NEPTUNES LOST TO MONCTON. MONCTON, Jan. 14.—One of the best and most hotly contested provincial hockey league matches took place Saturday evening in the local rink between the Neptunes of St. John and the Moncton Victorias, ending in a Jan. 14th—Neptunes v. score of 2 goals to 1.

The home team was much stronger than when it met Sackville, its defence work was incomparably better, and had the forwards played the same game against Sackville as they played Saturday evening, the college town boys might not have gone home with the Victorias' scalps dangling at their Wortman's goal work was at times phenomonal, and he repeatedly ter shot was rained upon him, but the Neptune's centre to get in his us ual work. Though 30 to 35 pounds lighter Clawson by his work against his man proved his right to play in senior company. The visitors' weakness lay in the loss of Blizard. His coolness and judgment in shooting would have ounted much in a closely contested game of this kind. Time and again the Neptunes would prove their superiority in combination work, coming down on Saturday and will be continued on the ice in beautiful quartette fashion, the two following Saturdays. In the and seemingly going through then first day's play there were some close with ease. But they would make the fatal mistake of attempting to shoot when too far from the goal, and when the ga nes both afternoon and evening point and cover would also be between them and the goalman. The result were watched by fairly large numbers would be a long lift back by the Moncton defence, and the Neptunes' work would be lost. Howard, who took Blizard's place, played a strong game and made his opponent, Shaefer, keep hust-ling, but he was weak in shooting. Capt. Brown who has not been well for the past few days and practically got out or bed to play, was lacking in his usual zest, but played a splendid game under the circumstances. The bright particular stars in the Nep-tune's defence were Coombs and Carlyle. Fred played Saturday night as though he were back with the old champion Mohawks. Even the Moncton spectators could not begrudge him a cheer for the way he handled his stick and when necessary his opponents. Carlyle was said to have had five eyes on the puck, so well did he watch it. He was given lots of support by his cover and point, but at times he live subject in the minds of the masse had to do the trick all by himself, and, of the American people, as is shown by with two exceptions, he did it. There are more monuments, most of them elabor ate works of art, on the Gettysburg field than on all the other battlefields of the world, put together, it is said. There are more than five hundred of them, without counting the "markers," the inscriptions, and the long lines of cannon on the sites of the contending batteries. The architectural adornments of the field are said to have cost a total of $7,000,000.
Townsend alone could drive the rubber
