WINDSOR.
Feb 15.—Mr. John P. Smith and Miss Constance spent part of last week at Harlock, the guests of Mrs. Henry Hadden.

Mr. Clarence H. Dimock, after a brief visit with Truro friends, returned to her home in Windsor.
Miss Anthony Blanchard, and daughter, Miss Jean arrived in town last week and will visit a number of friends before returning home.

Mr. T. Watson and his son, Mr. Keith Watson, Prince St. West, left on Thursday last for Harlock.
Out, called there by the serious illness of the former's aged father.

Mr. A. P. Jones has given up the home lately occupied by himself and family on Gray St., Mr. Jones and Miss Janet Jones are at present boarding at the home of Mrs. E. D. Lockhart, Gray St.

Miss Charles Hensley and two little children intend leaving on Thursday next for Canning, where they will reside. Mr. Hensley has been there since his promotion to the position of Manager of the Halifax Banking Company's branch in that town a few days ago. They will be much missed by many friends in town who wish them every success in their new home. Mrs. Hensley's sister, Miss Lillian Smith, will accompany her to Canning and remain over Sunday.

A very pleasant evening was spent on Monday of last week at the residence of Mrs. Henry Dimock under the auspices of the Women's Sewing Circle of the Baptist church, in aid of their fund. Quite a number took part. Mr. Dimock gave some solo violin music, and was encored, solo was prettily rendered by Miss M. Vaughan and Miss Nora Shand and encore were called for. Prof.
Adams gave some pianoforte music which added to the enjoyment of the evening. Refreshments in the shape of cake, coffee, chocolate, etc. were served.

Mr. Fred Lynch, Moncton, has been visiting Shubenacadie and Milford.

Miss Eva Shaw is in Wellville taking a commercial course at Acadia Seminary.

Miss Edna Salter, Halifax, who has been a guest at the home of Mr and Mrs Edwin Shaw has returned home.

Mrs A. H. Johnson, Wellville, has been elected a member of the Women's Horticultural and Agricultural Society of England.

Mr and Mrs Charles Young of Falmouth, and Miss Mary Calder left on Wednesday last for New York where they will remain until the first of May.

Mrs John Grant, Hardwoodland, has recovered from her recent illness.

Miss Gertrude Corbin, of Kentville, after taking a three months' course at the Winnipeg Business College and Shortland Institute, has secured a situation on the staff of the Free Press, Winnipeg. The Free Press is one of the largest daily papers in Canada.

Miss Carrie DeWitt, who has been in poor health for some time, left on Monday for Ontario to attend the Muskoka Sanatorium, and was accompanied by her father, Dr. DeWitt. Miss DeWitt is one of Wellville's popular young ladies, and her many friends hope she will return very soon, benefited by her trip.

The ladies of the Upper Falmouth hall circle held their tea on Monday evening last, but the attendance not being up to expectations on account of bad roads, it was repeated on Monday evening. All present spent a splendid time, socially it was a great success, and everybody was well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

A social was held at the Mansie, Milford, Feb. 6.
A large number of people gathered, nearly every family being represented. All enjoyed themselves and before separating partook of a luncheon, and a liberal collection was taken for church purposes.

On Tuesday, February 19th, a performance of Sheridan's 'Critic' will be given at Edgehill.

This brilliant burlesque was written, it will be remembered, to ridicule the absurdities of the stage during the eighteenth century. In which noisy gibberish too often took the place of common sense, and the most elementary principles of acting gave place to attitude and strut. The play was to have taken place in the Christmas term, but was unavoidably postponed, and the approach of Lent obliges the lady principle to fix the date as above.

The carnival at the rink, Feb. 6th, under the direction of the 17th, batt. band, was a grand success in every way. Over a hundred skaters were entertained to represent almost every character imaginable, and among those who deserve special mention are Misses Nellie Burnett, Emma Smith, Grace Smith, Lena Pidgeon, Kathleen Russell, Sadie Shaw, Maggie McCurdy and Master C. M. Curry.

The rink was very prettily decorated with red, white and blue bunting, Japanese lanterns, and on the sides of the building were draped flags.

THINGS OF VALUE.

A bright tea-bottle will retain the heat of water boiled in it much more efficiently than a blackened one, so black is a personal indicator of heat.

One Olla.—The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly held before the public in the columns of the daily press, proves that Dr. Thomas' Elixir—An absolutely pure compound of one of the sweetest remedial oils in existence—remedies rheumatic pain, eradicates afflictions of the throat and lungs, and cures piles, eczema, scabs, hemorrhoids, tumors, hernia, and injuries of horses and cattle.

What is that which is often found where it is not? Fault?

There is nothing equal to Mother's Own Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of the kind has given such satisfaction.

What time should an imposter visit an iron foundry? When he wants a horseshoe.

Holloway's Cure Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Which of the planets has the most spots? The moon, because it is constantly changing its appearance.

A CAREFULLY PREPARED FILL.—Much time and attention were expended in the experiment with the ingredients that enter into the composition of Farnell's Vegetable Pills before they were brought to the public. Whatever other pills may be, Farnell's Vegetable Pills are the result of much experience, and are perfectly safe. The condition of the digestive organs and kidneys may be readily ascertained by seeing what they are represented to be.

Why should doctors be less liable than others to be sick on the ocean? Because they are more used to sea sickness.

It was a Connecticut woman who, when her husband was brought home intoxicated, thanked her starvation she was not a blood relation.

A SUGGESTION.—Everyone wishes to be successful in any undertaking in which he may engage. It is, therefore, extremely gratifying to know that their efforts to compound a medicine which would prove a blessing to mankind have been successful beyond their expectations. The endorsement of these pills by the public is a guarantee that a pill has been produced which will fulfill everything claimed for it.

A little girl, on being told something which much amused her, exclaimed emphatically: "I shall remember that the whole of my life and when I grow up I will write it down."

Severe colds are easily cured by the use of Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, a medicine of extraordinary penetrating and healing properties. It is so-called by those who have used it as being the best remedy for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all affections of the throat and chest. Its agreeableness to the taste makes it a favorite with ladies and children.

It is a mean thing for a handsome man to go to a town and give every indication of being in the market until half the girls are wild about him, and then send for his wife.

Friends to Spare.

In Miss Helen Caddick's entertaining book, 'A White Woman in Central Africa,' many and varied experiences are related.

During the journey this rather frail Englishwoman had no companionship save her black bearers, who seem to have been always courteous and obliging. The philosophical way in which Miss Caddick met the discomforts of the trip may be seen from the following paragraphs.

'At Kawimbe,' she says, 'the rats in the house were terrible at night. They roared about my room and scampered over my bed in a thoroughly happy manner. I could not sleep at first, but at last I got used to them and dropped off, only to wake up and find a rat with his foot in my ear.'

On her first night on the steamer on Lake Nyassa she writes: 'I had a great shock on taking possession of my stateroom, to find that I must share it with an enormous number of cockroaches. They were the largest and most voracious I had ever seen.
Some of them greedily ate all the kid off my shoes, while others ran races over my bunk and nibbled my hair.'

'One night something larger than a cockroach or rat dropped from the rafters on my bed and awoke me. I lighted the candle, and it was a lemur, a lovely little furry creature. It looked fascinating; but uncertain of its conduct, I thought I would put it outside.'

'I opened the door on to the veranda and tried gently to drive it from the room, but alas! it objected and sprang straight on my shoulder, on my shoulder, gripping my arm with its sharp little teeth, refusing to let go until I pinched its tail. As it turned to bite my hand I flung it out of the door, which I quickly closed.'

'I had fewer animals in my tent than in a house; but even in my tent I was apt to wake up and find all sorts of creepy, crawly things about my pillow.'

Uninvited Guests.

Persons who want to save hotel bills are extremely likely to drop in at the personage—preferably one where the occupant has a limited salary and an uninvited family. The merest shadow of an excuse suffices for an introduction, as in two cases which a clergyman reports in the Chicago Times-Herald.

'Once,' he said, 'the last of our company had gone, and no new arrival was expected. I felt that I could renew acquaintance with my family, and that we might sit down to a meal without strangers being present. Just then the door-bell rang. I opened the door myself, and a young lady whom I had never seen before stood on the door-step with a cat in her hand.'

'Are you the Reverend Doctor Blank?' she asked.

'I told her that I was, and she introduced herself as Miss Blank.'

ed herself as coming from Akron, Ohio.

'I heard you preach in Akron when I was a little girl, and now I have come to spend a few days with your family and hear you preach again.'

'I handed her over to my wife and daughters, and she stayed a week, and treated us with the assurance of an old friend.'

Another guest he liked to tell about was a lady woman from his native town, who had been waited on by every member of his family in town, and who existed constant attention. When she was leaving after a month's visit, he went to the door to see her off, and politely ventured to hope that her stay with them had been pleasant.

'I don't know as I have anything to complain of,' was the depressing answer.

Baby's Pictures.

The trials that beset the amateur photographer are many, but the joy of obtaining a good picture now and then com-pensates him for frequent failures.

'I've got the baby's photograph. I took it all myself,' and it came out splendidly,' said a ten year old enthusiast, presenting for his grandmother's inspection a picture of a bed on which lay a small bundle covered with mosquito netting.

'Yes, dear, that's the baby on her mother's bed, so enough,' said grandmother, after a careful study of this 'still life' subject through her spectacles.

'Yes,' said the young photographer with pardonable pride. 'Mother said I'd never be able to take her when she's awake 'cause she squirms so, but getting her asleep that way, and under the mosquito netting, it was just as easy! And aren't the legs of the bed splendid and clear?'

Unlike A. J. D. M.

Obscurity, like most other qualities, has many forms of manifestation.

'I do think,' said one of the group of nephews who were discussing 'Uncle Clarence's' peculiarities 'he's the con-servest man alive.'

'What new light have you had on the subject?' asked one of the others.

'Well,' he said, 'he's so conservative, was the rejoinder, 'that if he sees a newspaper advertisement headed, 'Don't read this,' he doesn't read it!'
