DAY LABOR IS CHEAPEST

Provided Aldermen Keep Themselves Out of the Way.

CITY ENGINEER BARRON

Thus Advises the Trades and Labor Council of Ottawa—Familiar of Thomas McDougall's "The Mandarins" by Amateurs—Police Notes, Church Items and General News.

HAMILTON, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—At the request of the Ottawa Trades and Labor Council, City Engineer Barron has given it his views on the question of day and contract labor on civic works. Mr. Barron strongly favors day work, when there is no interference by aldermen who want to get employment for incompetents with votes and an intelligent and industrious foreman is in charge. Mr. Barron writes: "I have had considerable experience of work done by day labor and under contract, and my opinion is that, if a good, intelligent and industrious foreman is secured, and he is allowed a free hand in his choice of men, then better and cheaper work is obtained by the day labor system."

He adds that with contractors ever on the lookout for flaws in the specifications, whereby they can send in bids for extra, and their frequent success, such extra cost often offsets the additional expense incurred under the day labor system.

Thomas McDougall's "The Mandarins" is a novel by amateurs. The funeral of the late Thomas E. McDougall, the young printer who was accidentally killed at the Beach early on Thanksgiving Day, took place this afternoon to Hamilton Cemetery and was very largely attended by the members of the I.O.O.F., the Typographical Union and the Hamilton Bicycle Club, of which deceased was a member. A service was held at the home.

This morning Mrs. Ebert, Palm, Barton-street, was arrested in the house of a Jesuit-street Hebrew, on a charge of assaulting her husband on Saturday morning. The residence of Mr. E. J. Among the Churches. Rev. Napier Burnet, D.D., of St. John's Church, was this morning ordained and inducted as rector of St. Luke's Church, by Bishop Mulholland. The Christian Workers held a special service at their church, Macdon-street north, to-day.

EXIT AND ENTRANCES

Admiral Seymour Has Made an Important Move.

PLANTED THE UNION JACK

On the Island of Chusan and Has Warships to Back Him Up.

The Move is in Keeping With the Open-Door Policy, and Britain Has Secured a Position Which Commands the Yang-Tze-Kiang River and Taps the Great Artery of Central China.

London, Nov. 26.—Admiral Seymour, commanding the British squadron in Chinese waters, has ordered the British flag on Ting Hai, capital of the island of Chusan, and has stationed a formidable fleet of warships in that vicinity to defend the island.

The Chusan group forms one of the most strategic positions on the Chinese coast, from both military and commercial viewpoints, and its addition to the present British possessions there will prove of great advantage.

Chusan Island is the largest of the group, and among Chinese islands is second only to Hainan. The Chusan group is situated within a couple of hundred miles of the City of Hang Chau, which many travelers declare is the finest in the empire.

It is also one of the largest. The British now possess a position which commands the mouth of the Yang-tze-Kiang River, the great artery of Central China, and the most densely populated region of its size in the world.

The coast provinces of Kiang Su and Che Kiang, opposite Chusan, have a combined population of probably more than 60,000,000. England and France, taken together, have a population of less than 100,000,000.

Near the mouth of the river is Shanghai, the greatest commercial city of China, and within a couple of hundred miles are Canton, and a greater trading city than Shanghai.

England's possession of these islands now gives her a strategic position against Russian aggression in China, and strengthens her naval power in the North Pacific.

Large Asiatic Population. The coast provinces of Kiang Su and Che Kiang, opposite Chusan, have a combined population of probably more than 60,000,000.

England and France, taken together, have a population of less than 100,000,000.
