

With a Rush

Saturday was a winner in the Boys' Suit Department. Pleased customers, smiling boys and bustling salesmen made a picture that did us good to see and proved, from the generous praise bestowed upon our styles and garments by pleased customers, that we still hold the supremacy in Toronto for Boys' Clothing.

"COME ON IN" we have some nice things to show you.

ASSASSIN OF PRIEST TRIES TO BREAK JAIL

With Handless Razor Blade, Makes a Vicious Attack on Fellow Prisoner.

DENVER, Col., March 15.—With a handless razor blade which had been left in his cell by a previous occupant, Giuseppe Alia, condemned murderer of Father Francis Las Hébert, made a vicious and murderous attack on a "trusty" at the county jail Saturday, while the latter was cleaning his cell, and before he could be overpowered and cut the trusty a great gash in the neck, which bled freely, and which almost reached the jugular vein.

The last occupant of the cell was Michael Brunetti, who had traveled from New York to Denver with Alia. As the cell door was open at the time, and Alia had never before seen the trusty, the assault which almost ended in another murder could have been for but one purpose, and that escape.

The trusty grappled with his assailant, grabbed the hand which held the razor blade, and in spite of the fact that his fingers were cut somewhat succeeded not only in preventing further injury to himself, but also in cutting Alia's hand. Warden Peter Carpenter could come to his assistance.

Even then Alia fought on like a demon. He bit, scratched, and in every way attempted to fight off the warden and trusty, and it was not until he was thoroughly beaten, that he was subdued and became quiet. The sight of the open cell door, on the other side of which the murdered priest lay, was liberally, only maddened him the more.

The wound in the trusty's neck is about 2 1/2 inches long, and will not prove serious. The man, who refused absolutely to have his name used, lost a great deal of blood from the wound in his neck, and also from his slashed hand, but if complications do not set in he will recover.

CAPE TOWN, March 15.—At a meeting of the directors of the De Beers Mining Company, the chairman, referring to complaints about the delay in the payment of the deferred dividend, said events had led the directors to hesitate, but eventually they had declared the dividend in order to sustain the diamond market.

CIVIL SERVICES REPORT. Opposition Leaders Met With Reply—Not Yet, But Soon.

OTTAWA, March 14.—(Special.)—How long can the government delay bringing down the report of the civil service commission? is a question that is being asked around Parliament Hill. Nearly every day either Mr. Borden or Mr. Foster enquires very anxiously about this precious document and for weeks Mr. Fielding has returned the same old reply: "About ready—can't say." However, the report has been ready for some time. If the recommendations are followed there must be a large increase in appropriation for the civil list, and as the government is determined to postpone legislation in this direction as long as possible, it is said that the finance minister is keeping the report back so that the excuse that there is no time this session to make provision for increase may be accepted as a valid one.

MAY ONE TRY DOMESTY BUT MUST WORK TOWIN. Serious Note at the Banquet of Montreal's Junior Conservatives.

MONTREAL, March 15.—(Special.)—R. L. Borden, M.P., addressed the Junior Conservative Club annual dinner last evening, and the leader made a very optimistic speech.

He said if he was absolutely sure that the great majority of the Canadian people fully understood the true political position at Ottawa he would have no doubt whatever as to the result of the coming general election. The leader felt, however, that the young men were awakening to their vast responsibility as to the present position and would vote against the present administration.

Mr. Ames, M.P., and Rufus Pope, also spoke, the latter declaring that he and his fellow members were going back to their constituencies, and he wanted to say that if Quebec would elect fifteen members to the next house of commons the Laurier government would be defeated.
