

WOMAN'S ILLS

Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood and from motherhood to old age—with backache, dizziness or headache. She becomes broken-down, sleepless, nervous, irritable and feels tired from morning to night. When pains and aches rack the womanly system at frequent intervals, ask your neighbor about

WALKERTON.

Mr. J. J. Donnelly, M. P. for South Bruce, has been signally honored at Ottawa by being appointed one of the Ontario whips in the new Government. Mr. John Stanfield, Chief Conservative whip, appointed Mr. Donnelly to succeed Mr. A. Claude Macdonnell of Toronto in this position, the latter having handed in his resignation as a party whip owing to pressure of business elsewhere.

Mr. James A. Wilson, one of the pioneers of Brant Tp., died in New Westminster, B. C., on Tuesday of last week, aged 83 years. Besides being prominently identified with the early history of the township, the deceased with others from this section helped to construct the Goderich harbor in 1873. He is survived by four sons and one daughter, all in the west. Messrs. David and Harry Wilson and Jas. A. Lamb of Brant are nephews of the deceased.

Messrs. Reuben Mielhausen and Peter Dippel have returned from Swift Current, Sask., where they were employed during the harvest by Mr. Chas. Lines, formerly of the South Line, Brant. Mr. Lines now controls 3000 acres near Swift Current, and besides the usual agricultural machinery, has a steam plow capable of breaking 40 acres per day, together with a large threshing outfit. He harvested this year 12,000 bushels of wheat and 1000 bushels of oats. A new branch of C. P. R. has been built through his farm and the modern station of Cantour has been erected a mile from his home. Mr. Lines may truly be rated as one of the farming magnates of the West.

Rudolph Misch, the man who mysteriously disappeared from his home here, and for whose capture $50 reward was paid, was taken from the Walkerton jail last week and conveyed to the London Asylum, where he will undergo treatment for insanity. The unfortunate man was considerably emaciated by the long exposure he endured in the swamps, previous to his discovery and capture. As his disappearing tendencies caused more alarm to his friends than jeopardy to the neighborhood, he is construed as being a harmless rather than a dangerous subject. There is consequently good reason to believe that with proper care and treatment he may be restored to the full possession of his mental powers again.

Modern Hen-house.

B. E. Moore, of Wanstead, Conn., claims to have the most up to date hen-house in the world. The framework of the building is of pipes, which are filled with steam and automatically keep the house at an even temperature while an alarm clock in a room over the henery releases a lever at feeding time and allows sufficient grain for one feeding to descend through a pipe into the feeding basins. In the bottom of each nest is an opening with a trapdoor through which the eggs, as they are laid, drop into a pipe leading into Moore's home. As they pass down this pipe they are automatically stamped with the date. At breakfast time each morning steam is turned into the pipe and the eggs are cooked as they pass from the henery into the house.

Ten Commandments Of Agriculture.

- 1 Prepare a deep and thoroughly pulverized seed bed, well drained; break to depth of eight or ten inches, according to the soil, with implements that will not bring too much of the subsoil to the surface, (the foregoing depths should be reached gradually.)
- 2 Use seeds of the best variety, intelligently selected and carefully stored.
- 3 In cultivating crops give the rows and the plants in the rows a space suited to the plant, the soil and the climate.
- 4 Use extensive tillage during the growing period of the crops.
- 5 Secure a high content of humus in the soil by the use of legumes, barnyard manure and farm refuse, along with commercial fertilizers.
- 6 Carry out a systematic crop rotation, with a winter cover crop.
- 7 Accomplish more work in a day by using more horse power and better implements.
- 8 Increase the farm stock to the extent of utilizing all the worst products and ideal land of the farm.
- 9 Produce all the food required for the animals on the farm.
- 10 Keep an account of each farm product, in order to know from which the gain or loss arises.

Secretaries of fraternal societies are invited to send in lists of the officers elected by their respective lodges. Half the glory is being a Most High and Exalted High Potentate, or thereabouts, consists in seeing your name in the paper with the cabalistic letters attached.

A Hamilton negro was sent to jail for a week for stealing one copy of a newspaper. If all white men who steal newspapers, not singly but in yearly editions, were similarly dealt with, we know several hundreds of professedly respectable white trash who would be serving life sentences right now.

Hyndman vs Wallace.

This was the last case on the docket and the evidence was decidedly shocking. The parties live in the Township of Howick, in the County of Huron. William Hyndman and his sister were plaintiffs, and Robert Wallace defendant. The action was for slander of a most cruel and despicable kind, and the evidence showed the defendant was, what counsel termed him "a blackguard." The lady plaintiff, gave her evidence in a clear and convincing style, and had a most modest demeanor. She was but 27 years of age, and the defendant had frequently called at her home. He had wished to marry her, but she had refused. He had never taken any improper liberties with her, and the criminal intimacy which he had boasted of and which vile slander formed the basis of the action, the handsome witness denied with flashing eyes. Thomas Wallace, a witness for the plaintiff, told of the slanderous statements made to him by the defendant concerning the lady plaintiff, and that the further shocking allegation had been made against the brother and sister, plaintiffs in the action in which the grossest immorality was charged. The defendant went into the box and denied that the wrongful meaning suggested could be imputed to his words. He had been willing before action to sign abject apology and give a bond not to slander the plaintiffs again, signed by his father, but he would not pay a modest bill amounting to $20 for papers drawn by the plaintiff's solicitor, Mr. A. G. Campbell of Harriston. In cross examination Mr. Nichol Jeffray, of Guelph, literally excoriated the witness, and the crowded court room could hardly conceal the contempt the craven defendant inspired. Mr. Anson Spotton, of Harriston, for the defendant, attempted to draw an innocent inference from his client, whom the Judge afterwards characterized as illiterate and ignorant. The address of Mr. Jeffray was a brilliant effort, and the defendant winced under the bitter invectives and fierce eloquence of the plaintiff's counsel.

The Judge charged the jury briefly, and pointed out the value of one's reputation, especially a woman's, and quoted with approval and significance Shakespeare's immortal lines:

"Good name in man and woman
Is the immediate jewel of their souls,
Who steals my purse steals trash,
'Tis something, nothing,
But he that filches from me my good name,
Robs me of that which not enriches him,
And makes me poor indeed."

The jury retired at 6.45 p. m., and a verdict of $3,000 was rendered. The Judge awarded full High Court costs and said he entirely concurred in the finding.—Dufferin Post.

Probable Amendments.

Several important Amendments to the criminal code will be authorized the next session of Parliament. If the recommendations of the newly organized association of police magistrates of Ontario count for anything. At present the Magistrates have power in certain cases to impose a six months term of imprisonment, while should the prisoner desire to be tried before a county judge he may be given two years for precisely the same offence. This limitation of the authority of magistrates has had the effect of materially lessening the number of offenders of a certain class who, fully aware of this phase of the law, prefer to have their case settled in the police court rather than by a judge. Another important Amendment which will be suggested is a clause making it a criminal offence to "jump" a board bill. Heretofore offenders of this class have been amenable only to a civil law. If the unlawful evasion of board bills is placed on a similar plane to the law in Michigan there will be considerably less complaint from hotelkeepers and others on this score.

Notice To Creditors

In the matter of the Estate of Christina Bricker, late of the Village of Mildmay, in the county of Bruce, Widow, deceased.

NOTICE is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of the Statutes of Ontario I, George V. Chapter 23, that all creditors, and others, having claims against the estate of the said Christina Bricker, who died on or about the 5th day of October, 1911, are required to send by post prepaid or to deliver to W. H. Holtzmann, Mildmay, P.O., Ont., one of the Executors of the last Will and Testament of said deceased, their claims and the particulars of their claims and a statement of their accounts, and the nature of securities, if any, held by them.

And further take notice that after such last mentioned date the Executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have had notice, and that the said Executors will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof should not have been received by them at the time of such distribution.

W. H. Holtzmann, Executors.
By A. Collins, their Solicitor.
Dated at Walkerton this 8th day of Nov., 1911.

The Envy of her Neighbors

is the woman whose kitchen shines with a handsome, roomy range—whose face beams with the satisfaction afforded by a perfect cooking equipment.

For every woman wants a good stove. Whether she does her own cooking or not, she is prepared on it, having the best, satisfies that pride; her's envy. Gurney ranges carry every convenience, economy and control with some new points of excellence that are exclusive.

First of all is the lever that holds. No danger of the fire going out between meals. The Oxford Economizer will hold the heat at a low ebb till you want it; then turn the handle, and your stove is hot in a jiffy. Besides this saving of time and worry it saves in fuel to the actual extent of one ton in six.

THE DIVIDED FLUE STRIP is the envy of all women who bake. It guides the heat equally along sides, back and front of the oven.

Let us demonstrate these and other strong advantages of the Gurney-Oxford line. We have stoves for every purpose, every fuel, and a variety of prices.
