

SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips.

Saint Andrew's Society has definitely decided to give a ball at the King Edward on Dec. 4. The dates for the practice of Scottish dances will be announced later.

Mrs. Bongard is in New York with her daughter, and is expected back the beginning of the week. Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neill are spending the week-end in New York. The Lord Nelson Chapter, I.O.D.E., will give a ball at the King Edward on Jan. 7, and the number of tickets sold will be strictly limited. All the entertainments given by this chapter are very successful, and the dance is being anticipated with much pleasure.

Major Timmis is giving a small tea at Stanley Barracks on Thursday afternoon next.

Hon. Sir Edward Kemp is in Ottawa.

There was a very large audience in Massey Hall last night to hear Jascha Heifetz, when a few of those present included: Mrs. George Gooderham, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Eric Mitchell, Mrs. Elmes Henderson, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Miller Lash, Mr. and Mrs. Fane Seawell, Mrs. Reginald Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Bethune, Mrs. Buchanan, the Misses Anglin, Mrs. John Coulson, Mrs. J. S. Williams, Mrs. Scarth, Mrs. Glyn Osler.

Mrs. Grant Macdonald celebrated a birthday yesterday afternoon, when she was deluged with flowers, all her old friends calling with congratulations.

Miss Lucy Kingsford and her sister, Mrs. Law, have taken an apartment in Ottawa for the winter. Mrs. Noble Sharpe, formerly Miss Mary Cummings, held her post nuptial reception yesterday afternoon in her pretty flat in the Hampton Court, when she wore old blue meteor with embroideries of cut steel and a bouquet of opheelia roses. The drawing room was decorated with roses, and Mrs. Roscoe Graham and Mrs. H. J. Shields assisted the hostess. In the dining-room the polished table was arranged with maitre d' lace and a large silver basket of opheelia roses. Mrs. H. B. Anderson and Mrs. Gilbert Royce poured out the tea, assisted by Miss Agnes Craddock, Miss Irene Robertson, Miss Oda Johnson and Miss Blanche Robertson.

Miss Amy Dupont has taken a flat at 27 Rathliff road.

The marriage took place on Wednesday, the 13th inst., in the Bath Street Methodist Church, the Rev. T. W. Neil officiating, assisted by the Rev. John Ferguson, the bride, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pugh, to Mr. G. Dean Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, New Westminster, B. C. The church was decorated with palms and the organist, Mrs. J. Leslie Rook, played soft music throughout the service, and during the signing of the register played the Sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor" and the Wedding March as the party left the church. The lovely bride, who was given away by her twin brothers, Mr. E. J. Pugh and Dr. E. C. Pugh, wore a trimmed gown of soft ivory satin trimmed with silver net, with tulle veil fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of opheelia roses and sweet

Pains About the Heart

ANY derangement of the heart's action is alarming. Frequently pains about the heart are caused by the formation of gas arising from indigestion.

Relief from this condition is obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Chronic indigestion results from sluggish liver action, constipation of the bowels and inactive kidneys.

Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills arouse these organs to activity they thoroughly cure indigestion and overcome the many annoying symptoms.

A correspondent wishes to know if there is a law on the statute books which would have prohibited his grandfather from marrying the sister of his widow. At first blush it would appear that his grandfather must first have died to make his wife a widow, and so been disqualified from marrying his widow's sister. But closer inspection leads us to advise the young man that his granddad was entirely within his rights in leading the sister of his widow to the altar. Can you prove the correctness of our conclusion?

KNOCKING-EM DEAD WITH STYLE

SPEAKING of Esme—even when she goes in for trills I'm with her. She's sure got a wee-lee-ee with her. And maybe she ain't some generous. For being her side-kick I get six bucks a week, and today she discards a trunkful of nifty clothes onto me. Course it's tough luck that I don't need no shooners to get my feet into 'em, but I'm going to rebuild them and when I get dolled—oh! Percy, watch my dust.

Not having the coin to do much purchasing for quite a stretch, I ain't appearing as a vision of beauty since I was a pup. I'm kind of stalled, but I'm on my way. I'm going some, and I'll ignite at fifty yards if I get pinched for speeding. With Esme as a model, I'm going to knock you cold for style. I'm telling you, I'm going to give you a tip. You've heard it asked by certain dames why it is actresses don't ever look antiquated. Well, Esme tells me that it's because they know how to preserve their complexion—ain't no camouflage. Take herself, she appears lots of stuff on her phase when she's doing her turn, but what she sells out of the theatre—no powder or nothing. Magnoliously natural. And she's got a crowd of freckles just like a country hick, but they're sort of distinctive, because you never see a freckle on a girl showing a flock of freckles on the approach to their backs.

But there ain't no hay sticking in her hair. She's got an army of Johns, and when it comes to bright lights, her wings is lined with asbestos. But for a girl she's shown amongst every kind of temptation it's some wonderful the way she ain't even stalled.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES CONFER.

The women's institutes spent a good deal of the sessions of yesterday in receiving reports from their various sections.

In the course of an address by Inspector Leake, he urged the institutes to counteract the general attitude of adverse criticism used against the rural school. He advocated the teaching of domestic science and manual training and made a strong plea for hot lunches at the school, as carried out by a hundred schools in Ontario.

Mrs. Henry Osler urged the institutes to interest themselves in the work of the Franco-Canadian Orphanage. The speaker had herself visited the institution in France and had gained first-hand knowledge of the work being done for the little ones.

TORONTO HUMANE SOCIETY.

The open meeting of the Toronto Humane Society was held last night in the society's headquarters, 197 McCarroll street, when the various reports of the work were presented. The manager's report for the month of October and part of November showed over 1300 cats had received the attention of the society, 478 dogs had been attended to, 1880 horses examined and 214 complaints of cruelty investigated.

After the reception of the reports the president of the society, Rt. Rev. Bishop Sweeney, introduced Mr. Eric Osborne, who is now assuming the position as manager, which post has been vacated by Mr. C. M. Baldwin. Mr. Osborne then addressed the meeting on humane matters. A motion was passed that the next meeting be held on the last Thursday of this month, and the members present were urged to bring as many of their friends as possible.

PARENT ROASTS DOCTOR MUNN

Mrs. Blackburn Stigmatizes Medico as a Bully—Mayor Apologizes.

"Dr. Hastings, I have three questions to put to you and I want them answered," said Ald. J. A. Cowan, chairman of the board of health. "Q: Have any children been vaccinated without the consent of their parents?"

"A: Not to my knowledge."

"Q: A number of deputations opposing vaccination have appeared before the board of control. Has the board ever requested you to report on the matter?"

"The board of control have not asked me for any report."

"Q: If a child is kept from school owing to parents objecting to vaccination, can that child return to school when the epidemic subsides without being vaccinated?"

"That is a matter for the provincial board of health to deal with."

Expected Dr. Munn.

As a kind of contradiction to the answer Dr. Hastings gave to the first question, Mrs. Blackburn, the lady who complained Wednesday to the board of control that her little seven-year-old child had been vaccinated by Dr. Munn at Kent School against her consent, came into the room under the personal escort of the mayor. In reply to the chairman as to her mission, she said she expected to meet Dr. Munn there.

Dr. Hastings explained to the board Mrs. Blackburn's grievances, and added that a mistake had evidently been made, and seemed to be pretty evenly distributed among all the officials of the school. Dr. Munn, the M. O. H. declared, was a careful, considerate and kind man, and would not willingly perform an operation against a parent's wishes.

Mrs. Blackburn said: "Dr. Munn is not a kind-hearted man—he is nothing more than a bully. He came to my house and said that I was causing him to lose his time. He did not seem to care anything about my time. If Dr. Munn had come to me in a gentlemanly way and said he was sorry for the mistake and would do what he could for the child, I should have been satisfied to let the matter rest."

The mayor now came into the lists and declared the lady had been done wrong and on behalf of the city authorities he had tendered her an apology. She undoubtedly had an action against the city and it was up to the board of health to try and settle the matter.

Mrs. Blackburn, rising from her chair and looking straight at the mayor, asked, "Do you think I should be bullied by this man in my own house?" Dr. Munn declared I was trying to make trouble for him—surely parents have some rights.

Alderman Ryding at this point ascertained from Dr. Hastings that no one at the school had read the note excusing the child from vaccination and that the letter was at present in the hands of the health authorities.

Mrs. Blackburn said she did not want to put in a claim against the city. "I want the doctor to be reprimanded," she said. "If I had not expected to see him here this afternoon I would not have wasted my time in coming down."

Dr. Hastings said he would take the matter up with Dr. Munn and if he had acted as Mrs. Blackburn declared he had he would severely censure him.

The mayor assured the lady her case should have the early attention of the city officials and one more "error" passed into oblivion.

Earlier in the day Mrs. Blackburn had been before the board of control and received the apology from the mayor. After the health department had explained how the error occurred, Controller Maguire withdrew his resignation for the doctor's dismissal as he was convinced a genuine mistake had occurred.

Dr. Hastings presented a lengthy report to the board of health on the subject of vaccination and vaccine. He pointed out that the mild form of smallpox now epidemic was just as contagious as the more severe cases and that serious cases may develop at any time. After stating that vaccination had the general endorsement of the best medical men of the world, the M. O. H. declared that the vaccine used in Toronto is absolutely free from any pathogenic germs. In concluding his remarks the doctor said: "We cannot all be experts in advanced medical science, but we should be sufficiently intelligent to interpret in an intelligent way the evidence placed before us by those scientists who are making a life study of these problems and if we are not capable of doing this, we should know enough to maintain a dignified silence. If all the people in the world could be persuaded to stick to their last, the world would be much better governed and there would be decidedly less unrest."

The board ordered that 5000 copies of the M.O.H. report be printed and circulated in the schools amongst the public.

Period Extended.

Dr. Hastings told the board he had written to the heads of all schools and educational establishments in Toronto advising them that the board of health would grant a further extension of eight days from Monday next in which the school children are required to furnish vaccination certificates. "There will be no expulsions from the schools until the time limit has expired," he said, and gently hinted that perhaps even then a compulsory order might not be necessary.

Ald. Ryding asked if the doctor proposed to vaccinate all the children.

"We are not going to do anything more at present than we are doing now," replied the doctor.

"Well, you won't vaccinate me," returned the alderman.

There were 51 new cases of smallpox reported yesterday. The following table will show how the epidemic stands at present:

Meeting of Protest.

Some 400 or 500 people assembled on the city hall steps yesterday at noon and held a meeting protesting against vaccination. Dr. E. J. Chatto, Shuter street, was the principal speaker, and took the M.O.H. to task for trying to put something on the public they did not want. W. P. Darnoch, a teacher of Parkdale Collegiate Institute, spoke at length, denouncing vaccination, and declared there was more sickness in the schools owing to vaccination than during the "flu" outbreak.

As the Victory Loan performance was proceeding at the same time as the meeting the whole affair was a bit of a jumble—neither side would give up the bagpipes of the Highlanders broke the sentences of the vaccination speakers and Victory bonds got mixed up with vaccine, but both demonstrators seemed pleased with their individual return.
