

LEADING LABOR MEN GUESTS OF HONOR

Many New Attractions at the Exhibition Today—Baby and Poultry Shows.

Representative labor men from all parts of the province will be the guests of honor at today's banquet tendered by the board of directors of the Canadian National Exhibition, and the occasion will not be without its representative speakers. It is estimated that more than twenty thousand trades unionists will be on the grounds by 2 o'clock, and that, provided the weather remains good, the attendance may eclipse that of last year, which was almost 190,000. The speakers at the directors' luncheon will be Controller Joe Gibbons, John Sutherland, chairman of the demonstration committee of the parade, and James Scott, president of the Toronto District Trades Council, the representative labor body of the city. Sergeant-Major Joseph McNamara, D.C.M., M.L.A., will address the thousands who will gather at the main stand.

But not only in the matter of labor pure and simple will Torontonians be favored today, but in the numerous other standing features, the varied groups of buildings and bands there will be also the poultry show, which is this year an occasion of outstanding interest; there will be the baby show, in which ten pairs of twins and nearly 400 babies will be shown to distinct advantage; there will be the Marathon race and other outstanding sports, commencing at 1 o'clock, and last, but by no means least, there will be the dog show, which begins this morning, under the most auspicious circumstances.

Hygiene Experts to Judge.
Touching upon babies, it is well to note that the judges will be from among the best known hygiene experts in the city, and will include Dr. Edmund King, too well known to need introduction; Dr. Allan Triffitt, Spohn, Dr. J. L. Kilgus, Dr. A. H. Perfect and Drs. E. C. Dixon, Allan Adams, F. C. Harrison and W. J. McCollum. Babies will be judged in the dairy building, where mothers may be on hand at the weighing tent, opposite the dairy building, not later than 11 o'clock, or two hours before the judging begins. To be precise, the number of entries is 364. Mothers will do well to note that dressiness will accomplish little, the judges basing their decisions upon the general appearance, height, health and general deportment. Too often mothers are worried because their babies, fine plump little fellows, are not among the winners. The chances are that such children are of proportion where proportion is essential. There are five classes, not including the show babies, and a ten dollar is offered for the best baby in each class.

Benny Lewis, the expert dog fancier from the United States, will show over a string of 32 beagles, hounds, terriers, spaniels and others, and among them are several which he and Mrs. Lewis have won at various shows. One of these has gained first over all dogs of the show in 42 consecutive shows during the past few years, and this is said to constitute an almost unbeatable record. Other notable breeders and kennelmen are bringing dogs over from the United States and from Winnipeg, and, altogether, there will be perhaps more than two hundred entries of all kinds. There will be six judges, one of whom will be an expert employed at Glen Head, Long Island, by the Scudder-Townsend Kennels.

Thavies' Band Will Attract.
Another attraction worthy of note will be Thavies' Band. This is an aggregation which is not well known in Canada, but south of the line it has an enviable reputation, and much is expected of its attendance this year. General regret was expressed at the loss of the Creator Band this week, the peculiarly emotional and sensitive touches, both in the music and in the playing, and the fact that it was among the musicians themselves, having proved increasingly popular to the Toronto public. Hope is expressed that Thavies will prove no less an attraction.

Foremost among the attractions at the Exhibition this week, and especially today, will be the poultry show opposite the agricultural building, more than 5500 birds showing, some of them of outstanding note, both as to plumage and size. Chief among these are the fan-tails of various types, Brahmas and Wyandottes, and the newest breed in the Dominion, the Canadian Chanticleer. Today is club day among bird lovers, and the Booster-Booster Club, comprised of owners of single-comb Leghorns, will meet at 2 o'clock to discuss important matters and to elect officers for the ensuing year. So also will the Rhode Island Red Club. There are about 200 members in each club.

EXHIBITION NOTES

Fred. E. Janette, of the editorial department, of The Detroit News, is a visitor to the Exhibition. "Just to see how we run things here," he should find plenty of material and certainly not a few pointers for our friends across the line.

Miss Elsie McKim has just been appointed director of household arts in the Technical Schools of the province. To install the new work equipment will be provided in several of the schools by the provincial department of education.

Among the interesting things seen at the soldiers' comfort department of the Exhibition are samples of the musical instruments supplied to the men in the various military hospitals. The collection makes a notable display and includes cornets, piccolos, drums, violin and other articles dear to music lovers. These instruments are from one end of Canada to the other. At present the management is contemplating equipping "Westminster" Hospital, London, Ontario, with outfit for an orchestra.

The G. W. V. tent at the Exhibition is being much appreciated by veterans and their relatives. Among the many callers Saturday was Sgt. S. A. Howard, of P. Company, 1st Battalion, Pennsylvania Volunteer Corps. He now lives at Newmarket. He enlisted with the Northern army in 1864, and saw 44 months' service in the Civil War. He was in the famous battles of Ringold, Gettysburg, Antietam, Cedar Mountain. Eighty-one years of age, the aged veteran recounted many a stirring moment during that greatest of civil wars, the days of smooth-bore rifles and solid bullets.

Art in a new form is seen in a corner of the women's section of the Exhibition, where vitrified photography is seen in the shape of artistically enameled ceramics. The process by which these beautiful specimens of art are produced is entirely new to Canada, introduced by a French soldier—O. Leguillon, a specialist in miniature art photography. The work is said to be lasting and unchangeable, these advantages being gained by vitrifying the photos, which are on copper, at about 1600 degrees Fahrenheit. A photograph of Mayor Church is on view in the display, as well as a beautifully dainty specimen representing a Toronto lady, who will be at once recognized as the chief friend to soldiers' comforts.

To the layman, the showings in Brahmas, May and dark, in Wyandottes, and in many other breeds of fowl, not to say rabbits and fan-tails, were unusually fine at the Exhibition. Magnificent specimens of their kind were many of the Wyandottes. Innumerable breeds of fowl and pigeons gave a variegated color tone to the show. One of the predominating features of the show.

One of the attractions which is becoming quite a feature on the grounds is the display put on each afternoon by the Boy Scouts. A party of the scouts, about 1600 in number, are camped, which is pitched just west of Dufferin street entrance, and, trundling a trek cart down the main avenue of the grounds, come to a halt on the boulevard south of the fine bandstand, where they proceed to dismantle their trek cart, pitch a tent, erect a flag staff, do some signalling with flags, perform a fire drill, have some Scout games, and a tug-of-war. This performance takes place every afternoon at 5 o'clock, and is much enjoyed by a large crowd, while, also, applauding the games the boys indulge in, seem to be more interested in the distinctive Scout stunts they perform.

Miss Toronto II. is all ready for today's motorboat race. Baby Doris will be on hand, and Miss Peerless of Buffalo is expected to win. The well known hydroplane racer for the big gold trophies, Helden II, Clare II, and Leopard hook up again today, so it will be a real day for the day. Gar Wood telephoned that they could not get Detroit V. in the car, as the doors were not large enough, so it looks as if she would not be there. However, the committee still have hopes.

How to help the blind and yourself at the same time is seen in the soldiers' comfort section of the Exhibition, where fine, strong cocoanut mats are on exhibition. These are handmade, and are the product of J. H. Palmer of Whitby, Ont., a returned blind soldier and a pupil of the far-famed St. Dunstan's. The mats may be initiated or made with fancy borders, and orders may be left with the ladies in charge of the display. The first order came from Mrs. Lionel Clarke, wife of the lieutenant-governor, and the second from Mrs. Stewart of Pembroke street, who, 84 years of age, maintains her interest in the device.

YOUR MARRIAGE DAY MAY BE LUCKY DATE.
Someone is going to get an Apex Electric Cleaner Free.
Hundreds of married people have left at the attractive section of McDonald & Wilson, Limited, in the electrical building at the fair, a memo of the month of the year and the day of the month on which they were married. Some married lady is going to be made happy by receiving an Apex Electric Vacuum Cleaner absolutely free of charge.

At the close of the Exhibition, a draw is to be made from all the memos of the year, and the couple whose marriage took place on the month and day shown will be given an Apex Cleaner. If there are more than one, the winner will be decided by placing the names in a hat and making a draw.
Naturally a great deal of interest has been aroused in the contest, because an Apex Cleaner is certainly worth having. It is regarded as the most efficient electric cleaner on the market today, and the exhibit is itself well worth seeing.

the men who so nobly did their "bit" for their country.

W. Locke, president of the Civic Employees' Union, has written General Manager King, to say that the union will be glad to comply with the request of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition that employees of the city at Exhibition Park be permitted to remain at work on Labor Day, so that the grounds may be kept clean for the Exhibition.

Through the kindness of Mayor Church twenty-two children from the Soldiers' Children's Home on Pembroke street were taken to the Exhibition on Saturday afternoon. A telly-ho car, driven by a member of the home, conveyed them to the grounds, where they were taken to the grandstand, and had the time of their lives. Later they had tea at the Buey Restaurant, where Miss Church saw the appetites of the little party were fully satisfied. When there "special guests" of honor, the children of the Soldiers' Children's Home, on Pembroke street, for home transportation, each had a toy in the shape of a dog, given to them by the home, as a souvenir of a wonderful afternoon at the fair.

RENU LIFE GENERATORS.

Among the "most interesting exhibits" at the Exhibition is an exhibit known as "Renulife," a device which generates and distributes electric currents thru the system in such a manner as to give a new lease of life to the men and women who use it. This violet-ray generator, which is on exhibit at Booth 38, under the grandstand, is used by all classes of men, women and children, but it has been of great service to ex-service men who have suffered from various ailments and nerve strain.

Returned men in all departments of life who have used this violet-ray generator express but one opinion, and that is that they find "Renulife" wonderfully effective in the treatment of rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, shock, scars and muscle contractions. Not only this, it gives a new tone to the whole system, and serves to bring it back to normal, thus inducing a soothing restfulness which is so necessary to health and happiness.

The demand for "Renulife" generators has increased so rapidly that homes all over the world are using this electric healer. Called for by the fact that it is not only used by the best specialists, but also by all manner of hospital and clinics, and among the largest patients of the device.
It is needless to add that this generator has the backing of testimonials from the most influential quarters.
As already noted, its prices are within reach of the most moderate purse. The generator is handled in Toronto by the P. W. Lawson Co., Ltd., 45 Jarvis street. This is one of the best established concerns, and the fact that this firm is handling the generator is sufficient commendation to the Toronto public.

ELECTRIC BUILDING FOR THE EXHIBITION

Sir Adam Beck Predicts Chipewa Power for Toronto Civic Lines.

(From Sunday World)
"Hydro Electric and Made-in-Canada Day" brought a crowd to the Exhibition grounds on Saturday which officials estimated in the early afternoon would be almost a record-breaker for all except holidays. Sir Adam Beck, the Hydro knight, was the speaker at the directors' noon luncheon, and the gathering heard a splendid address on the influence which electricity is now exerting on the lives of the people. The members of the new transportation commission, Messrs. Smith, Wright and Miller, were also present.

The weather, too a little cool, was bright and sunny, and the long list of attractions provided for the day was carried out unimpeded and without a hitch. Five bands catered to the tastes of the lovers of music, while in front of the big grandstand were trotting the international champion vaudeville acts, Motorboat races, singing competitions and flying exhibitions. There were also the other attractions. The poultry and stock show also opened on Saturday.

Hydro Knight Speaks.
Addressing the two hundred persons gathered at the directors' luncheon, Sir Adam Beck, who was introduced with rousing cheers, said there seemed to have been an understanding that the year for the fair, but they would have been a more splendid building than the one now on the grounds, and it would have to be one of the finest in the group structures on the grounds.

The president of the Newspaper Association had on a previous day said the admission to the fair and the newspapers were the cheapest things going. Sir Adam Beck, who was introduced with rousing cheers, said there seemed to have been an understanding that the year for the fair, but they would have been a more splendid building than the one now on the grounds, and it would have to be one of the finest in the group structures on the grounds.

Touching on the success of the Hydro movement, Sir Adam regretted that the Hydro power in the management of public utilities. The development of the water powers was, he said, first launched 18 years ago, but he had been in the face of strong opposition, but had finally become, under the Hydro commission, the largest power concern in the world. The commission was now serving 26 municipalities, and the demand was steadily growing. He had years ago urged the taking over by the province of the water powers, and the result was the Hydro Commission, and the value of the farms increased.

"I know that the increased value of farms will more than pay for the installation of electricity in the country," he said.
Chief Industrial Province.
Ontario had always been the chief industrial province in Canada, and now Quebec there is now a campaign to win from Ontario this proud position. No manner of argument could be made at the home market, and this could only be maintained and increased by the province taking over the water powers.

The great anxiety of the province was the need of more power, and the Hydro commission was developing 38,000 h.p. in the great Niagara river, and was developing 12,000 h.p. in the St. Lawrence river. There were a number of people, even some of the Hydro commission, who were of the opinion that the Hydro commission was not doing enough, and that the province should take over the water powers. The suggestion that there was anything to be gained by taking over the water powers was unjust. They were as strong as any bank.

Chipewa Power.
Sir Adam then reviewed the work done on the Chipewa power development scheme, the delay caused by the strike and the interest in the construction. But with all these handicaps this great undertaking would be ready to deliver power in the fall of 1921. The supply of power for the operation of the Toronto street railway when taken over by the city would be a great help. He expected to go forward and perhaps take over the competing power concerns at a fair price. The development of power schemes, said Sir Adam, go on that the industrial activities of this country might not be held up.

He was glad to see the minister of public works present and wished him goodspeed in his road-building plans, but he believed the price of gasoline would go higher instead of lower, and that good roads and motors would not save the transportation situation. The building of the Chipewa scheme, he said, would make available a million tons of broken stone for the ordinary cost. It was close to three railways.

Prolonged cheers were given Sir Adam Beck as he finished his address.
Sir Adam then presented the Exhibition with a photographic picture of the Canadian Niagara Falls. President Fleming thanked Sir Adam for the picture, and said it would be given a permanent position in the administration offices.
Sir Purvis spoke briefly of the splendid work of the Canadian Nursing sisters, and the interest in the work of the Canadian nursing sisters. He also paid a warm tribute to the heroic work of the Canadian nursing sisters.

VALUABLE FUR BEARERS
Considerable interest is displayed in the exhibit of Pure-Bred Silver Black Fox in the game and fisheries department. E. P. 3, at the south end of the government building, is shown by the Ruthven-Brett Company, Limited, of Alliston, Ont. Mr. Ruthven has had eight years' practical experience, and is kept busy answering questions to interested parties.

DEAN'S CANOES.
Canoeists and other lovers of the water will be more than interested in the fine showings of canoes and other boats at the booth of the Dean Canoe Company, under the grandstand. Mr. Dean is one of the best known canoe experts in this part of Canada.

CLASSY DOGS HERE FOR THE EXHIBITION

Big Entry From United States Kennels at Fair This Year.

John Sinnott, president of the Philadelphia Kennel Club, and director of the American Kennel Association, and John P. Herkness, wealthy patron of the kennels in Philadelphia, are both represented at the dog show, which is being well handled by Fred Jacobi and his colleagues at the cat and dog hall, opposite the machinery tents at the "Ex." Benny and Mrs. Lewis arrived Saturday afternoon with a string of thirty-two dogs of varied breeds, most of them being cocker spaniels, Irish terriers and beagles, with sprinkling of Poms and Dachs-hunds.

One of the dogs, "Sunflower," owned by Mrs. Lewis, is one of the prize canines of the show. She has been awarded prizes as champion of all dogs at no less than 42 dog shows, and is today the international champion of Canada and the United States. The present show will determine whether or not she will retain the title. That is, if she runs for ribbons.

A large string of American dogs is showing this year, totaling about a hundred, the best of their kind. One of the judges at the show will be the expert kennelman of the Scudder-Townsend kennels, Glenhead, Long Island. Altogether there will be perhaps two hundred entries in dogs of all kinds.

The show opens at nine o'clock on Monday morning.

BRUSHES SERVICEABLE AND SANITARY

Brushes that will please the house-keeper and give satisfaction to the dairy or garage are to be found in place as shown at Booth 14 under the grandstand of the Exhibition. Sanitation and service are the requirements of every household and this is why the board, who longed for a good reserve.

Touching on the success of the Hydro movement, Sir Adam regretted that the Hydro power in the management of public utilities. SUCCESSFUL ARTISTS IN SINGING CONTEST

Successful contestants in the singing and piano contests held in the horticultural building of the Exhibition on Saturday were: soprano, Eva Isabier, Toronto; tenor, Leonardo Mandorino, Hamilton; baritone, Robert Messervy, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; judges for vocal candidates were David Dick Slater and M. M. Stevenson; piano, F. Arthur Oliver and Ernest Seltz.

LABOR DAY SPORTS IN FRONT OF GRAND STAND

For the first time since Labor Day sports have been held at the Exhibition, the big ring has been requisitioned and the program today will be pulled off before the grand stand, starting at 2 p.m. An exceptionally large entry has been received for practically all the events by Secretary Ralph.

Previous to this year the sports have been held on the waterfront south of the manufacturers' building, but it was felt that the athletes connected with the various unions could do better justice to themselves by competing under improved track and field conditions, and it was decided to hold the sports in front of the grand stand.
For the convenience of contestants who have not yet entered, Secretary Ralph will be located in tent on the lawn at the press building, just opposite the grand stand, and entries will be received there until 2 p.m. All contestants are requested to enter by the big ring gate at the west end of the grand stand. The gate at the east end will be closed all day.

OVER 5,000 BIRDS ARE ON EXHIBITION

Chanticleers Make Their Debut at the National Show.

Five thousand five hundred fowl and pet birds of every variety are showing at the Poultry and Pet Stock Show, which is being held at the Exhibition, and of this number easily 2000 gained one or other of the six ribbons awarded by the judges in the contest which concluded Saturday noon. Red, blue, yellow, white, pink and green were the colors of the ribbons. The plan was specially well. This is practically a new breed in Canada, and this is the first occasion they have been given place as such at the Exhibition. More than thirty were shown. American fowl and Brahmas, light and dark, were very fine.

On Monday many representative clubs are to meet, and officers will be elected. Among the clubs are the Booster-Roosters, better known as the Single-Comb Leghorn Club, of which there are 300 members in Canada. Walter Rose is president until perhaps after Monday. Another well-known club is the Rhode Island Red Club, with about 300 members. James R. Pollis is president of this club, and James A. Nardy is its secretary. The Dominion Ornamental Bantams Club is still another. James T. Lebell is secretary of this club. All the clubs will hold important meetings, and many special features will be studied.

NATURAL TREAD SHOES.

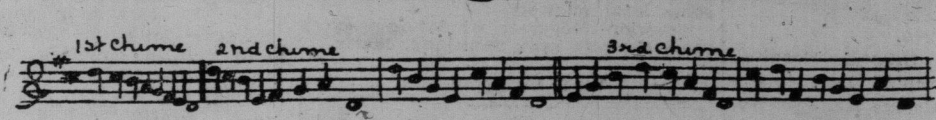

Taplin natural tread shoes, the most highly approved shoes in the world, are the only Canadian shoes approved by the hygiene committees of the Y.W.C.A. of the United States and Canada, were again shown at the Exhibition. Visit their store at 310 Yonge street and step into a paradise of comfort and good looks. Made in nine widths, in all sizes and leathers and will be fitted to your feet in a size and width that they require.

Natural Tread Shoe Limited, who now own and operate their own factory, claim to be the only firm in the world not making or selling any shoes of wrong or injurious shape. While in the city you may be brought to realize the importance of good feet. Now that is just the business of natural tread—protection and correction. Visit their store and investigate this low heel, straight inside line, flexible shank shoe comfort.

OUT TO FIT CHILD FOR CITIZENSHIP

Government exhibits at the Exhibition this year show what can be accomplished in technical and vocational training under the supervision of Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education for Ontario. The exhibit this year is above the average, and is full of unusual interest and instruction. This exhibit is situated in the government buildings, near the west entrance of the C. N. E., and indicates more than any other exhibit the determination of the department to thoroughly fit the child for the responsibilities of citizenship.

Major Clarke James is in charge of the exhibit, and it is specially noteworthy as an indication of the work of the industrial and technical schools throughout the province, with exhibits showing the possibilities of vocational training under the department. There are more erudite sections equally well selected. As for instance, the biological, entomological and archaeological exhibits, which will interest specially the students of life and evolution, no matter under what aspects. Ornithology and botany are by no means neglected, and the most modern specimens of reptilian life are given place among topical studies of ancient history.

The dental section is more than interesting, and so is the hygiene exhibit. A notable feature of the dental exhibit is the X-ray photographs which are taken of any patients who may care to have them taken during the session at the "Ex." The World saw one little print which was taken shortly before his arrival. The plan of the session at the "Ex." The World saw one little print which was taken shortly before his arrival.

The hygiene exhibit indicates the great care which is taken in the health of the children of the province. All the necessary equipment is shown. The minister of education believes that the health of the children is the most important consideration of the department as a means of keeping both body and mind alive in the best sense of the term, and being alive, therefore receptive to the best that education can provide.

That the department demands only the highest standards in all the work of the children is shown in the quality noted at the exhibit. The displays in technical and other departments, especially in the manual training department, shows high order of accomplishment. It is generally realized that these exhibits are almost on a par with the best machine exhibits in the large manufacturing plants of industrial centres. Practical application of manual training is here shown by far the best and speaks much for the future of the province from its men and women.

Perhaps the essential value of this exhibit is the lesson it teaches that education today, at least in this province, is not confined to the mere rudiments, but embraces many of the most intricate and erudite manual processes. The minister of education and his colleagues are to be congratulated upon the exhibit as an example of the highest type of untiring energy and enterprise.
