THE CHRISTMAS DINNER AT THE ASSINIBOIA

Written Specially for the Times by J. W. Bengough

On the evening of Dec. 24, J. W. Bengough and J. D. A. Tripp gave a joint concert in the opera house here. On account of delayed trains they were unable to leave for their next engagement until the evening of Christmas Day. Mr. Bengough so thoroughly enjoyed the dinner served by mine host Marshall that he wrote the following verses and presented them to the editor of the Times. Incidentally, the menus referred to were printed by the Times job presses.

The faithful statement of English Jim,
Of the piece of luck that occurred to him
On a visit he made to Medicine Hat
On Christmas Eve, and how he sat
At the swiftest table and tastiest meal
That a bang-up cook did ever reveal
To hungry guests—as Jim told the tale
When he had got back over the trail:
"Well, you see the boss 'e sent me on a message to the 'At.
To meet the trim & goin' west, but you can knock me flat.
If that 'ere bloomin' bunch o' cars showed up the 'ole d'y long,
Somethink down Moosejaw w'y they told us, 'ad gone wrong.
And that is 'ow it 'appened that I stayed there o'er night.
And war on 'and on Christmas 'y to see that special sight.
I mean the dinin' table at the Assiniboa shack,
W'y the very mem'ry of it sets my lips a-smack.
Marshall, 'e runs the ranch. 'e knows 'e says, 'as I'm a sinner,
I'm goin' to serve the up-to-datest, first class Christmas dinner
That ever 'as been dreamed about in all the bloomin' west.
You bet I'll make 'em all sit up w'en I 'ave done my best.
So, 'long about the hour of four on Christmas afternoon,
We 'eard a quiet 'at give out—a pleasant sorter tune.
Of 'Dinner's on' and then the doors was opened right out wide,
And all of us was avoked polite to please to walk inside.
And blow me if I didn't pretty nearly come a cropper,
W'en I saw them decorations home up so slick an' proper.
Wiv festoons made of 'olly and ornamental paper,
That 'ung all 'round the p'jion, 'y'know—a reg'lar Chris'mas caper

And tissue paper Chris'mas bells, that seemed so ring good cheer,
A 'angin' nat'ral as life from each big chandelier,
But s'y, the t'ble, that was it—the t'ble was a beaut;
Wiv every sort of d'nty, from t'p'ey cake to fruit
You talk of 'andsome picters! Your '— would fairly dazzle
W'y, mites, they couldn't beat it, no, not at Winter Castle.
As w'en we all 'ad took our seats they 'anded us a card
With Menu printed on it—got up without regard,
A dandy bit of printin', finished in gold and red,
And 'eres a few stray hitem to show you wot it said—
Oysters, Creme de turtle soup, an' Royal consommé,
Bould salmon, white fish, olives, and sauce de celeri,
Fricassee de pigeon, stewed chicken, sauce de creme,
Bouillabaisse, turkey, oyster patties—each dish a perfect dream.
Broiled chicken, sweetbread, fillet of beef, roast duck with apple sauce,
Roast turkey and roast goose, 'y'know, but I am at a loss
To mention everythin' there was—salads of every kind,
And vegetables, every sort; and if you 'ad a mind
For pastry, there was lemon sponge an' mince an' apple pie,

Plum puddings, jellies, without end, nuts, cheese and raisins, s'—
You've only got to think of hevery thing you'd like to eat,
And then you 'ave some notion of that dinner all complete,
And so I said to Marshall, w'en I up from the t'ble,
That is I tried to s'y it as well as I was able,
That dinner beat the record an' 'olds the bloomin' belt,
And I said it good an' 'early, for that is 'ow I felt.

Bye-Election.

McKay Elected by Good Majority.

A large number of ratepayers turned out to vote in the bye-election to select a successor to ex-Ald. H. Stewart. The candidates were Thos. McKay and F. O. Sissons. Mr. McKay polled almost a solid north side vote and won out by a majority of fifty one. The results were:
Subdivision 1 Subdivision 2
McKay 102 Sissons 53
The result was a surprise to Mr. Sisson's followers but the north side wanted another representative and got one.

UNION BANK BUILDING.

It is rumored that the Union bank has bought the lot and building formerly occupied by Green Bros. steam laundry, and will proceed to erect a $50,000 building on it during 1907. The situation is excellent and if the purchase has been made a handsome brick building will undoubtedly go up on it.

No confirmation can be obtained as no one is permitted to verify or contradict the report.

The New Boat.

Work to be Commenced Immediately.

Capt. Ross returned on Saturday from a trip to Vancouver where he was looking after the lumber for the construction of the new boat which is to run for 400 miles on the south Saskatchewan. The lumber is to be shipped on Jan. 10th, from British Columbia, and the machinery from Chicago on the 13th. The lumber would have been here before had the mills, where it was being prepared, not burned down. The machinery is ready now for shipment.
Work on the scows is to be commenced immediately so as to be ready for the lumber. Construction

Business Changes.

Two Well-Known Local Men Buy Out a Store. Another Change in Sight.

An important change in business circles in town is the purchase of the grocery, boots and shoes, and dry goods, section of the W. B. Marshall Company's store by W. C. Harris, formerly proprietor of the Times, and Joseph Leonard, who has been manager of these departments of the store up to the present. The business is to be taken over on Friday or Saturday, the deal having been closed this morning. Extensive alterations will be made in the store, which is one of the best in town. This half is to be divided from the other half, and a cellar and part of the large warehouse at the back will be included. Both men are well and favorably known locally, and are sure to get their share of the business. The style of the new firm will be Leonard & Harris.
Another business change is under way, and will, perhaps, be closed tomorrow, but nothing can be said definitely at this time.
