the faint, the weak makes strong, and the old feel young again. Yes, B'Well is the medicine you need."

I received a telephone call from Mr. Brownman on Oct. 10. He had just read my advertisement and he wanted to know if I was open. It was 10 p.m. I told him I would be open for about an hour yet. He arrived in about fifteen minutes, and this is the conversation that took place. He said: "Well I was reading your ad in the newspaper tonight, and I thought, well, lots of people will doubt the truth of it. I am sure it is surely all true, your B'Well and Rheumatoid will stop a cough, and I thought as I read your ad, well, I am sure it is people who were coughing themselves to death. You mentioned, and I am sure of it, that B'Well saved my life. I have had very bad colds for some weeks. It settled my bronchial tube, and it was very much like asthma. I lost my voice, and was coughing and wheezing and nearly died. I called on you and got your B'Well and Rheumatoid. I am sure of it. I was in awful misery. I could hardly breathe. I have come here tonight for another bottle of B'Well. B'Well, $1.00. B'Well, $1.25. Rheumatoid, $1.00."

"B'Well and Rheumatoid are all right. You can name all you like. I am only too glad to recommend medicines that save life."
