He placed himself on record as assuring any candidate that he would not be hindered from entering the foreign field because of any scholarship obligations.

The Bishop expressed appreciation of the W. A. divinity scholarship. He spoke of why the clergy left New Brunswick. In 19 years he had passed 45 clergymen to the United States from this diocese and among the reasons for this exodus he mentioned the hardship of long drives in all weathers, cold and discomfort in vestries and rectories, which meant a breakdown in health, the small prospect of promotion and the stipends inadequate for maintaining a

His Lordship closed with a special parishes to have sympathy with their English rectors and not to criticize is their methods were strange at first. He declared emphatically that the work of the church in New Brunswick would have been crippled if it had not been for the English clergymen, who had come to this diocese when no other clergymen could be obtained. He again thanked Mrs. Ferrabee for her splendid address and prayed God's blessing would be on her and on the W. A.
