

MRS. F. H. TORRINGTON

PRESIDENT N. C. OF W.

ANOTHER woman who has been associated with much of the interest evoked by war conditions, is Mrs. Torrington, President of the National Council of Women, but while she has been ready to respond to any call that might reach out to her—and these were many—it was for the most part in a national or provincial way that she was able to give official assistance. This being so, while we may not tabulate and claim for ourselves the many enterprises of the National Council of Women and other large organizations, we may note Mrs. Torrington as a Toronto woman whose influence in war work has reached out through her societies from coast to coast of the Dominion.

DR. MARGARET PATTERSON

HONORED BY KING EDWARD

DR. MARGARET PATTERSON was already an experienced worker at the outbreak of the war, having spent ten years in India, where she was one of the leaders in combating the
