Germany Must Have no Profit

New York—The great tragedy, which is the world war, is the final expression of the idea and the policy taught, spoken and believed by Germany for the last generation. And not only was the war "German made" but the war has been conducted with a brutal and ferocious disregard for the doctrines of Christianity and humanity which have long been accepted as the signs of civilization and the proof of a general emergence from barbarism.

Any peace that gave Germany profit as the result of crime would be a peace shameful in itself and calculated to last but that brief hour during which Germany's strength was gathered for a new attack.

That Germany should emerge victorious from a war vainly designed by her and prosecuted by her in a manner recalling the worse of remote barbarism seems to be at once a thing unthinkable and a possibility that would threaten all that we in America care for and have held to.

The very smallest concession that the world can afford to allow to Germany, if it is to provide for its own safety hereafter is that Germany shall emerge from the war intact.

The very least that Europe must insist upon and America hope for is that there shall be no reward for the crimes Germany has committed and no booty carried away and held as a result of the assaults upon Belgium, Serbia and France.

Now after two years and a half there can be no peace and it seems that no right minded American can desire that peace should come whatever his personal discomfort or apprehension until Belgium, Serbia and France are evacuated, until Alsace-Lorraine is restored to France, Trieste and the Trentino to the Latin world, Armenia rescued from the Turkish assassins, and if Transylvania, Roumania by race can be given to Roumania, this also is just.

Letter From Corporal Gaukrodger

To Mrs. John White, Mother of George White

D Company, 185 B. Battalion, Nova Scotia Highlanders, Witty Camp, Witty, Surrey, England.

Dear Mrs. White—I promised George that I would drop a few lines to you and I now hasten to fulfill that promise. I am a stranger to you, and yet perhaps you have heard my name since I was stationed for a few months at Clarke's Beach, during which time I visited Bay Roberts.

Your son, George, was in my section, and I was very glad, for I felt that having been in Nfld. I could understand and help the boys from that part of the British Empire. I have been section commander for some time and was looking forward to the time when we as a battalion and as a section would be fighting together in the trenches.

My hopes in that were shattered when the news came that a draft was to be taken from the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade and that our company was to supply 60 of them. It came as a hard blow to most of us. We have trained together during the past 9 months and faced the same difficulties and had come to love each other as only those who have circumstances can love, and I can assure you that since that draft of nearly 300 left, our battalion has not been the same. We miss the lads as parents miss us in the home and social circle. We miss their familiar forms and voices.

It was not my privilege to be there when the boys marched away, I being out duty elsewhere, but I saw them all a couple of days before they went. They were quite cheerful and were going off in great hopes of accomplishing that for which they first enlisted, and we bid them Godspeed. We may never meet again even though we come through this conflict alive, but we trust that the great Providence will watch over them and us.

I am taking the liberty of writing this letter in the hope that it will bring some slight message of comfort and of hope. In these times of danger and difficulty I often think with comfort of the words that Whittier wrote:

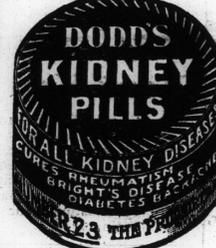

"I know not what the future hath Of marvel or surprise, Assured alone that life and death His mercy underlies."

It is a good thing to remember that ruling firm the passions of men is God, the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, not Thor or Woden, but the loving, tender, sympathetic Father whose highest expression and plainest language is in the word made flesh—Jesus. God is still active. He has not gone on a journey, but is actively and lovingly interested in the doings and sufferings of His children. It is to Him that we can go in these times, for He has said: "Come unto me ye weary and I will give you rest." Read Psalm 34.

"Peace, perfect peace with loved ones far away; In Jesus' keeping we are safe and they."

I hope you won't object to my writing this letter. George promised to write me as soon as he could but I haven't heard from him yet. I hope for your sake that no harm comes near him. Pray for him. Provide all the cover you can from the Lord, and He who is in all and over all will preserve and keep that which is committed to His care.

Believe me to be, yours sincerely, (Corp.) CLEMENS GAUKRODGER. (The writer of the above letter is Mr. Gaukrodger, a young Methodist Probationer who was stationed at Clarke's Beach about two years ago. He occupied the pulpit at Central Meth. Church here on several occasions.—Editor)

World Conference On Faith and Order

As the European War continues to make it impossible to send a Delegation to Europe to explain the object and methods of the World Conference on Faith and Order, which is proposed as a step in preparation for the reunion of the divisions of Christendom, the Commission resident in North America has decided to establish a North American Preparation Committee to collect material for the world conference, and to explain and spread in North America the conference spirit, instead of that spirit of controversy which has for so many years kept Christians apart.

The North American Preparation Committee has now been appointed and will hold its first meeting at Garden City, Long Island, New York, January 22-24, 1917. The Committee consists of about 175 men from all parts of the United States and Canada and includes members of the following Communions: Anglican, Armenian, Baptist, Congregationalist, Disciples of Christ, Friends, Lutheran, Methodist, Moravian, Polish Catholic, Presbyterian, Reformed, Roman Catholic, Russian and Serbian.

It is believed that never before have so many men of so many different Communions worked together for the common purpose of trying to understand and appreciate each other and to bring out the points of agreement which they hold in common as Christians.

German Riots in Kitchener, Ontario

Kitchener, January 3.—A serious condition of affairs has transpired at Kitchener, Ontario. For some months past, the Teutonic sympathizers have been agitating to have the name of the town, Kitchener, changed back again to Berlin, or to some other name less obtrusively British than Kitchener. The result was the formation of a Citizens' League on the one side and a British League on the other. Both of these organizations nominated a complete ticket for the municipal election. The campaign was carried on with great energy and a good deal of bitterness, and the bad feeling engendered came to a climax on Monday night, when the counting of the ballots proved that the pro-Germans are in a large majority in the city. The German ticket swept the city.

When this was made known, the British League organized a parade, marching down the main street, when in front of the News Record office, the British flag, which was carried at the head of the procession, was torn from the hands of the soldier who carried it, while such expression as "This is a German city now," "The Germans are not beaten yet," and "Wait until you see King George knocked on the head," were used by the Teutonic sympathizers. This aroused the anger of the men in khaki, and in a short time the office of the News Record was a mass of wreckage.

During the melee Ald. elect H. M. Bowman and N. Assmusen attempted to stop the soldiers, and were roughly handled, the former being struck on the head by a chair and the latter was knocked to the floor. Provost Marshal Osborne, of London district, was in the city, and immediately appeared on the scene and called upon the men to disperse. They did so, and shortly after a message was sent to Galt for a guard of the 122nd Muskoka Battalion, which arrived and guarded King Street. Before their arrival, however, the soldiers made another raid on the News Record office, and did considerable damage. Martial law was proclaimed by Marshall Osborne and peace was restored.

The British Leaguers held a mass meeting in the mean time, at which the unsuccessful candidates delivered addresses, but the Citizens Leaguers did not celebrate.

The Name of France

"Give us a name to fill the mind With the shining thought that leads mankind, The glory of learning, the joy of art, A name that tells of a splendid part In a long, long toll and the strenuous fight Of the human race to win its way From the ancient darkness into the day Of freedom, brotherhood, equal right, A name like a star, a name of light, I give you France!"

"Give us a name to stir the blood With a warmer glow and a swifter flood, At the touch of a courage that conquers fear— A name like the call of a trumpet clear And silver-sweet and iron-strong, That brings three million men to their feet, Ready to march and steady to meet The foe who threatens that name with wrong— A name that rings like a battle-woe, I give you France!"

"Give us a name to move the heart With the strength the noble griefs impart— To save mankind from the slay of the sword— A name that calls the world to share The burden of sacrificial strife Where the cause at stake is the world's free life And the rule of the people everywhere— A name like a vow, a name like a prayer— I give you France! —Henry Van Dyke."

The 'Imperial' Leads Them All

An Unsolicited Testimonial

Black Tickle, Labrador, August 15, 1916.

Mr. C. E. Russell,

Dear Sir,—It pleases me very much to be able to give praise to the 5 h.p. Imperial Engine which I bought from you this spring. It has given me the best of satisfaction, and I can honestly recommend them to any fisherman wanting a reliable Engine. There are some five or six different makes of Engines used here, but the IMPERIAL can lead them all. It can steam faster than any of the five and a half of any kind used here. Wishing you all success. Yours truly,

MARK MORRISSEY, C. E. Russell, Bay Roberts, Agent for the 'Imperial.'

"Imperial" Engines

The first cost of a motor engine is important. The life of the engine is also important. Some engines wear only a short time; others go on doing duty for years; The cooling or water circulation has a lot to do with it. This "Imperial" has. You can run the "Imperial" at the highest speed and yet keep it as cool as you wish.
