Agriculture Credits

Government action to promote agricultural credits of long and intermediate terms is recommended in the sixth interim report of the special committee on agricultural credits, tabled yesterday. The committee has now made its final report. The committee recommends that, because the question as to what extent such credits are in operation in Canada, the United States and elsewhere, and examine the Canadian provincial loan systems, should be fitted into and related to the existing bank system as well as existing provincial systems and the operation of mortgage and loan companies.

To this end the Government should obtain the views of agriculturists, bankers, loan companies, officers of Canadian provincial loan systems, as well as officers of the United States Federal Farm Loan system.

Differs on Existing Systems.

In a brief reference to the existing provincial farm loan system, the committee has been asked to state its differences of opinion, as to their success. "It would appear," the report adds, "that some are suffering from inadequate loans, while others are being made in anticipation of the covering of the surface of the wharf with an asphalt pavement."

On account of the lack of timber, the work on the north wing of the west side ferry floats has been stopped temporarily.
