

brought things to this issue, we fear it will take the whole materialistic fraternity to be able to tell us which of these two thinkers in Bain's brain is Bain himself.

Lastly, this thinker or Ego of the materialist must be a creature of flux. Physiologists show that all matter of the body changes or passes out of it in seven years; so must this Ego or thinker pass out with it, and a new thinker take his place. Alas, for the materialist! how many thinkers have already passed out of his brain in sweat, that, under a false name, have been loving and living with his wife, and been teaching false metaphysics to the world. May a wiser and a better thinker come next!

The thinker or the Ego, with which we are acquainted, knows no flux, and is conscious of being one and the same since he was a child at his mother's knee. Shall we believe the clear statements of our own consciousness, or the confused and contradictory assertions of the materialist?
