DEMOCRAT CONVENTION NOMINATES ROOSEVELT AS COX'S RUNNING MATE

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Chosen by Acclamation for Vice-Presidential Candidate — Cox Nominated for President After 44 Ballots Had Been Taken.

San Francisco, July 6.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, assistant secretary of the navy, was nominated for vice-president today by the Democratic national convention and became the running mate of Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, the Democrats' choice for the presidential nomination.

The first cries of "Cox and Roosevelt" rang thru the convention hall and were mixed with the shouts of "Vote of acclamation" by which he was nominated without a ballot. Despite disapproval of the "Tammany" organization to accept him, Roosevelt's name went over with a hand wagon movement during which all other candidates were withdrawn.

Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, who was considered as a candidate and refused to allow his name to be used, finally was urged to consent if he should be "drafted." At it fell out the Tammany crowd decided to accept Roosevelt, who brought to the ticket the participation of an administration man, and Mr. Colby's name was not considered further.

Was No Opposition. Mr. Roosevelt was placed in nomination by Timothy L. Ansberry, a former representative from Ohio, who was at as a Cox's delegate to the district of Columbia delegation. Seconds sprang from all parts of the convention hall, and also Roosevelt was not formally nominated until well after the business of nomination was taken up, there was never any doubt about it, and never at any time was there any opposition. The seconding of his nomination by Governor Smith, New York, from the Tammany delegation, clinched it.

Senator Robinson, Arkansas, permanent chairman of the convention, was appointed chairman of the committee to notify Governor Cox of his nomination, and Chairman Homer S. Cummings, of the Democratic national committee, was appointed chairman of the committee to notify Mr. Roosevelt.

After its tumultuous session of 44 ballots the convention reassembled to finish its work. There was at first a delay, utilized by the Cox managers, to hear from the governor about his wishes on the vice-presidential nomination. E. H. Moore, Youngstown, Ohio, who managed the governor's fight, let it be known that Cox was willing to leave the selection of his running mate to the convention. With that the forces easily and quickly coalesced and after Roosevelt's nomination applied their appreciation of him by his chief, Secretary Joseph Daniels.

During the closing moments of the convention the usual formal resolutions affecting the national committee and the convention organization, were adopted, with a resolution expressing the thanks and appreciation of the convention to the city of San Francisco.

Cox Nominated. James M. Cox, governor of Ohio, was nominated as candidate for the presidency at 1:40 o'clock this morning. The nomination came at the conclusion of a 44-ballot struggle in which he had steadily beaten down the forces of Wm. G. McAdoo.

When the balloting on the forty-fourth vote had gotten to a point where Cox had 702 votes and was rapidly approaching the necessary two-thirds of 729, Sam B. Aronson of Kansas, manager of the McAdoo forces, and vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, took the platform and moved that the nomination of Governor Cox be made unanimous. Immediately there was a roar from the crowd and worn delegates which lasted for a full four minutes before Chairman Robinson could put the question on Aronson's motion to suspend the rules and nominate Cox by acclamation. The motion was formally voted over with a rolling chorus of ayes and a crashing of the brass bands.

COX APPROVES ROOSEVELT.

Dayton, Ohio, July 6.—Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, today fully submitted himself to the decisions taken against me as contained in the above document.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

(Copyright, 1920, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

THE WORLD is never the same to a girl after some man has gazed into her eyes and told her that she looks like Mary Pickford or Pearl White.

It isn't until a girl has tried doing everything under the sun she can think of to charm men that she discovers that the only way to fascinate them is by doing nothing at all.

Can anybody remember the day when a man kissed a girl for love, the excitement, or curiosity, instead of just as a favor—and when a girl said: "How dare you!" instead of "Go on!"?

The average man's idea of a "sweet, feminine woman" is the kind who would rather choke in the right corner than breathe in the wrong one.

A man's "ideal wife" is one who can run marriage like a jitney-bus and furnish limousine comforts on a trolley-car income.

BRITISH THREATEN TO BOMBARD BEICOS

Town Occupied by Turks, Who Hold Greek Girls and Men as Hostages.

London, July 6.—Turkish Nationalist troops on Monday occupied Beicos, on the Asiatic shore of the Bosphorus, about 10 miles from Constantinople, and opposite the allied headquarters on the European side, according to a despatch to The Mail from Constantinople. Fighting with British and Greek troops in the town followed the entry of the Nationalists.

The British fleet, says the report, bombarded the Turkish position. The Nationalists, however, continue to hold Beicos, the allied troops having been withdrawn.

HOLD GREEKS AS HOSTAGES

Constantinople, July 6.—Bombardment of the Great Mosque at Beicos, and destruction of the town by airplane attacks are threatened in an ultimatum received by the governor of Beicos from Vice-Admiral de Robeck, British high commissioner at Constantinople, who has been in charge of British landing parties along the coast of the Sea of Marmara.

The text of the document follows: "Nationalist forces, in violation of the peace terms, have attacked territory occupied by the British on the Sea of Marmara, and have hindered the landing of forces from the fleet."

"As a consequence of this aggressive attitude against the British and other allies, and in event these attacks continue, it has been decided to bombard the mosque at Beicos and to destroy Beicos by airplanes."

"To avoid such action I ask you to instruct your subordinates to discontinue their aggressive menace and not to prevent our landing wherever landing is deemed necessary."

It is reported that the Turkish Nationalists, believing that the British have not sufficient troops available to support their marines, have been defying the navy all along the Dardanelles, the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmara.

British warships are constantly firing at gun nests established by the Nationalists in the mountains, near ports in the area to be jointly occupied by the allies under the treaty, but Nationalist snipers continue operating close to the shore as to endanger shipping.

Extensive fortifications have been made by the British on the mountain at Beicos, near the north entrance of the Bosphorus, where the dreadnought Iron Duke has been shelling Nationalist bands in the surrounding mountains.

Turks are holding forty Greek girls and men at Beicos as hostages and are threatening their execution if the British bombard the city.

A UNIQUE CUSTOM.

In Switzerland is an old law which compels every married couple to plant six trees immediately after the wedding ceremony, and two on the birth of every child. They are planted on commons and near the roads and, being mostly fruit trees, are both useful and ornamental.

The earliest British settlements in New Brunswick were four around the bay of Chignecto Bay and one on the St. John River. According to the census of 1867 these five townships then had a population of eleven hundred.

HEARINGS CLOSED ON FREIGHT RATES

Decision by Interstate Commerce Board is Expected Early in August.

Washington, July 6.—Hearings were closed before the interstate commerce commission today on the railroads' application for increased freight rates, which has been described by shippers and carriers alike as the greatest single proposition in its effect on the people in general ever submitted to the commission.

Decision by the commission on the application is expected early in August, in order that the new rates may be effective when the government guarantee expires September 1.

The railroads, under the provisions of the transportation act, asked rate advances which would yield an added yearly income of $107,000,000 to provide the six per cent. return permitted by the law. In addition the expense to be met by the expected award of the railroads' board of directors at between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000, must be met by further increases, the carriers claim.

Opposition on the part of shippers was confined mainly to the amount of the increases asked by the carriers. These increases are 35 per cent. in the east, 31 per cent. in the south, and 24 per cent. in the west.

The necessity for some advance was generally conceded. Many shippers disapproved of a general advance of the strict percentage basis as advocated by the carriers and suggested flat increases on certain commodities.

Closing argument for the railroads, today, A. P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, told the commission that when the labor board's decision was handed out the carriers would ask that part of the further rate advance necessary should be borne by the passenger traffic. The carriers heretofore had asked that the entire advance be placed on freight.

SHORTAGE OF GOLD AND SILVER

The craze for ornaments is contributing materially to the shortage of gold and silver, declared Charles W. Henderson, statistician for the United States geological survey, recently. "Residents of the United States expended $80,000,000 for gold ornaments last year, $1,000,000 in 1918 and $18,000,000 in 1915," said Mr. Henderson, "which amounts to $21,000,000 more than the total production in the country in 1919. France is spending even more than the United States, and the price of gold in the French republic has increased from 3,400 francs per 100 grams in 1914 to 10,000 francs from 6,000 to 30,000 francs."
