Charge That Local Constables Protect Gamblers at Fail Fairs.
 H. B. Cowan, superintendent of fairs, has issued a statement warning local constables of the consequences if they accept bribes from individuals operating gambling devices at fail fairs. It has been reported to the department that the constables in some localities work in with the sharpers; in other words, that money is paid tor protection. It has sometimes happened that when the detectives have asked for assistance from the local constables in arresting the sharpers, and enabled them to escape. An effort will be mane this year to detect constables at this work; and where convictions can be secured the offenders will be prosecuted with the utmost vigor.
 Mr. Cowan has received many lett ters recommending the closing of hotels with minet of a fall fair as the best method of eliminating objection able features.
