merning. In several mill centres, namely, New Bedford, Biddeford, Saco and Lewiston, Maine, dissatisfaction among the mill hands is intense and strikes are on. The 18 mills of the former city, which give employment to about 9000 hands, have been shut down because the operatives have refused to accept the reduction, and the contest thus inaugurated promises to be one of the most stubborn in the history of the textile industry.

The situation in New Bedford is viewed in a very gloomy light by the business men of the city, many of whom have not altogether recovered from the depression which followed the failure of aix mill corporations last spring. The 1500 employes at the Laconia and Pepperell mills in Biddeford, Me., refused to go to work this morning under the new schedule, and it is thought the strike there will not be settled easily. Some of the employes of the York mills of Saco also joined the Biddeford movement.

"Beware the Jabberwock my son!

The fumious Bandersnatch!"

He took his vorpal sword in hand:
Long time the manxome foe he sought—So rested he by the Tumtum tree,
And as in uffish thought he stood,
The Jabberwock with eyes of flame,
Came whifting through the tulgey wood,
And burbled as it came!

One, two! One, two! And through and through
The vorpal blade went snicker-snack!
He left it dead, and with its head
He went galumphing back.

"And hast thou slain the Jabberwock?
Come to my arms, my beamish boy!
O frabjous day! Caleoh! Callay!"

some of the employes of the York mills of Saco also joined the Biddeford movement.

There was little change in the situation at the different mill centres as the day advanced. The incident at the Acushnet mills in New Bedford, in which dirt and stones were thrown at the managers without doing any harm, was the nearest approach to serious trouble. This afterneon coulet rescaled.

Ald. Lamb's Suggestion.

Poor old Bill Orford was in the Police Court dock again yesterday. On Saturday he was convicted of being drunk and was allowed to go out to get enough money for the fine. Bill has contributed very liberally to the city exchequer in bygone days, but instead of getting the fine money this time he got another load and was arrested. He astonished the court by pleading "not guilty," remarking that he was never going to plead guilty again. He was remanded for a day.

The members of the committee were all profuse in their declarations of appreciation of the retiring official. The question naturally followed, "Who will be his successor?" Ald. Lamb proposed that no successor be appointed, but that Deputy Engineer Rust, with a moderately increased salary, be asked to perform the duties. He considered that Mr. Rust's long service under Mr. Keating fitted him to do so. Mr. Keating had been an excellent municipal Engineer, but he thought the city had now an opportunity to economize by doing without a permanent successor. He therefore moved that Mr. Rust be recommended to the Board of Control for appointment.
