NATURE'S MISTAKES.

SOME THAT MEN CONSIDER TO BE OF REMARKABLE VALUE.

Paradoxical as it may appear, the perfection of a Precious Stone is Largely Due to Some Imperfection in its Making by Nature.

Paradoxical as it may appear, the perfection of a gem is largely due to some imperfection in its make. Some little mistake made in the laboratory of nature produces a defective stone which is perfection itself from the lapidary's point of view. Ninety-nine out of every hundred emeralds dug from the mine are almost white and of little value, but the hundredth one is of a rich velvety green and, if without other flaws than its color, sells for $300 a carat or 240 times as much as its colorless brother. The reason of the rich color which gives the emerald its value is that nature, in making the stone, put in too much oxide of chromium, just as the cook sometimes gets too much salt in the biscuits. The standard of perfection in the laboratory of nature is the colorless emerald, and her deep green ones are some of her failures; failures which, nevertheless, delight mankind, however much they may disgust nature. You could buy a ton of oxide of chromium for the price which half a grain of it gives to a cheap and common crystal.

When nature makes mistakes in manufacturing diamonds, the results are equally remarkable. Her standard for a diamond is a pure white stone, but sometimes a foreign substance gets into the crucible, and the result is a red or blue diamond. A fine white brilliant of one carat can be bought for $125, but a blue stone of that size would be cheap at $3,500. A red diamond is of even greater value, a red stone of fifteen grains having been sold for $3,000. Yet the little particle of foreign material which nature carelessly left fall into the mixture when she was making that stone down in the heart of some primeval volcano is of less value than a grain of common salt and only got there by mistake.

Nature manufactures in her laboratory a material called spinel. You can buy a block of spinel as large as you can carry for a few dollars. Sometimes in making spinel small quantities of chromic acid get into the material and color it a deep red. The pieces so colored nature rejects as spoiled in the making and throws them in the dust bin, from which men dig them out and call them rubies. A ruby of thirty-two carats recently sold for $52,000. Yet the material of the cheap spinel and the valuable ruby are practically the same, save for that small fraction of chromic acid which got into the ruby by mistake.

When nature starts out to manufacture opals, she endeavors to make them without any cracks in them. In this she seldom succeeds, coming nearest to perfection in the Mexican opals, which have few cracks in them and therefore little luster. The fiery glow of the oriental opal and the play of light in the depths of that exquisite stone are due entirely to the numberless cracks which seam the surface of the gem. It must give nature a poor opinion of mankind when she sees him selling the Mexican opals, which are nearly perfect, for 12 cents a carat and paying $25 a carat for her failures, the cracked fire opal of the east.

Not only in gems, but in many other things, does nature make mistakes and failures, the results of which are highly valued by man. The chank shell, a shell much like the conch shell of these shores, is one of the commonest shells on the beaches of India, and millions of them are gathered and burned for the lime that is in them. Yet in a temple near Kandy, Ceylon, are two chank shells which hold the place of honor in a shrine covered with gold, and no amount of money could buy them from their guardian priests. Their value consists in the fact that nature was not quite herself the morning she fabricated these shells and gave a right handed twist to them instead of a left handed one, such as has been given to all other chank shells, so far as man knows, since the beginning.

Baron Rothschild once paid $300 a dozen for some Schloss Johannisberg wine, and it is admitted that, taking everything into consideration, it was not an exorbitant price. Yet the wine of the same year from the vineyard directly adjoining the Schlossberg vineyard, on the same bank of the Rhine, vineyard whose soil is, to all appearances, the same, only brought $5 a dozen. And there is no special secret about the manufacture of Schlossberg wine or about the variety of grape used. Its great value comes from a little joke of nature. In the soil of the Schlossberg vineyard there is an infinitesimal amount of a certain salt which is found in the soil of no other vineyard. The admixture is so slight that no chemist has ever been able to imitate it, yet it is worth many thousands a year to the owner of the vineyard.

When Gold Looks Green. Gold can be beaten out so thin that it allows light to pass through it, in which case, though it still appears brilliant yellow by reflected light, it is green as viewed by transmission—that is, by the light that passes through it. This curious effect can easily be observed by laying a piece of gold leaf upon a plate of glass and holding it between the eye and the light, when the gold will appear semitransparent and of a deep green color.

And There Are Others. Wages—Old man Blawitt has a remarkable memory, hasn't he? Nags—Wonderful. Why, he actually remembers a lot of things that never happened.

Loss of Flesh and Weight

An Indication of Wasting Disease, of Exhausting Nerve Force and Declining strength and Vitality.

Note your Weight and Test the Flesh-forming, Tissue-building Effects of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—The Results Will Surprise You.

Can you imagine a more severe test of any preparation than that of adding firm flesh and increasing the weight of the body? It is possible, of course, to add fat by the use of fish oils, but the tissues created by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are firm and natural. The blood is thoroughly enriched and the nervous force replenished. Falter and weakness give place to a healthy complexion and strength of mind and body. Languor and discouragement are driven out to make way for vigor, new hope and confidence.

It might be worth your while to make a test of this great food cure as a builder of flesh and muscle. Note your weight when beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and watch the gradual increase week by week. At the first the increase may be slight owing to the wasting progress, which must be stopped. Then, naturally and certainly, the whole system is built up and perfect health and vitality restored to every part of the body.

Mr. A. R. Fawcett, the well known editor and proprietor of The Leader and Recorder, Toronto Junction, writes:—"It is very seldom that I need medicine of any description, but this spring I got so badly run down and out of sorts generally that I became somewhat alarmed. Chancing to read a testimonial about the results derived from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, from a gentleman whose case seemed to be identical with my own, I purchased a box, and commenced using it. The result was simply marvellous. I was benefited from the first, and soon restored to my usual good health. I never felt better in my life than I do now. To tell the simple truth, I did not have very great faith in any medicine until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but now I have no hesitation in strongly recommending this great remedy to others as a valuable and effective remedy."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, from 50c. a box to $2.50 per box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

A childless home is a cheerless home. The maternal instinct is in every woman, and she is in an agony of grief when she is deprived of the happiness of life. It often happens that childlessness is due to some cause which can be removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine imparts to the delicate womanly organs, puts them in a condition of normal health, the lack of which is often the sole obstruction to maternity. Every woman should read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages and 700 illustrations. It is sent entirely free on receipt of stamps, or by mail, for $1.00. Send for the paper volume, or 50 stamps for cloth covered. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Perfect Cure for Bronchitis

This disease can be treated only by a remedy tried by the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal remedies are utterly fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrh of the throat, through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrh of the throat, relieves congestion, all inflammation and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Pain of Sore Feet.

Just about the most tantalizing of all pains comes from sore feet. To get relief bathe the feet in warm water and then rub them with Polson's Nervine. It penetrates through the pores of the skin, takes out the soreness, reduces the swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, tones up the circulation, and prevents the feet from becoming sore again. Nervine is a protection and safe-guard against the pains and aches of the entire family and cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, &c. 25 cents.

Giving and Getting.

God not only loves a cheerful giver, but the cheerful giver always gets his reward. That reward is generally in the richer return of spiritual good, but sometimes the reward is in larger material good. Of this latter class an interesting instance is narrated which occurred years ago when they were raising subscriptions to the Plymouth Church, Cleveland, Ohio. Many were the struggles and sacrifices which its walls represented as they went up. One evening a lad said to his mother: "I mean to put down twenty-five dollars to the church. I have nineteen dollars saved toward a watch, and I guess I can work out the other six dollars somehow."

So the savings of some years went into those walls, but the boy did not regret the sacrifice, and the remaining six dollars were also promptly paid in.

The pastor was at the East soliciting help for his church and mentioned incidentally the boy and his watch. After service a gentleman remarked to him: "I don't like the idea of that boy losing his watch."

"Nor I," said one and another. So a few gentlemen added to the money until seventy-four dollars was contributed to buy him an excellent gold watch which would last him all his life.

The watch was presented at a Sabbath School celebration, the day after the church was dedicated, the pastor relating the circumstances and calling out the lad, whose head was down on a seat before him, weeping from excessive emotion. He was a boy of fifteen, modest but manly, and he could only trust himself to bow his thanks. But the words were not needed, and there were many moist eyes in the assembly. I am sure that boy felt that the Lord was a good paymaster. And he is not the only one who has proved the Lord's faithfulness to his promises.

Proper Feeding of Sows.

The most critical time in the feeding of sows is the first two weeks after farrowing, says an Ohio grower in Breeder's Gazette. A single overfed of corn at this time may produce milk fever, which will destroy the appetite of the mother and make a runty litter of pigs. The rule should be to give the sows for the first four or five days only moderate feed of good slop made with bran or mashed potatoes if milk cannot be had, but if it can there is nothing better than bran and milk. Then begin with a single ear of corn at a feed. Watch your sow and increase gradually, giving her two or three ears at a feed, until finally she develops a hearty appetite and her pigs begin to grow thriftily, when the feed should be all that she will eat.

D. I. Moody on the Educated Man.

What do you consider the chief characteristic distinguishing an educated from an uneducated person? 1. The educated man has greater ability to grasp new truth and facts.

2. The uneducated man is more likely to be unbalanced by new schemes and ideas.

3. The educated man has a broader mind, and is more open to the opinion of others.

What special advantage does the college-trained man gain over the self-made man, so-called?

1. The educated man has the advantage of being able to think more systematically.

2. He has at his control a mass of facts, and he is trained to see the fallacy in false schemes.

A Little Surprise.

What can be in this basket? The card says, "Miss Mabel Dean," and that's who I am. But it's so big for an Easter basket! This knot never will come, I guess. But the scissors will open it. It can't be all eggs, my dear. I have something in there! I guess it's a joke.

No, 'tisn't. Mamma! O mamma! Do come and see. I know they're from grandma. Three tiny white bantams, and oh, the cutest egg! Isn't the rooster a little general? Oh, you dear, sweet chickabiddy! And all my own! Now I'll have Easter eggs the whole year.

About Watches.

Neptune, the most distant known planet of the solar system, presents to the telescope only a small, greenish disk on which no distinct markings are visible. But during the past year the great telescope of the naval observatory at Washington has revealed indications of the existence of streaks on Neptune bearing a resemblance to the belts of Jupiter. A few years ago similar streaks were seen in Uranus. Saturn also possesses them, so that it may be said that cloudlike belts are a feature common to all of the great outer planets.

Good Advice.

MAURICE BEST WELL AGAIN

A Strong Recommendation for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This Man Lived a Life of Misery for Six years before he Found a Remedy—Now He is Strong and Healthy.

Southern Harbor, Nfld., Oct. 25. (Special).—Hard work and exposure to all kinds of weather left Maurice Best, of this place, a very sick man. His kidneys were badly affected and his stomach was always out of order.

For over six years he had been suffering, gradually getting worse. He was under the doctor's treatment all the time, but it did not seem to do him the least bit of good.

Finally he saw Dodd's Kidney Pills advertised, and decided to try them. He did so and they relieved him almost instantly and in the end made an all round well man of him.

Mr. Best has given the following letter for publication:—

"I was very sick for six years. I was so bad that I really cannot find words to tell the suffering I endured. I was under the doctor's treatment all this time, but I was growing worse and worse, and I could hear of but all for no good. At last I read of Dodd's Kidney Pills and thought I would try them. I am glad I did for they cured me of all my troubles."

"They also cured my brother and several other neighbors to whom I recommended them. They cured every case right up."

"I will always recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who are sick for I know they will soon make them well as they did me."

Despair is always self-centered. Get a man out of himself and he leaves despair behind in the act. Agony, suffering, may come to the holy and unselfish soul, but despair, never!

Rheumatism is a Constitutional Disease

The pain and localized conditions are mere results of constitutional conditions. Poisoned blood sends its evil influence to various parts of the body, and to cure permanently you must treat it constitutionally. Nothing so completely dispels these poisons from the system as Ferronine. It imparts vitality and vigor, enabling the system to throw off the poisons that engendered rheumatism. Ferronine also fortifies the system against the weakening effects of rheumatism, and cures, not simply relieves as most medicines do. Sold by McCall & Co.

It is far better to have large feet than a small understanding.

Fortify the system against disease by purifying and enriching the blood—in other words, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

One principal reason why men are so often useless is that they divide and shift their attention among a multitude of objects and pursuits.
